HISTORICAL SKETCH OF HARRISON COUNTY, OHIO.

TOPOGRAPHY.

A minute and accurate description of the topography of Harrison County would require much more time and labor than can be given in a work of this character. An irregular succession of high hills and deep ravines occupy the surface, and that can be reduced to a system only in the most general way. We find in the western part of the County, valleys of various streams of the Big and Little Stillwater that flow north-west into the Tuscarawas River. All over this County, all along the streams, on each side, the hills gradually rise to the altitude from four or five hundred feet, and then gradually descend, on the westward, towards the valley of Tuscarawas. Innumerable creeks and rivulets emptying into these streams, inter-locking in the most irregular manner, cover the face of the country. These watercourses flow through narrow, alluvial valleys or deep gorges which separate the high hills that compose the greater part of the surface. The succession of hills and ravines exhibit continuous exposure of all the rocks of the lower coal measures, and in no part of the State can their character and relations be more satisfactorily studied.

The soil is generally a light, pliable, calcareous loam in the valleys, rich in vegetation and everywhere well adapted to the growth of wheat. On the hills, in some places, the surface is covered with rocks, the debris of the coal sandstones, so as to be entirely unfit for cultivation; but a dense forest covers these rocky slopes, and the soil was originally everywhere rich.

Continuous cultivation has had its usual result in a largely diminished productiveness; but the means of restoring the fertility of the soil are easily obtained in the limestones which crop out in every Township, and by a proper use of them and of clover, for soiling, the land can readily be made to equal or exceed its original productiveness in the great staple of the County.

In the central and western parts, the evidence of drift action, is marked and abundant; some boulders are scattered over the surface, and lime and sandstone, of a very fine quality; all along, Stillwater and its branches are deposits of coarse gravel, which in places are being cemented into a hard conglomerate, through the action of lime-water constantly percolating through them in the natural valleys which we observe throughout all parts of the County.

The route of the P. C. & St. L. R. R. is distinguished from the country on each side of it by the abundance and coarseness of the drift material which it contains; also on Big Stillwater, one cannot easily resist the conclusion that this near the close of the drift period was one of the channels by which the waters of the lake basin found their way into the valley of the Ohio. A high divide running irregular from itself in all parts, and more in the eastern part of the County, that finds the natural slope to the Ohio River, the drift deposits are everywhere shallow and the soil is composed almost entirely of the debris of the local rock.

GEOLOGICAL STRUCTURE.

The lowest rock we have observed, in the County, belongs to the Waverly group, the ravines, in places, cutting down fully three hundred feet in this formation. It covers North, Monroe, Washington, Franklin and Freeport Townships, and almost the entire County of Harrison; also the stone quarries furnish heavy stone of the finest quality that is used for building and other purposes.

We also find the coal deposits in all parts of the County; the veins vary from four to nine feet in thickness; the great wealth of this County has not yet developed the great mineral resources that underlie the soil. Soon railroads will be extended, which will enjoy admirable commercial facilities and will connect the trade of West and East.

HISTORICAL SKETCH.

Harrison County was taken from Jefferson County, being the fifth county established in Ohio; it was created by proclamation of Gov. St. Clair, July 29th, 1797. Its original limits included the country west of Pennsylvania and Ohio; and east and north of a line from the mouth of the Cuyahoga; southwardly to the Muskingum, and east to the Ohio. Within these bounds is Cleveland, Canton, Steubenville, Warren and many other large towns and populous counties. The surface is hilly and the soil fertile.

The old Mingo tribe, three miles below Steubenville, formerly the site of the farms of Jeremiah H. Hallock, Esq. and Mr. Daniel Potter, was a place of note prior to the settlement of the country. It was the point where the troops of Col. Williamson rendezvoused in the infamous Moravian campaign, and those of Col. Crawford, in his unfortunate expedition against the Sandusky Indians. It was also at one time the residence of Logan, the celebrated Mingo Chief, whose form was striking and manly, and whose magnanimity and eloquence has seldom been equaled. He was a son of the Cayuga Chief Skikellimus, who dwelt at Shamokin, Pa., in 1742, and was converted to christianity under the preaching of Moravian Missionaries. Miss Mary Heckewelder, who was living in Bethlehem, Washington County, Pennsylvania, as late as 1843, is generally said to have been the first white child born in Ohio. She was the daughter of a Moravian Missionary of that name and was born in Salem, one of the Moravian Indian towns on the Tuscarawas, Jefferson County, formerly the territory this County now occupies, April 16th, 1781.

Mr. Dinnsmore, a planter of Boon County, Ky., orally informed us that in the year 1835, when residing in the parish of Terre Benne, La, he became acquainted with a planter named Millehomme, who informed him that he was born in the forest on the head-waters of the Miami on or near the Laramie Portage, about the year 1774. His parents were Canadian French, then on their route to Louisiana.

The first white persons that were known to be in the territory of Harrison County, were the Moravian Missionaries and their families. The Rev. Frederick Post and Rev. John Heckewelder had penetrated thus far into the wilderness previous to the commencement of the Revolution. Their first visit west of the Ohio, date as early as the year 1761–62, they travelled over the territory comprising Tuscarawas, Jefferson and Harrison Counties.

About one hundred and fifty Moravian Indians, including women and children, arrived on the Tuscarawas in the latter part of February, and divided into three parties so as to work at the three towns, namely, Shoenburn, Gnadenhutten and Salem; the two former places at or near where New Philadelphia now is, and the latter is where Port Washington is now located, in Tuscarawas County. Being satisfied that they had escaped from the thraldom of their less civilized brethren west, they little expected that a storm was gathering among the white settlers east, which was to burst over their peaceful habitations with such direful consequences.

Several depredations had been committed by hostile Indians on the borders of Pennsylvania and Virginia, and in the eastern parts of Ohio and through the territory that comprises Harrison County. A company of one hundred men was raised and placed under the command of Col. Williamson, as a corps of Volunteer Militia. They set out for the Moravian towns on the Tuscarawas and arrived within a mile of Gnadenhutten on the night of the 5th of March, and on the morning of the 6th, finding the Indians were employed in their corn fields on the west side of the river, sixteen of Williamson's men crossed over, two at a time, in a large sap trough or vessel used for retaining sugar water, taking their rifles with them. The remainder went into the village where they found a man and a woman, both of whom they killed. The sixteen on the west side, on approaching the Indians in the field, found them more numerous than they expected. They had their arms with them, which was usual on such occasions, both for purposes of protection and for killing game. The whites accosted them kindly, telling them they had come to take them to a place where they would be in future protected, and advised them to quit work and return with them to the neighborhood of Fort Pitt—some of the Indians had been taken to that place previously in token of warm friendship—under these circumstances it is not surprising that the unsuspecting Moravian Indians readily surrendered their arms, and at once consented to be controlled by the advice of Colonel Williamson and his men. An Indian messenger was dispatched to Salem to apprise the brethren of the new arrangement, and both companies then returned to Gnadenhutten. On reaching the village, a number of mounted militia started for the Salem settlement, but ere they reached it found that the Moravian Indians at that place had already left their corn fields, by the advice of the messenger, and were on the way to join their brethren at Gnadenhutten. Measures had been adopted by the militia to secure the Indians whom they had at first decoyed into their power. There arms having been previously secured, without suspicion of hostile intention, they were fettered and divided between the two prison houses, the males in one and the females in the other. The number thus confined in both, including men, women and children, has been estimated from ninety to ninety-six.

At this point a council was held to determine how the Moravian Indians should be disposed of This self-constituted military court embraced both officers and privates. The late Dr. Dodridge, in his published notes on the Indian Wars, &c., says, "Col Williamson put the question whether the Moravian Indians should be taken prisoners to Fort Pitt or put to death, requesting those who were in favor of saving their lives to step out and form a second rank; only eighteen out of the whole number stepped forth as advocates of mercy. In these the feelings of humanity were not extinct. In the majority, which was large, there was no sympathy manifested. They resolved to murder (for no other word can express the act) the whole of the Christian Indians in their clutches.

"Among them were many who had contributed to aid the missionaries in the work of conversion and civilzation, two of whom emigrated from New Jersey after the death of their spiritual pastor, the Rev. David Brainard. One woman who could speak good English, knelt before the commander and begged his protection, her supplications were unavailing. They were ordered to prepare for death, but the warning had been anticipated; their firm belief in their new creed was shown forth in the sad hour of their tribulations by religious exercises of preparation. The orisons of these devoted people were already ascending the throne of the Most High. The sound of the Christians' hymn and the Christians' prayer found an echo in the surrounding woods, but, alas, no responsive feeling in the bosoms of their executioners. The last fatal hour had come, the order was given, with gun, and spear, and tomahawk and scalping knife, the work of death progressed in these slaughther houses, till not a sigh or moan was heard to proclaim the existence of human life within; all, save two Indian boys who escaped, as if by miracle, to be witnesses to after times of the savage cruelty of the white men towards their unfortunate race."

REFUSED LANDS, CONDITION OF EARLY AGRICULTURE, THE OPENING OF MARKETS, &c.

It is a fact probably not well known, but yet one well authenticated, that the lands which now produce most abundantly of the great cereal staple of the county, were regarded by the early settlers as utterly valueless for purposes of cultivation. The bottom or valley lands were the first and only ones sought by the pioneers. The monarch oak and luxuriant herbage which adorned the sides and summits of the lofty hills, at length suggested to those who had a better knowledge of agriculture as a science, that such productions could not spring from a soil naturally sterile. This idea of the barreness of the upland soil is supposed to have had its origin from the fact that the substance of its surface had been, for a considerable period, annually exhausted by fire. These fires, at an early period, which were very often disasterous, for obvious reasons rarely swept over the lower plains, hence their fertility continued unimpaired.

The practice of devastating by fire the upland forests, was not so extensively practiced as in other parts of the state. These fires, which would defeat the operation of nature, doubtless had their origin with white hunters in the tramontaine regions, who introduced this with other more flagrant vices of civilization among the aboriginies, after the latter became instructed in regard to fire-arms and the practice of white hunters.

The effect of the fire was to change the natural quality of the soil, to encrust the surface of the earth with a material similar to a vast sheet of brick, and where anything like pulverized earth made its appearance, it bore the resemblance to brick dust. Notwithstanding these periodical exhaustions, the natural vigor of the soil during each spring following the autumnal burning, would become so far recuperated as to produce a very rank growth of vegetation known as sedge grass, pea vine, &c. This vegetation afforded excellent pasture from early spring until about August. The sedge grass, when cut in June or earlier, afforded very nutrituous and palatable food for domestic stock during the winter months. In the early settlement of this County, it became a necessity with the cultivators of the soil, upon the bottom and valley lands, to fight and subdue these autumnal fires for the protection of their fences, cabins and granaries.

When protected from this exhausting process the uplands resumed their natural fertility; a radical chemical change became apparent all over the surface of the soil, and efforts at cultivation demonstrated the fact that those rejected acres are now among the most fertile of any in Ohio for the production of the staple, which is the chief source of our agricultural wealth.

The Indian tribes who inhabited this section were Delawares and Wyandots. Game was plenty for several years after the first settlement. The streams and ponds which are so numerous, had far more water than now. The general health was pretty good considering the climate was much damper than at present; the principle diseases were intermittent fever, rheumatism and some chills. The early labors of the husbandman were not attended with very good success, to account for this we must consider that the implements of the farmer were rude and imperfect, principally the tiller's own handicraft, and that the seeds first planted or sowed, were placed in ground but imperfectly cleared and partially covered with stumps and roots, and shaded by trees of large growth that had been deadened but still retained their leaves, hence, the "soft" corn, water-soaked potatoes, and perhaps smut-stricken wheat were sources of general complaint among the early cultivators. The absence of foreign demand for produce, during the first twenty years, offered no inducement to the farmers to produce beyond family and neighborhood supplies. Aside from the supply of such wants, there was no stimulus to agricultural enterprise; the wooden plow was used universally. If such farm implements were placed before the present generation, the agricultural wheel would cease to move. But few read the early history of our County.

It is related by many of the early settlers, that wheat, in 1797 and 98, and from that time up to 1804 and 05, was worth but 6 to 12 cents per bushel, and about 1805 the demand for flour increased, and mills being built for the purpose of grinding, large quantities was shipped down the river to New Orleans, and at this time the demand was sufficient to bring 50 cents. The Ohio river began to be a great trading point for wheat, but little else was demanded. In 1808 and 9, a large amount of pork was packed all along the Ohio river, and in many towns back from the river, and shipped south. The first encouragement the farmers had in Harrison County was in 1825, when the New York and Erie canal was completed at Dover and New Philadelphia, in Tuscarawas County. Since that time railroad facilities have been added that touches all points through our land.

Number of miles of railroad in this County 43; the Pittsburgh and St. Louis R. R., running through Monroe, North Rumley and German Townships. All along the road can be seen extensive hills, valleys and rocks, which afford some of the finest scenery for the traveling public, and we feel free to say no other railroad in this State can offer more pleasure and admiration to the traveling public than this line.

The road also provides the people of this day with a choice of markets of the farmers, which in the time of the pioneers were worthless, securing to them remuneration in every department of agricultal enterprise, and rapid increase in the value of real estate far beyond the hopes of the first settlers of the country.

GERMAN TOWNSHIP.

This township is located in the northeast corner of the county, in range 4, and township 11, U. S. military land, surveyed and laid out for civil purposes in 1801. Jefferson was laid out in 1804, on section 26, in the northwest part of the township. This township comprises 25 sections. Cadiz junction is located on section 23, and the P. St. L. R. R. runs through the southern part of the township, and was built in 1852. This township is rolling, and in some parts quite rough. General productions wheat, oats and corn; and wool is the chief production.

GREEN TOWNSHIP.

This township was surveyed in 1800, and was first laid out six miles square, and was organized as a township in 1801. The division of this township is as follows: German Township has received 8 sections of the north; Rumby Township 1½ sections; Archer 4½ sections, and these received 15 sections from Short Creek Township, making the township 35 sections as it now is. The Cadiz branch runs through the northwest corner, through sections 26, 27, 22 and 28. Hopedale is the only town located in the township; it was laid out in 1849, by Cyrus McNeely; its location is very fine; it is located on Wheeling & Lake Erie R. R. which will soon be completed.

We find in all parts of this township the land a rich, deep, black soil, wholly limestone and in a fine state of cultivation. Nature itself seems to grant to the entire surface all that man could ask for.

We observe also pure and crystal water flowing in and through all parts of the township, that gives to the farmers something that is very valuable to all who are engaged in agricultural and stock rasing. The chief production is wheat, oats and corn. In all parts of the township we find some of the finest flocks of sheep, Humphrey importations of 1801 and 1802, as improved by Atwood and Hammond, and in a close examination we find a perfection in this family, but all other breeds have been improved by a cross, with an infusion of the blood of this family; (I would say that) in-and-in breeding if practised, requires great care and diminiscration.

NEW JEFFERSON.

This village is located in the south-east portion of the county, 11½ miles from Cadiz, in German Township, and 21 miles from Steubenville, on the road to New Philadelphia. It was laid out in 1819, by Frederick Zollars. There are two fine springs, about three hundred feet apart—one the source of Cross Creek, the other of Connotten.

The source of the Elk Fork of Yellow Creek is less than a half mile north of the village. The surrounding country is underlain with a rich vein of bituminous coal, six feet thick; and here was the first camping-ground of the veterans of 1812, on their march from Mingo Island to the lake.

The trade of the village is good, being surrounded by a very rich agricultural district. There are four churches, three stores, cabinet shop, tin and stove and general hardware store, three blacksmith shops, one grist-mill, one saw-mill, one tannery and leather store, drug store, and the celebrated hay-rake, made by Rider, and good schools and good society.

MOOREFIELD TOWNSHIP.

The following is taken from a narrative delivered by Rev. T. R. Crawford, D.D., pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Nottingham, and published by the congregation, in 1871:

The first settlements in the western part of the territory of this county, and of Moorefield Township, were made in 1798, by Abram Brokaw, John Glenn, William Ingles, George Laport, Thomas Wilson, Arthur Barrett, and a few others.

The earliest visit of white men into the territory, of which this and the surrounding townships are composed, was in the fall of 1793, when Capt. Boggs, Robert Maxwell, Joseph Daniels, and three others, were sent out from the block-house, located on the ground afterward occupied by the city of Wheeling, Va. These men were Indian scouts and spies; they made their excursion from the mouth of Wheeling Creek up to the dividing ridge, and crossed over the second day after they left the river to the head-waters of Stillwater, venturing rather far with so small a force.

This little band of daring men prepared and ate their supper, and being much fatigued with the journey of two days through an unbroken wilderness, they lay down to rest around the burning embers of a camp-fire, on the banks of a stream, not expecting an enemy near, for they had seen no recent traces of the red man from the time they left the fort. Soon they were wrapped in sleep, only to be awakened and startled by a hideous yell of Indians, followed by a report of firearms; a ball took effect in the knee of Capt. Boggs, which so crippled him that he was unable to flee. He called to his companions, saying, "Make your escape, and leave me to my fate," which they did, leaving their brave leader to perish in the hands of a terrible and cruel foe. Three out of the four that fled arrived safely at the block-house, who reported the disaster that befell their expedition. Measures were immediately taken, and a company of men were sent out in a short time to seek for the remains of Capt. Boggs. After much precaution in travel, the party found the place where the spies had camped on that fatal night, and soon discovered the mutilated body of their captain, took up the remains and buried them a few rods north of the spring, now owned by Mrs. Crawford, on this tributary stream of Big Stillwater, which ever after was called "Bogg's Fork," from the name of this adventuring and unfortunate man.

In 1802, the great Western thoroughfare, which was the route from Pittsburg by the way of Steubenville, and from Central Pennsylvania, by the way of Charleston (now Wellsburgh), forming a junction in this county, inducing the location of Cadiz; then running west nine miles, forked on the lands of William Ingles in Moorefield Township. The right branch of this road passed through the White-Eye Plains, and on by Fort Defiance into the Sandusky region, the left branch running by Zanesville into the Scota and Miami valleys.

Mr. Ingles, then residing in this township, on the farm (now owned by James Rowland) and at the junction of the western division of this road, found it necessary to keep a public house, for the accommodation of the unexpected rush of emigration to this and other settlements farther West. In the spring of 1802 he erected a large, double log cabin, considered in those days a magnificent house, and supposed to be the first hotel that was kept in the bounds of this county.

DESCRIPTION OF THE LIFE OF LOGAN, THE INDIAN CHIEF.

In early life, Logan for a while dwelt in Pennsylvania. We find recorded in Day's History of that State, a view, in Mifflin County, of Logan Spring, which will long remain a memorial of this distin guished chief. Logan took no part in the old French war which ended in 1760, except that of peace-maker, and was always the friend of the white people until the base murder of his family to which has been attributed the origin of Dunmore's war; this event took place near the mouth of Yellow Creek, in the County of Jefferson, 17 miles above Steubenville.

Logan supported his family by killing deer, dressing the skins and selling them to the whites. He had sold quite a parcel to one DeYoung, a tailor who lived in Ferguson's Valley, below the Gap. Tailors in those days dealt extensively in buckskin breeches. Logan received his pay according to stipulation in wheat. The wheat on being taken to the mill was found worthless and the miller refused to grind it. Logan was much chagrined, and attempted in vain to obtain redress from the tailor. He then took the matter before his friend Brown, a magistrate, and on the judge's questioning him as to the character of the wheat, and what was in it, Logan sought in vain to find words to express the precise nature of the article with which the wheat was adulterated. "It must have been cheat," said the judge. "Yoh," said Logan, "that very good name for him." A decision was awarded in Logan's favor and a writ given to Logan to hand to the constable, which he was told would bring him his money. But the untutored Indian, too uncivilized to be dishonest, could not comprehend by what magic this little paper would force the tailor, against his will, to pay for the skins. The judge took down his own commission, with the arms of the king upon it and explained the first principles of civil law. "Law good," said Logan, "make rogues pay." But how much more simple and efficient was the law which the Great Spirit had impressed upon his heart, to do as he wished to be done by.

When a sister of Mr. Norris, (afterward Mrs. Gen. Potter,) was just beginning to learn to walk, her mother happened to express her regret that she could not get a pair of shoes to give more firmness to her little steps, Logan stood by, but said nothing. He soon after asked Mr. Brown to let the little girl go up and spend the day at his cabin. The cautious heart of the mother was alarmed at such a proposition, but she knew the delicacy of an Indian's feelings and she knew Logan too, and with secret reluctence but apparent cheerfulness she complied with his request. The hours of the day wore very slowly away, and it was nearly night when her little one had not returned. But just as the sun was going down, the trusty chief was seen coming down the path with his charge, and in a moment more the little one trotted into her mother's arms proudly exhibiting a beautiful pair of moccasins on her little feet, produced by Logan's skill.

Logan's hunting ground was through Jefferson, Harrison and several other counties on the border of Ohio.

We give the life and history of General Harrison, from whom the County derived its name. The anexed sketch of General Harrison is mainly taken from that published in the National Portait Gallery, in 1836.

William Henry Harrison was born at Berkley, the family seat of his father, on James river, 25 miles from Richmond, Virginnia, in 1773. He was the youngest of three sons of Benjamin Harrison, a descendant of the celebrated leader of the same name in the wars of Cromwell. Benjamin Harrison occupied a conspicuous part in our own revolutionary struggle, and was one of the most active of that daring band who set the ball in motion. He represented Virginia in Congress, in 1774, '75 and '76. He was chairman of the committee of the whole house, when the declaration of independence was agreed to, and was one of its signers. He was elected governor of Virginia, and was one of the most popular officers that ever filled the executive chair. He died in 1791.

Wm. Henry Harrison was early placed at Hampden Sydney College, which he left at 17 years of age, his mind well imbued with classical literature, and deeply impressed with admiration of the priciples of republican Greece and Rome. In obedience to the wishes of his father, whose hospitable and liberal conduct through life prevented him from promising wealth to his son, he entered on the study of medicine; and after a short preparatory course, he repaired, in the spring of 1791, to Philadelphia, to prosecute his studies with greater advantage. The death of his father immediately after his arrival, checked his professional aspirations; and the "note of preparation" which was sounding through the country, for a campaign against the Indians of the west, decided his destiny. He resolved to enter into the service of his government, and to create a name for himself worthy of his father. His guardian, the celebrated Robert Morris, opposed his wishes with all the eloquence of his great mind; but it was in vain that he placed the enterprise before the enthusiastic youth in all its hardships and privations. In order to deter him from his project, he painted an Indian war in a remote and untried wilderness in the darkest colors; he spoke of victory, against such foes, as not involving glory; but of defeat, as insuring disgrace. The remonstrances of his friend and guardian were fruitless, and General Washington at length yielded to the importunities of the youth; he presented him with an ensign's commission. With characteristic ardor he departed for Fort Washington, now Cincinnati; where, however, he arrived too late to participate in the unfortunate campaign. The fatal 4th of November had passed, and he was only in time to learn the earliest intelligence of the death of Butler, and of Oldham, and of the unparalleled massacre of the army of St. Clair.

The return of the broken troops had no effect in dampening the zeal of young Harrison. He devoted himself ardently to the study of the theory of the higher tactics; his education gave him advantages possessed by few young soldiers of that day; and when, in the succeeding year, the gallant Wayne assumed the command, Ensign Harrison was immediately noticed by this experienced commander, and selected him for one of his aids. The judicious movements of the new army, and the success which crowned the campaign under Wayne, are a brilliant portion of our history. Harrison distinguished himself handsomely in Wayne's victory, and his chief did him the justice to name him specially in the official report of the engagement.

After the treaty of Greenville, 1795, Captain Harrison was left in command of Fort Washington; and shortly after the departure of General Wayne for the Atlantic states, he married the daughter of Judge Symmes, the proprietor of the Miami purchase. The writer of this brief sketch cannot let the opportunity slip, without offering a passing tribute to the virtues of this estimable woman. She is distinguished for her benevolence and her piety; all who know her, view her with esteem and affection; and her whole course through life, in all its relations, has been characterized by those qualifications that complete the character of an accomplished matron.

The idleness and dissipation of a garrison life comported neither with the taste nor active temper of Captain Harrison. He resigned his commission, and commenced his civil career, at the age of twenty-four years, as secretary of the north-western territory. His capacity was soon noticed by the leaders in the new territory, and he was elected, in 1799, the first delegate in congress for that extensive region, now comprising the states of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and the territory of Michigan. The first and general object of his attention as a representative, was an alteration of the land system of the territory. The law, as it then existed, ordained that not less than four thousand acres (except in particular cases of fractions on the banks of rivers) could be sold at once. The operation of such an ordinance must have been fatal to that class of population, whose industry and labor have since caused the country to advance with such rapid strides to wealth and greatness; it was alone calculated to benefit the speculator and rich monopolist. He was appointed chairman of the committee on lands, (the only instance, it is believed, in the history of our legislation, in which a delegate was so distinguished,) and with the aid of the able men who cooperated with him, he presented the celebrated land report, based on his own previous motion. A bill was framed, and after undergoing some amendments in the senate, was passed into a law, by which one-half of the public lands were divided into sections of six hundred and forty acres, and the other into half sections of three hundred and twenty acres. The old system of forfeiture for non-payment was abolished, and payment ordered to be made, one-fourth in hand, and the balance at the end of two, three and four years, allowing still one year, after the expiration of the fourth year, to enable the purchaser to extricate himself, if necessary. This was a point gained, although it was not all the delegate contended for. To this measure is to be imputed the rapid settlement of the country; and if Mr. Harrison had then been called from this world, without rendering any other service to his country, he would richly have merited the title of benefactor of the territory north-west of Ohio.

The reputation acquired by the young delegate from his legislative success, created a party in his favor, who intimated a desire that he should supersede the venerable governor of the territory. But Mr. Harrison checked the development of this feeling as soon as it was made known to him. He cherished too high a veneration for the pure and patriotic St. Clair; he had too just an estimate of the splendid talents of the governor, and too much sympathy for the war-worn, though some times unfortunate hero, to sanction an attempt, which, whether successful or not, would have inflicted one more pang in the bosom of the veteran. A soldier can best feel for a soldier; he declined the interference of his friends, and the subject was dropped. But when, shortly after, Indiana was erected into a separate territory, he was appointed by Mr. Adams the first governor. Previously, however, to quitting congress, he was present at the discussion of the bill for the settlement of Judge Symme's purchase; and although this gentleman was his father-in-law, he took an active part in favor of those individuals who had purchased from him before he had obtained his patent. It was viewed as a matter of doubt, whether those who had sued the judge in the courts of common law, would be entitled to the remedy in equity against him. He went before the committee in person, and urged them to insert a provision in their favor. Nor did he desist until assured by the attorney general and Mr. Harper, that these persons came fully under the provisions of the act as it then stood. This was the impulse of a stern duty; for at the moment he was thus engaged, he considered himself as jeopardizing a large pecuniary interest of his father-in-law.

In 1801, Governor Harrison entered upon the duties of his new office, at the old military post of Vincennes. The powers with which he was vested by law have never, since the organization of our government, been conferred upon any other officer,* civil or military; and the arduous character of the duties he had to perform, can only be appreciated by those who are acquainted with the savage and cunning temper of the northwestern Indians with the genius of the early pioneers, and the nature of a frontier settlement. The dangers of such actions as the battle of Tippecanoe, the defence of Fort Meigs, and the battle of the Thames, are appreciated and felt by all; and the victories which were consequent upon them have crowned the victors with a never fading wreath; but these acts, brilliant as they were, fade when put in comparison with the unremitting labor and exposure to which, for many years after the organization of the first grade of territorial government, the new executive was exposed. The whole territory consisted of three settlements, so widely separated that it was impossible for them to contribute to their mutual defence or encouragement. The first was Clark's grant at the falls of Ohio; the second, the old French establishment at Vincennes; and the third extended from Kaskaskia to Kahokia, on the Mississippi; the whole comprising a population of about five thousand souls. The territory thus defenceless, presented a frontier, assailable almost at every point, on the north-east, north and north-west boundaries. Numerous tribes of warlike Indians were thickly scattered throughout the northern portion of the territory, and far beyond its limits, whose hostile feelings were constantly inflamed by the intrigues of British agents and traders, if not by the immediate influence of the English government itself, and not unfrequently by the uncontrollable outrages of the American hunters themselves; a circumstance which it has always been found impossible to prevent, in the early settlement of the west. Governor Harrison applied himself with characteristic energy and skill. It seems truly miraculous to us, when we retrospect into the early history of his government, that he should have been able to keep down Indian invasion in the infant state of the territory, seeing the great capacity the savages displayed for harassing him at a period when his resources and means had so much increased, The fact proclaims loudly the talents of the chief. Justice tempered by mildness; conciliation and firmness, accompanied by a never slumbering watchfulness, were the means he used. These enabled him to surmount difficulties, under which an ordinary capacity must have been prostrated. The voluminous correspondence of Governor Harrison with Mr. Jefferson, from 1802 till 1809, is a recorded testimony of the ability and success of his administration.

During the year 1811, however, the intrigues of British agents operating on the passions of the Indians, brought affairs to a crisis which rendered hostilities unavoidable. Tecumseh, and his prophet brother, had been laboring unceasingly, since 1805, to bring about this result. Harrison called upon Colonel Boyd, of the 4th United States regiment, then at Pittsburg, (who immediately joined him,) and embodied a militia force as strong as the emergency would permit. To these were added a small but gallant band of chivalrous volunteers from Kentucky, consisting of about sixty-five individuals. With these he commenced his march towards the prophet's town at Tippecanoe. On the 6th of November he arrived in sight of the Indian village, and in obedience to his orders, made several fruitless attempts to negotiate with the savages. Finding it impossible to bring them to any discussion, he resolved to encamp for the night, under a promise from the chiefs to hold a conference next day. He sent forward Brigade Major Clarke and Major Waller Taylor, to select a proper position for the encampment. These officers shortly after returned, and reported that they had found a situation well calculated for the purpose, and on examination, the commander approved of it. Subsequent examination has proved that the ground was admirably adapted to baffle the success of a sudden attack, the only kind which the great experience of Harrison assured him would be attempted. The men reposed upon the spot which each, individually, should occupy, in case of attack. The event justified the anticipations of the chief. On the morning of the 7th, before daylight, the onset was made with the usual yells and impetuosity. But the army was ready; Harrison had risen some time before, and had roused the officers near him. Our limits do not permit us to enter into a detail of the action; the arrangement of the troops was masterly, and spoke the well educated and experienced soldier. The Indians fought with their usual desperation, and maintained their ground for some time with extraordinary courage. Victory declared in favor of discipline, at the expense, however, of some of the most gallant spirits of the age. Among the slain were Colonels Daveis and Owen of Kentucky, and Captain Spencer of Indiana. Governor Harrison received a bullet through his stock, without touching his neck. The legislature of Kentucky, at its next session, while in mourning for its gallant dead, passed the following resolution, viz:

"Resolved, That Governor William H. Harrison has behaved like a hero, a patriot and general; and that for his cool, deliberate, skillful and gallant conduct, in the battle of Tippecanoe, he well deserves the thanks of the nation."

From this period, until after the declaration of war against England, Governor Harrison was unremittingly engaged in negotiating with the Indians, and preparing to resist a more extended attack from them. In August, 1812, he received the brevet of major general in the Kentucky militia, to enable him to command the forces marching to relieve Detroit. He immediately applied himself to the proper organization of his army on the north-western frontier. The surrender of Hull changed the face of affairs; he was appointed a major general in the army of the United States, and his duties embraced a larger sphere. Every thing was in confusion, and every thing was to be done; money, arms and men were to be raised. It is under circumstances like these that the talents of a great general are developed more powerfully than in conducting a battle. To do justice to this part of the biography of Harrison, requires a volume of itself. Becoming stronger from reverses, collecting munitions of war, and defending Fort Meigs, were the prominent features of his operations, until we find him in pursuit of Proctor, on the Canadian shore. On the 5th of October, 1813, he brought the British army and their Indian allies, under Proctor and Tecumseh, to action, near the river Thames. The victory achieved by militia over the disciplined troops of England, on this brilliant day, was decisive; and like the battle of Cowpens, in the war of the revolution, spread joy and annimation over the whole union. For this important action, congress presented General Harrison with a gold medal. The success of the day is mainly attributable to the novel expedient of charging through the British lines with mounted infantry. The glory of originating this manœuvre belongs exclusively to General Harrison.

The north-western frontier being relieved, and important aid given to that of Niagara, General Harrison left his troops at Sackett's Harbor, under the command of Colonel Smith, and departed for Washington by the way of New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore. On the whole route he was received with enthusaism, and honored with the highest marks of distinction that can be offered to a citizen by a republican people.

Owing to a misunderstanding between Mr. Secretary Armstrong and himself, General Harrison resigned his commission in the spring of 1814. Mr. Madison deplored this step, and assured Governor Shelby, in a letter written immediately after the resignation, "that it would not have been accepted had he been in Washington." It was received and accepted by Secretary Armstrong, while the president was absent at the springs.

General Harrison retired to his farm at North Bend, in Ohio, from which he was successively called by the people, to represent them in the congress of the United States, and in the legislature of the state. In 1824 5, he was elected to the senate of the United States; and in 1828, he was appointed minister to Columbia, which station he held until he was recalled by President Jackson, not for any alledged fault, but in consequence of some difference of views on the Panama question. General Harrison again returned to the pursuits of agriculture at North Bend. In 1834, on the almost unanimous petition of the citizens of the county, he was appointed prothonotary of the court of Hamilton county.

In 1840, General Harrison was called by the people of the United States to preside over the country as its chief magistrate. His election was a triumphant one; of 294 votes for president, he received 234. From the time when he was first nominated for the office until his death, he had been rising in public esteem and confidence; he entered upon the duties of his office with an uncommon degree of popularity, and a high expectation was cherished that his administration would be honorable to himself and advantageous to the country. His death, which took place April 4th, 1841, just a month after his inauguration, caused a deep sensation throughout the country. He was the first president of the United States that had died in office. The members of his cabinet, in their official notification of the event, said: "That the people of the United States, overwhelmed like ourselves by an event so unexpected and so melancholy, will derive consolation from knowing that his death was calm and resigned, as his life had been patriotic, useful and distinguished; and that the last utterance of his lips expressed a fervent desire for the perpetuity of the constitution and the preservation of its true principles. In death, as in life, the happiness of his country was uppermost in his thoughts."

President Harrison was distinguished by a generosity and liberality of feeling which was exercised beyond what strict justice to himself and family should have permitted. With ample opportunity for amassing immense wealth, he ever disdained to profit by his public situation for private emolument. His theory was too rigidly honest to permit him to engage in speculation, and his chivalry was too sensitive to permit him to use the time belonging to his country, for private benefit. After nearly fifty years devotion to his duties in the highest stations, he left at his death but little more to his family than the inheritance of an unsullied reputation.

PIONEER LIFE OF THIS COUNTY.

We must confess to a feeling of veneration for the character of those noble men who penetrated the wilderness, and inaugurated civilization, and its train of blessings in a region where savages and wild beasts maintained undisputed empire.

The scenes through which they passed are suggestive of rich fields for the genius of the poet and painter, fields may be hereafter occupied. Would not this, reader, furnish a night scene for an artist, where our friend A. C. Martin was reposing in his log cabin, his faithful dog who always stood ready and willing to do his part as a protector, and the fire which always blazed at night, a few feet distant from his hammock, his trusty rifle supported by his left arm, the reptiles coiling upon the ground beneath him, the hordes of ravenous wolves attracted by the venison, the savor of which, during the process of cooking, had impregnated the atmosphere around, stimulating their voracious appetites to a point of uncontrolable fury; would not this and many kindred scenes described in the history of those times, constitute material worthy the genius of the best painters?

There is much embraced in the personal history of the pioneers that might interest the general reader, if space would permit me to give it more fully. All efforts at adornment of these narratives, however, would only impair their value. They are most attractive in their simplest form. No county, settled at or prior to the date of the portion which now forms the State of Ohio, ever had but one race of pioneers; men who penetrated the wilderness and endured all the hardships incidental to its subjugation, and transmitted to their successors the comforts and conveniences of a high civilization.

When this class of men pass off a given spot, they disappear for all time; the country which was first redeemed by them, will know them or their like no more forever. If the collection of material for a history of this County had commenced earlier, it might have been made vastly more interesting and instructive, but the graves have closed over most of those men of that generation, and anything like a faithful and correct history cannot now be produced.

The present generation might derive an instructive moral lesson by contrasting the privations and discomforts which beset the first settlers, with the happy circumstances by which they are surrounded; such a contrast should inspire the latter with feelings of gratitude for the blessings which they now enjoy, and should stifle the disposition to complain, which has become almost as chronic with us as it was the ancient people who were fed with bread from heaven.

In the social customs of our day it may be doubted whether we have made improvements upon those of our ancestors; in those days friends and neighbors could meet together and enjoy themselves, and with hearty good-will enter into the spirit of social amusement. The old and young could then spend evening after evening around the fireside with pleasure and profit; there was a geniality of manners, and a corresponding depth of soul to which modern society is unaccustomed. Our ancestors did not make a special invitation the only pass to their dwellings; and they entertained those who called upon them with a hospitality that has become almost obsolete. Guests did not assemble then to criticise the decorations, furniture, manners and surroundings of those by whom they are invited. They were sensible people, and visited each other to promote the enjoyment of those around them; they had clear heads and warm hearts; they believed in the earnestness. We may ignore obligations to the pioneer race, and congratulate ourselves that our lot has been cast in a more advanced era of mental and moral culture; we may pride ourselves upon the developments which have been in science and art, but when we view our standard of elevation as immeasurably in advance of that of our forefathers, we should stop and consider, if in all these assumptions we are not, as in many other things that belong to our generation, too fast.

The type of christianity of that period, will not suffer by a comparison with that of our day. If the people of the olden times had less for costly apparel and ostentatious display, they had also more for offices of charity and benevolence; if they had not the trappings and splendor of wealth, they had at least no infirmaries and no paupers, very few lawyers and very little use for jails. The command to "love thy neighbor as thyself" was then more faithfully observed than now. Has it ever occurred to you, reader, that we may be largely indebted to the characteristics of our pioneer fathers for that vigor and valor that has stimulated their descendents to go forth and fight their country's battles? The vain and thoughtless may jeer at their unpretending manners and customs; but in all the elements of true manhood and true womanhood, it may be safely averred that they were more than the peers of the generation that now occupy their places. That race has left its impress upon our times in more ways than one one. Rude and illiterate, comparatively, they may have been, but they were undoubtedly men of strong minds in strong bodies, made so by their compulsory self-denials, and their privations and toil.

It was the mission of many of them to aid in the formation of our noble commonwealth, and wisely and well was this mission performed. Had their descendents been faithful to their teachings, there would be harmony now where violence and discord reign throughout our land.

The "pioneer times" are the greenest spot in the memories of those who lived in them, their very privations and sufferings are consecrated things in the memory of the survivors, not among us.

A. B. PAUL.

The subject of this sketch was born at Hopedale, Harrison County, Ohio, June 28th, 1833. His occupation, during the early part of his life, was that of a farmer. In 1870, he projected the idea of locating a railroad from Wheeling to Sandusky and Toledo, meeting with opposition and jeers from every side, he still persevered and labored assiduously with his pet scheme, starting off frequently on extended trips, without a cent to defray his expenses, travelling through snow or mud, until after much weary toil and labor, he succeeded in awakening the people to a partial realization of the benefits and advantages arising from a railroad that should open up the vast coal fields of Harrison County; and in September, 1870, the first surveys of the proposed road were made. In 1871, the road was incorporated and the actual surveys began 1872, when he was elected secretary of the company, in which capacity he served for one year and was tendered the office of director but declined, feeling that he could, elsewhere, be of more service to the W. & L. E. R. R. Company. In 1873, he took part in the extension of the Nile and New Lisbon Road by the organization of the Atlantic and S. E. Railcoad Company, of which he is now secretary. Too much credit cannot be given Mr. Paul for the zeal and energy he has displayed in attempting, and successfully carrying out an enterprise, the advantages of which few persons seem yet to realize, and one that is destined to be an outlet, for future generations, for the vast fields of untold wealth that now lie, almost unheeded, beneath nearly every farm in Harrison County.

WILLIAM RANKIN

Was born in Ireland about the year 1720, and emigrated to this country in the eighteenth year of his age, to try his fortune in the new world. He settled in old Virginia, and was married to Miss Abigal Tassia: and the fruits of this marriage were nine sons and two daughters, as follows: William, David, Mathew, John, James, Zaccha, Thomas, Mary, Abigal, Samuel and Jesse. From there they moved to Washington County, Pennsylvania, where he purchased a tract of eighteen hundred acres, of Colonel Crawford, and lived in a block house or fort on the waters of Raccoon Creek, in what is now known as Mount Pleasant Township. William and the oldest remained in Virginia, and the remainder of the family came to Washington County, with their father, and remained there until their death, with the exceptions of Thomas and James. James was killed by the Indians on his way from Kentucky to Pennsylvania, where he had purchased a large tract of land. Thomas, in after years, moved to Harrison County, Ohio.

Zaccha Rankin, the sixth son of William, like his father before him, also built a block house, with doors opening in the center like mill doors; and very early one morning, soon after daylight, Zaccha heard the squeal of a pig, and thinking it an Indian, he sprang from his bed, opened the upper door, and to his surprise, instead of an Indian a large grey wolf sprang and seized him by the arm, but being a man of great muscular strength, he drew it under his arm and held it there until a colored man, his slave, was called, when he brought a knife and cut its throat. It seems the wolf was mad, as Rankin died in a few days with hydrophobia, and the colored man who skinned the wolf, lingered a few months when he died from the effects of the poison instilled while in the act of skinning.

Jesse Rankin, the youngest son of William, was also one of our early pioneers into Ohio, but did not remain there. He was with Colonel Crawford on his expedition to the upper Sandusky while still a youth a seventeen summers, and was one of the fortunate number to return to his home; and while still living he often expressed the desire to return to the Sandusky country, but never did.

Thomas Rankin was married to Miss Nancy Foreman, and by this marriage was born five children, as follows; James, William, David, Jane and Nancy. Thomas remained in Washington County, and participated in many battles with the Indians, one of which was the Poe battle, at the mouth of Tomlinson Run, on the Ohio River, and in this fight there were three Indians to one white man. Mr. Rankin had taken shelter behind a tree, and an Indian seeing him there, drew his gun to fire and in cocking it he broke the main spring, one of his comrades seeing his situation fired and killed the Indian, when Mr. Rankin picked up the Indian's gun and participated in the fight. This man had many hair-breath escapes, and in 1805, moved to Harrison County, Moorefield Township, Ohio.

The Rankin M. E. Church was the third organization of the kind in eastern Ohio; located in Moorefield Township, and organized in 1815, on land given as a donation by Thomas Rankin, by a deed, dated 1819, and among its members, at this time, we find Thomas Rankin, James Rankin and his wife Hester, David Rankin and wife, Arthur Barrett, Sen., and others; and in a few years, William Jones and wife, William Johnson and wife, Joshua Dickerson, Sen., John Early and wife, Jonathan Early and wife, Margaret Early, grand-mother of Israel Rankin.

There also went forth from the membership of this church, four ministers of the gospel, as follows: Benjamin Johnson, Barach D. Jones, John and Allen Moffit, and at this time the organization numbered over one hundred members, and we find Thomas Rankin, Jr., William Rankin and Wesley Johnson. But in a few years there seemed to be very little interest taken in the church, and the membership was as low as thirteen, but the loss was not by backsliders but by removals and death. When, in 1870, they commenced a new church on the old site and with it new life seemed to be in its members, and increased to a membership of about seventy, among whom we find William Kidwell and wife, Arthur Barrett, Jr. and wife, Joseph Barricklow and wife, Israel Rankin and wife, Wm. Dickerson and wife, Samuel A. Moore and wife, John J. Dickerson and wife, William N. Dickerson and wife, Mary Rankin, Susan J. Rankin, Henry S. Barricklow and others. The present pastor is Rev. William H. Rider, and the church are in a prosperous condition. The Rankin family, from the elder Thomas to the present, were all members of the M. E. Church, and of Democratic faith.

Thomas Rankin died May 12th, in the year 1832, and was buried in the cemetery adjoining the Rankin church.

James Rankin, the oldest son of Thomas Rankin, was born in Mount Pleasant Township, Washington County, Pennsylvania, December 22d, 1784, and was married to Miss Hester Early, December 15th, 1809. Miss Early was born May 31st, 1793, near Chartiers Creek, Washington County, Pennsylvania; they were James surrounded by a family of eight children, as follows: Jane, Thomas, Margaret, Nancy, Sarah, William, Matilda and Israel, of whom three are dead, Jane, Thomas and William; they all became heads of families. During the war of 1812, Mr. James Rankin served a term as a minute-man, and in 1813, settled in Harrison County, Ohio, on the farm where Israel Rankin now resides. Israel Rankin still lives on the old homestead where he was born, November 20th, 1830; his wife Miss Sarah Dickerson, was born April 11th, 1838, and united in marriage August 18th, 1870, and are blessed with two children, Elizabeth Jane, born August 2, 1871; James Jamison Rankin, born February 25th, 1873.

R. R. COCHRAN.

The farm he now owns was entered by his father in 1801, who made thereon many improvements. A log cabin was built where his present residence now stands, and in 1807, his father settled permanently, where they both resided. When we look back, over the fields of labor, it is with a feeling of veneration for the character of those noble men who penetrated the wilderness and inaugurated civilization and its train of blessings, in a region where savages and wild beasts had maintained undisputed empire. The scenes through which they passed are suggestive of rich fields for the genius of the poet and painter. The present generation might derive an instructive. moral lesson by contrasting the privations and discomforts which beset the first settlers, with the happy circumstances by which they are surrounded. The pioneers of our county have the greenest spot in the memories of those who live in them. The father of R. R. Cochran lived on the farm until his death, in 1861.

As early as 1842, Mr. Cochran began the breeding of thorough-bred cattle, and in 1858, Mr. R. R. Cochran purchased of Jeremiah Duncan, of Paris, Bourbon County, Kentucky, the cow Arabella, and a thorough-bred champion bull was purchased of A. J. Alexander, of Woodford County, Kentucky, this being the finest thorough-bred cattle that ever was brought to the county, and have bred with a reasonable share of success, as there is not much attention paid to cattle in this county; we also find, in this herd, a calf champion of Oak Mary, the roan Blass and Red, and also San Francisco, a bull of the finest quality.

The residence of R. R Corhran.—This mansion is beautifully situated on a fine elevation, on the Steubenville road, from which he has the picturesque scenery of distant landscapes. The house is a large two-story brick, admirably arranged for comfort and convenience. A fine view is given of his farm, in another part of this work, in which is shown the extent of his farm and the neatness and arrangement of his stock as above mentioned; the barn, with an under-story and firm stone foundation, its arrangement is admirable, and is said to be the largest and finest arranged barn in Harrison County. On the engraving it can be seen, highly illustrated, and also the extent of the stock, of the finest quality, that is raised thereon.

RETURN M. KENNEDY.

The subject of this sketch, Return M. Kennedy, was born in the District of Columbia, at Georgetown, on the 5th day of March, 1803. He is the fifth son of Mathew and Christina Elizabeth Kennedy. His father's family consisted of seventeen children, as follows: William C., Citizen J., John L., Mary A., Napoleon B., Return M., David W., Ahio H., Thomas J., Elizabeth, Phillip H., Jacob J., Abraham H., Christian H., Daniel and two infants. The posterity of this pioneer couple is wonderful, there being about one hundred grand children and three hundred great-grand children. He removed, with his father's family when about three years of age, to Mingo Bottom, on the Ohio line, where he remained until about eight years of age, when his father removed to Moorefield Township, Harrison County, and entered a quarter section of land, which is now the site of Cassville. The family remained here until 1814, when he removed to section 13, here he remained with his father's family until twenty-one years of age. He was then united in marriage to Miss Jane Moore, on the 19th day of February, 1824, who was the first daughter of Robert and Mary Moore, (both of whom were born in Ireland,) and remained with his father five years, when he purchased a farm in Tuscarawas County, situated about three miles south-east of Gnadenhutten (or Connoton.) In 1845 he again moved to Harrison County, on the old homestead containing 320 acres upon which he now resides. His union with Miss Moore, was blessed with six children, two of which are dead, Mary Ann and Howard; the other four are still living. Robert lives on section 19, Moorefield Township, on a farm called Apple Pie Ridge Farm, so called by the early settlers because on this farm was planted the first orchard in the Township; he invited the neighbors in to eat pie made from the fruit grown in his orchard. and from this fact, it was known ever afterwards as Apple Pie Ridge Farm.

Jackson lives on a farm in Nottingham Township, said County.

Maria, the widow of A. Hamilton, lives on section 25, in Moorefield Township.

Salathiel, Merchant and Wool Dealer, lives on section 7, Moorefield Township.

Mrs. Jane Kennedy, wife of R. M. Kennedy, departed this life on the 25th day of September, 1866, aged 71 years, and 5 days.

Mr. Kennedy married again to Miss Martha McCullough, who was the third daughter of William and Julia McCullough, on the 9th day of May, 1867, and were blessed with two children, Julia A. and Lydia M. Politically, Mr. K. has always adhered to the good old Andrew Jackson Democracy. He cast his first vote for Andrew Jackson, in 1824. His sons remain steadfast in the faith of their father. Mr. K. has been a candidate for several of the important offices of the County, one of which was Associate Judge, and has always carried more than a full vote of the party, and has served as Justice of the Peace in the Township for more than twenty-five years. Mr. Kennedy and his sons own about twelve hundred and twenty acres of good, rich land, rich, sandy loam, well watered and fenced, underlaid with a four or five feet vein of good coal and limestone; well stocked with good, improved stock. They have been very successful in introducing blooded cattle and swine. He has been a faithful member of the M. E. Church for about a quarter of a century, filling the different offices of class-leader and steward, still enjoying the best of health, and bids fair to spend many years with us.

S. S. CAMPBELL

Is a native of, and for many years a resident of Washington County, Pa., a county justly celebrated for its sheep and wool interest.

He was one of the first of that county to advocate the cause of the heavy wooled sheep. He engaged in the business twenty-five years ago, from a selection of the heaviest fleeces he could find in that county; bred and improved them for ten years, then, in company with some others, went to Vermont and purchased some of the Spanish merinos, claimed to have been bred pure in their own line of blood, from the time they were imported from Spain by Col. Humphrey.

He soon after went to Vermont again in company with two others, and purchased from Edwin Hammond over $14,000 worth of sheep. One ram, called Fortune, he gave $5,000 for, and for two ewes, gave $1,000 each, and from those purchases his entire flock proceeded.

For five successive years he and his partners have taken the Sweepstakes on rams at the Ohio State Fair, and the Sweepstakes on ewes time after time.

CHARLOTTE MORRIS, ATHENS TOWNSHIP,

Was born in Short Creek township, Harrison county, Ohio, February 3, 1795, and at the age of four years, her father, Joseph Huff, removed to Athens township. Mrs. Morris is the oldest of a family of six children. Prudence, Jemima, Joseph, Jacob and James, three of whom are still living. Though Mrs. Morris was born in the 18th century, and one of the few living old pioneers of Harrison county, she still enjoys unusual good health, and seems likely to live many years.

MOSES RILEY.

The subject of this sketch, Moses Riley, was born December 11, 1798, on the farm owned by Francis Riley, whose family was destroyed during the close of the Indian wars, by a band of Indians of the Shawnee tribe. He was a native of Jefferson county, Ohio.

He was the second son of John and Mary Riley, with whom he moved to what is now known as Nottingham township, Harrison county. In the spring of 1806, he was united in marriage to Miss Nancy Moore, who was the second daughter of James and Barbary Moore. In the fall of 1820, he repaired to what is now the 30th section, in Washington township, for the purpose of rearing a log cabin, sleeping the first night under the friendly branches of a beech tree. With the aid of some of his former neighbors, he soon built a cabin, and settled down with his newly made wife to the hardships of pioneer life. Here, in this cabin, he says he lived like a king, and was as happy as mortal could be. Their cabin was the welcome retreat of the itinerant minister, who was always made comfortable, and entertained by their hospitality.

Dr. Riley was one of nature's own doctors; he knew the medicinal properties of nearly all the herbs with which the forests abounded on every hand.

He improved a large tract of land which is now under a reasonable state of cultivation. He was always actuated by a spirit to benefit his fellow-man, and observed the good old golden rule, "do as you wish to be done by." Never having been blessed with any children, he raised a boy, who is still living with him, and who is now grown to manhood.

WILLIAM WILLIAMS.

Mr. William Williams, a native of Pa. This aged couple have lived to a ripe old age, and still enjoy a goodly degree of health, waiting the summons of the Master.

THOMAS RANKIN.

Thomas Rankin was born in East Virginia in 1761; from thence he moved to Washington county, Pa., with his father's family; here they moved into a fort for protection, as the silence of the forest was broken by the howling of wolves and the war whoop of the savage on every hand.

One of the most remarkable instances on record, happened to Zachariah Rankin. Hearing a pig squeal one morning at day-break, he hastily opened the upper half of the door (which was made as our mill doors are generally made now) expecting to see some prowling redskin, when a wolf sprang instantly and fastened his fangs in the flesh of his arm. Being a strong and resolute man, he grasped the animal, calling at the same time a colored servant, who came to his assistance and cut the animal's throat. Nothing was apprehended from this bite, but it proved that the wolf was mad. In a short time Mr. R. died with hydrophobia, in its worst form, and the negro also was affected so by the scene of his master's sufferings)and the blood of the animal) that he pined away and died in about one year's time. The subject of this sketch, Thomas Rankin, was one of the band of celebrated scouts who killed the band of Indians on the banks of the Ohio at the mouth of Thurnilson's Run, which engagement was denominated the Poe Battle, which is told at every fireside in Ohio and the bordering States, as the most remarkable fight which took place between any two scouting parties. Thomas Rankin, in his hurry at the commencement of the fight, broke the main-spring of his gun-lock, and a savage taking advantage of this circumstance, was just in the act of shooting him down, when one of the other scouts seeing his imminent danger, hastily shot the Indian dead at his feet. He sprang forward and snatched up the rifle of the fallen brave, and used it with deadly effect during the entire fight. The cause of this celebrated victory, was the capturing of a man by the name of Jackson, who was being carried away into captivity by this band of savages. They had almost made good their escape, when these faithful guards of the frontier overtook and killed them all but one, who succeeded in crossing the river, minus his right thumb.

Jesse Rankin was the brother of Thomas, and participated in the disastrous defeat of Col. Crawford.

Thomas Rankin settled finally in Harrison county, Ohio, on the farm upon which is the present site of the Rankin M. E. Church. Here he lived a useful life and raised a large family and died, and is buried in the churchyard donated by his own hand.

James Rankin was the oldest son of Thomas and Nancy Rankin; he was born, 1874. December 22d, in Washington county, Pa. He was married to Miss Hester Earley in December, 1809; he served as a soldier in the war of 1812; he moved to Ohio in 1813, on the farm now owned by Israel Rankin, on sec. 30th, Athens township, Harrison county, Ohio; he was the father of eight children, three of which are dead, Jane, Thomas and William; five are living, Margaret, Nancy, Sarah, Matilda and Israel. Having settled upon a tract of land which was entirely unimproved, he underwent many hardships and privations to establish a home and clear his farm. He was a faithful member of the Rankin M. E. Church, as was also his wife, from its organization to their death.

Mr. James Rankin departed this life July 5th, 1858, aged 73 years; Mrs. Hester Rankin departed this life in her 81st year, on the 29th day of March, 1874.

Israel Rankin was born in Ohio, November 20th 1830. He was the youngest child of James and Hester Rankin; he was united in marriage to Miss Sarah Dickerson, August 18th, 1870; their union has been blessed with two children, Elizabeth Jane and James Jamison. The entire Rankin family, from Thomas to Israel, have adhered to the Methodist faith, and have all been earnest supporters of the good old Jackson Democracy.

MAJOR JOHN S. LACEY.

The subject of this sketch was born in Sussex county, Delaware, January 14th, 1793. He removed with his father, to Chilicothe, Ohio, in 1805, and came to Cadiz in the spring of 1816. His first work in Cadiz was, in connection with his cousin, John M. Lacey, to make the brick and build the court-house, which is still standing. On the 31st of December, 1820, Anna Janette Hoyt became his wife, and during the remainder of his life, was his faithful and able assistant in all he undertook. During the war of 1812, he volunteered as a private, and went to the relief of Gen. Harrison, besieged in Fort Meigs.

In 1824 he was elected sheriff of Harrison county, to fill the unexpired term of Barrick Dickerson, removed by death. In 1825 he was re-elected, and served till 1827, when he was elected Treasurer, and served in this position four terms.

About 1831, he built the Cadiz Hotel, (now Sherman House) which he kept till 1842. For a number of years he was U. S. Mail Contractor, and established a line of four horse coaches from Wheeling, through Cadiz, New Philadelphia and Wooster, to Norwalk. In 1842 he removed to Stack Township, where he remained, engaged in farming, until his decease. He died January 16th, 1873, the second day after his 80th birthday.

GEORGE McPEOK,

Archer Township, Harrison County, Ohio,
September 16, 1874.

The subject of this sketch was born in Westmoreland county, Pennsylvania, on the 24th day of October, 1808, where he remained until the age of eighteen years. He went to Somerset county, of said State, and learned the bricklaying trade, at which he worked for a period of three years; he then came to Ohio, in November, 1829, and there followed his trade for fourteen years longer, in which time he built several houses that can be seen standing in the said county, and in adjoining counties. He was married to Miss Jane Endsley on the 6th day of October, 1831, They commenced housekeeping in the village of Hanover, where they lived for one year; they then moved on the farm known as the John Endsley Farm, where they lived eleven years; they then purchased a farm containing 137 acres, in Archer Township, of said county. They were permitted to enjoy each other's society until the 22d day of August, 1851, when the mother was called from this earth to reap her rewards in the other world, leaving her companion and seven children to mourn her loss. He was again married to Mrs. Barbara Endsley, on the 6th day of October 1853, whose society he was permitted to enjoy until November 1st, 1855, when she was called from this world, leaving a husband and one child to lament her loss. He was again married to Mrs Catharine A. Caldwell, April, 1857. They reared a family of one child who is still living with his aged parents, and taking care of them in their feeble days. And now at the advanced age of 66 years, surrounded by all the comforts of life, nature is blessing him with extremely good health, and the respect and esteem of all who know him, are heartily accorded to our Harrison county earliest pioneer.

ADAM DUNLAP, CADIZ TOWNSHIP.

The subject of this sketch was born in Fayette County, Pa., April 8th, 1805. His father, Samuel Dunlap, was born in Washington County, Pa., January 11th, 1776, and in 1807 removed to Harrison County, Ohio, and located a farm of 168 acres in Cadiz Township. Adam, the subject of this sketch, remained upon the farm with his father, and in the year 1836 was married to Martha Thompson, of Harrison County. They reared a family of three children—Sarah, Martha and Mary. His wife departed this life February 8th, 1848. He was again married to Elizabeth Jane Spratt, by whom he reared a family of seven children—Nancy, Samuel, Lizzie, Adaline, John, William and Clara. His second wife died May 15th, 1871, leaving six children to mourn for a mother's watchful care and tender love. At the age of sixty-nine years, Mr. Dunlap holds much of the resolution of his youth, conducts a farm of 336 acres, and surrounded by wealth, a pleasant family of children, and the respect and esteem of all who speak of him, with a clear conscience, never having sued a fellow-man, or been sued by others. He is slowly passing onward to the realm of happiness that await an honest man in the land where the just and virtuous meet their sure reward.

WILLIAM H. WILSON, RUMLEY TOWNSHIP.

The subject of this sketch was born in Washington county, Pa. September 22d, 1803, where he remained for two years; he then came to Ohio, located with his father for three years, and then returned to Penna. He was married to Miss Margaret Ann McCombs, May 20th, 1834. They remained in said state until September, 1839; they then removed to Harrison county, Ohio, and purchased a farm containing 170 acres, in Rumley township. They reared a family of nine children, four boys and five girls, two of which are dead, four of them live on the farm with their father, one near Cadiz, one in Michigan and the other in Richland county, Ohio. Mr. Wm. Wilson has always been a staunch supporter of the great temperance cause. He could count but few men who would not become intoxicated, when he first came to Rumley township. He can probably be called the first hero of Rumley township who had the true fortitude to cast an abolition vote. The true state of society may well be known by the following expression made by one of the judges at the polls, when he drew forth this silent but potent agent, the abolition ballot. He remarked with great emphasis: "Who cast this d——d nigger vote?" Mr. Wilson has been a member of the U. P. church for a number of years, always endeavering to be a true follower of his Master. And now at the advanced age of 71 years, surrounded by all comforts of life, the old pioneer whose silvered locks are a true token that he is slowly passing down the decline of life, loved, honored and esteemed by all who know him.

OBEDIAH HOLMES, was born in Trenton New Jersey, in 1721, and was married in 1750, to Miss Mary Clunn, and by this marriage was born ten children, eight boys and two girls.

The subject of this sketch is the seventh son of Joseph Holmes, who was born on the Potomac River near Sheppardstown, Virginia, on the second day of February, in the year 1771, and in the year 1775 moved to Washington Co, Pa., four miles north of Washington, where they remained a number or years, or until 1791, when they moved to Wellsborough, Western Virginia, where the father died in 1796; the son remained with the father until his death, but during the summers of 1792-3 and 4, he served as a frontiersman in the Block House near Wheeling, when every one was drafted to serve one month, and young Holmes would often serve for others their month, and was paid by them, and in this way put in three years experience, which was in after life so valuable; and in his scouts after the Indians, he often travelled in many parts of this County, and we can truly say of this man that he was one of the early pioneers of this county, if not the very earliest.

It was not until 1797 that Mr. Holmes and his brother moved to the North-Western Territory, in what is now Mount Pleasant Township, Jefferson Co., Ohio. It was not until the year 1800 that Congress authorized the selling of land in the North-Western Territory; so the Holmes brothers were only squatters, and when there land was offered for sale, there were sixteen applicants for the same section, and it was a rule at that time with the Land Office, that when there was more than one applicant for the same section, they should draw cuts; in this case it proved very unjust, as the Holmes brothers lost all their improvements and had to seek a home elsewhere; he then moved to Short Creek Township, Harrison Co., in February, 1801; the nearest neighbor at this time was Daniel Peterson, near what is now Robert Hagen's Mill. This same spring there was a number of families moved to this section, among the number was the Huff family and William Walraven, Samuel Haund, Thomas Dickson, and the next year or two we find Simpkins, Harryman, James Roberts, James Beaty, John Beaty, William Wiley, Hugh Rodgers and others, also Baldwin Parsons who also built the Hagen Mill, but died in a few years.

In the year 1810 Mr. Holmes was elected Captain of a militia company, which was called into service in 1812 under General Harrison on the Lakes, where he was promoted to Colonel; many of the old settlers served under Col. Holmes during this war, and he proved a very efficient and good officer.

In 1832 he was elected to the State Senate, serving but one term.

In the year 1799, on the 1st day of February he was united in marriage to Miss Sarah McNabb, and by this marriage was born eleven chilnren as follows: George, Mary, Elizabeth, Sinthia, Asa, Abraham, Martha, Joseph, Sarah, Susan and John who died when in his eight year of age; all the rest became heads of families. Mr. Holmes lived on the same farm until his death, April 20th 1868; he was a farmer, and a man of very exemplary habits, using no tobacco or whisky, and never had a doctor in his life, and would not in his last illness. He knew his time had come, and at the good old age of 97 years and two months, he retained a good memory and knew all that was going on until his last moments. His family still live in the township, and own near twelve hundred acres of the finest land in the township. Abraham still owns a part of the old Homestead, with such beautiful scenery and such fine homes, rich and deep soil, the best of spring water in almost every field, and instead of wild beasts, we find sheep on every hill top, that raises the finest wool the world produces.

JOHN MOORE.

was born October 10th 1818, in Georgetown, Harrison County Ohio, and was united in marriage to Miss Agnes E. Duncan, daughter of James and Margaret Duncan of York County, Pa., December 19th 1849, and were blessed with eight children, two of whom are deceased, six sons and two daughters as follows: Samuel, James Johnson, Jacob, John Duncan Mary Bell, Calvin Sherman, Margaret Loucella, Ross Gibson. Samuel was born December 15th, 1850, and died April 24th, 1852, aged one year four months and nine days; James Johnson was born April 23th, 1854, and died November 7th, 1855, aged one year, six months and eleven days; Jacob was born June 15th, 1856; John Duncan was born January 20th, 1859; Mary Bell was born August 3d, 1861; Calvin Sherman was born January 22d, 1865; Margaret Loucella was born October 21st, 1867; Ross Gibson was born October 13th, 1870.

John Moore was the son of Samuel and Mary Moore, one of the early settlers of Harrison County; and may the memory of the early pioneers of this county be sacred to us all, and when we think things are hard and dull, let us think what they were with the early pioneers.

JOHN LAUTZ.

The subject of this sketch was the second son of Peter and Mary Lautz, natives of Penna. He was born in Jefferson County, May 24th, 1809, where he remained with his parents until the circumstance of his father's death, which occurred in his 16th year. In 1827 he moved with his father's family, consisting of eight members, to what is now known as section 24, in Moorefield Township, Harrison County, Ohio, at which time there was but a small portion cleared Here this pioneer family lived in a log cabin 12 by 16 feet square, and began the important labor of clearing away the forest that surrounded them on every hand.

He was married to Eliza F. Fulton, who was the third daughter of Philip and Sarah Fulton, on the 5th day of December, 1837. Their union was blessed with six children, one of which died in infancy, one, Aseph E., was killed while nobly defending the flag of his country, near Marion, West Virginia. The other four are still living, honored and useful members of society. He gave to each of his sons a good farm, and is living to receive their homage and to enjoy the satisfaction of seeing them all command the respect of their fellow-men, thus he is permitted to enjoy the fruits of a well spent life, honored and respected by all who know him.

SIMKINS HARRYMAN,

one of the early pioneers of Harrison County, Ohio, was born in Baltimore County, Maryland, in the year 1756, and settled in this county in 1802, occupying the farm now owned by Robert Harryman. The family consisted at this time of nine children. John Johnson, with their family of nine, came with the Harrymans, on pack horses over the mountains, as no public roads were laid out until three or four years afterwards. The first night they camped between two springs, on the Simkin Harryman land which had been the camping ground of parties before either of Indians or the whites. It was a beautiful clear piece of land, with the embers of an old fire; here is where the two families spent the first night, and their grinding was all done by hand. We will give a brief sketch of Robert Harryman, who still lives on the old farm. Two of the Harryman boys served in the war of 1812, with Col. Holmes, and one of the early adventures of Harrison county, related by Mr. Harryman, in the year 1820, in the northwest corner of the county, near Franklin, about the last of May while a party was out hunting they found a tree with four young cub Bears; they went and got two or three others, making four or six in all, with one axe and one gun, and only one load, they put the smaller boys in the party, in the brush out of the way, the remainder armed themselves with cudgels and clubs, one axe and one gun, John Harryman as gunner, they had not been long at work with the axe when the mother came up, ready for fight; at this point, the gunner was called for, and the axeman worked on until the tree fell, and then the fight commenced, and the gunner taking deliberate aim shot her behind the sholder, and near the back, when she fell in front, and then the clubs came in good play, and they beat her with clubs for the space of forty rods, and every time she was struck, she returned the blow, when she was finely killed by Robert Harryman with the axe, when they returned to the tree to find one killed by the fall, one escaped and two captured by the company.

In our late war, five of the Harryman's served, and one died and two died from the effects of injuries received, and we must not forget to say that the noted Rebel raider Colonel Morgan passed near the Harryman's farm, on his raid through that portion of Ohio.

GILLESPIE CULBERTSON, ATHENS TOWNSHIP, was born in Harrison County, in October, 1816, in Athens Township. He was the youngest of a family of fourteen children—James, John, Samuel, Ezekiel, Thomas, Robert, Benjamin, William, Hugh, Joseph, Mary, Ann, George and Gillespie—six of whom are still living. Gillespie still resides on the farm upon which he was born. He is the father of five children by his first wife—maiden name, Dorcas Holt, and has one child by his second wife, Eliza Jane Duncan. Three of the children—John, Sarah Ann and Dorcas Eliza are still living. Though numbered amongst the older settlers, and being of a jovial and happy disposition, Mr. Culbertson still bids fair to enjoy many years with his family.

JOHN WEBB, ATHENS TOWNSHIP.

The subject of this sketch was born in Brownsville Fayette County, Pa., Feb. 5th, 1806. His father, Jacob Webb, was born in Maryland, in 1767. John Webb came with his father to Harrison County in 1809, who located a farm on Section 6, of Athens Township. John Webb still lives on the same section, on an adjoining farm, and is the owner of 333 acres, all in one body He is the father of two sons, who live on his farm, and stands as an honorable representative of one of the present pioneers of Harrison County.

NANCY McCRACKEN, ATHENS TOWNSHIP, was born in Washington County, Pa., Aug. 12th, 1804. Robert McCracken, and Martha, the father and mother of Nancy, removed to Harrison County, half a mile south of the present village of Athens, in 1805. Miss Nancy McCracken was the sixth of a family of eight children—John, William, Margaret, Mary, Martha, Nancy, Jane and Robert, and, with the exception of Martha, all are still living. Nancy, the subject of this sketch, has never been married, and lives upon and owns the old homestead of 127½ acres, attends to the business of the farm, and enjoys health, happiness and plenty.

MRS. JACKSON KENNEDY.

The subject of this sketch was the second daughter of George and Anna Carrothers. She was born on the 2d day of March, 1834, in the County of Harrison, Ohio. She was educated in the public schools of the county. She was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. Jackson Kennedy, who was the second son of R. M. and Jane Kennedy, on the 3d of April, 1857, by the Rev. Day. Their union was blessed with eight children, two of which are sleeping in the quiet churchyard, and the other six are still living. The oldest, Mr. Scot Kennedy, having married the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis, has located in Harrison County. The remainder of the children live at home with their father. Mrs. Kennedy departed this life in her 40th year, leaving her husband a large family of children, and a large circle of friends to mourn the loss of a faithful wife, kind mother and devoted Christian lady. Angelina, her oldest daughter, died on the 21st of November, 1871, aged 17 years, 9 months, 6 days.

THE ACT OF CONGRESS IN REGARD TO SCHOOL LANDS.

On the 30th of April, 1802, Congress passed an act authorizing the call of a State Convention to form a State Constitution. This convention assembled at Chilicothe Nov. 1st, and on the 29th of the same month a Constitution of state government was ratified and signed by the members of the Convention. It was never referred to the people for their approbation, but became the fundamental law of the State by the the act of the Convention alone; and by this act Ohio became one of the States of the Federal Union.

The ordinance of 1785 had already provided for the appropriation of Section Sixteen to the support of schools in every Township sold by the United States. And this appropriation thus became a condition of the sale and settlement of the Western Country; it was a consideration offered to induce purchasers of public lands at a time when the treasury was well nigh empty, and this source of revenue was much relied upon. It extended to every township of land within the territory, except those in the Virginia military reservation, and wherever the reserved section had been disposed of after the passage of the ordinance, Congress was bound to make other equivalent provisions for the same object. The reservation of Section Sixteen, therefore, could not in 1802 be properly made the object of a new bargain between the United States and the State.

And many thought that the sale reservation and the twentieth of the proceeds of the public lands were very inadequate equivalents for the proposed surrender of the right to tax. The Convention however, determined to accept the propositions of Congress, on their being so far enlarged and modified as to vest in the State for the use of school section sixteen in each township sold by the United States.

The first General Assembly under the State Constitution, met at Chilicothe March 1st, 1803. The Legislature enacted such laws as were deemed necessary for the new order of counties, and arrangements for civil purposes. Jefferson County was organized in June 29th, 1797; its original limits included the country west of Pennsylvania and Ohio, and east and north of a line from the mouth of the Cuyahoga, southwardly to the Muskingum, and east to the Ohio; within those boundaries is Cleveland, Canton, Steubenville, Warren, and many other large towns. Since that time, it has been divided in many counties, and one of them is the territory that was formerly Jefferson County until 1813, when an act of the legislature was passed that a new county of Harrison should be formed and called after General Harrison. We give a short history of his life as a frontiersman, a statesman and lawyer.

The first organization of the county was in 1813, and the first commissioners elected in Harrison County was on March 11th, 1813. Here give the form of the first commissioners of the county.

State of Ohio, } S. S. Cadiz, March 11th, 1813.
Harrison County. }

Be it remembered that this day John Pugh and James Cobean, having been duly notified that they were duly elected Commissioners for said County, met at Cadiz, the seat of Justice for said county, and took their oaths of office according to law, and appointed Walter B. Beebe their clerk, and also appointed Samuel Osburn County Treasurer; said Osburn having given bonds to said commissioners according to law. The county commissioners of said county have procured the house of William Grines, in said Cadiz, for the purpose of holding court in and for the said county till some other place is provided by said commissioners.

We see by the treasurer's settlement in 1814, the amount of taxes collected was $570.76, of Harrison County. From that time we have increased in wealth and improvements, and in 1874 it was $145,482.85. We give a table showing all the real and personal property, and the wealth of the county at the present day; so it will enable all to examine for themselves.

COLLEGES OF HARRISON COUNTY.

Harrison County has three institutions of learning of a high grade. At these, during the past year, about three hundred students have been assembled. Some suppose that three such institutions are too many for the county. It cannot support them. But it must be remembered, on one hand, that Harrison county contains a multitude of people, ranging somewhere between 18,000 and 20,000 souls; and on the other hand, that all our students do not come from Harrison county. If all were from the county, it would be only one in sixty of the population, and we certainly ought to be able to educate one out of sixty of our people. But that an idea may be gained as to the number of students the county has in its colleges, I will submit a report of the One Study University at Scio, which will not vary much from a report of the others. We have graduated one hundred and sixteen; ninety-three men and two hundred and thirty women. Of these, eight were from Scio, eight from other parts of Harrison county, and one hundred from abroad. Of the one hundred and nineteen students in attendance this last year, thirty-four were from Scio, fifteen from other parts of Harrison county, and seventy from abroad.

Our students come from every part of Ohio, largely from Pennsylvania and Virginia. We have them from New York, New Jersey, Illinois, Missouri and Kansas.

We find it a great advantage to have students gathered from remote parts. They bring the culture and customs of their people. Students from any one locality, for instance, pronounce a great many words incorrectly from custom. Students from other localities at once notice and correct these, and are, themselves, in like manner corrected of other faults.

Our graduates, except those still preparing for professions, are employed at good salaries. There never has been a time when there was so large a demand for thoroughly educated men and women.

HISTORY OF THE RANKIN M. E. CHURCH.

Of Moorefield Township, Harrison County, Ohio.

This church was first organized by Rev. James Roberts and Thomas Dickerson, about 1814. Among the names found enrolled at this time, were Thomas Rankin, sr., Mary Rankin, James Rankin, Hester Rankin, Anthee Barrett, sr., Isaac Barrett, William Jones, Rachel Jones, and others. Having no house in which to worship, this faithful band of pioneer Christians were compelled to worship in the log cabin of Thomas Rankin. This they continued to do for about five years, when Thomas Rankin donated an acre of ground, situated on section 31, in Moorefield township, to the church, for the purpose of building a church and establishing a burial ground.

A small house was soon built, and then they were accommodated quite well. Here, in this pioneer church, many souls were converted, some of whom went forth to preach the Gospel. It grew in power and numbers, until it numbered over one hundred members. A great many of its communicants sought homes elsewhere, and others died. Thus the church gradually became weakened, until but a few of this once prosperous band were left. In 1869 a few faithful men, who, feeling the need of moral and religious instruction for the rising generation of the community, called a meeting and proposed plans for the erection of a good, substantial house of worship; subscription papers were circulated, and money pledged to build it. The house was began in 1870; and it was finished and dedicated to the worship of Almighty God, by Rev. J. S. Bracken, on the 14th day of May, 1871, as the Rankin M. E. Church.

The following Trustees were appointed:—William Kidwell, Israel Rankin, Anther Barrett, and Wesley Johnson, &c. It numbers at present, about sixty members; some of their names are as follows: William Kidwell, Israel Rankin, Anther Barrett, William N. Dickerson, Samuel A. Moore, and others.

The following are the names of persons who have been active and useful members since the re-organization of the church: David Rankin, Thomas Rankin, jr., William Rankin, Margaret Earley, John Earley, Jonathan Earley, Joshua Dickens and William Johnson.

This band of Christians are prospering, and are working out their salvation with fear and trembling. May it ever prosper and be the means of great good in the world, is the prayer of the author of this sketch.

HISTORY OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH OF NOTTINGHAM, IN THIS TOWNSHIP.

In 1806, a stand was erected in the forest, at the base of a large tree, near to the site of the present house of worship, for the congregation of Nottingham, where Dr. Rea (a pioneer minister of the Presbyterian Church) preached occasionally for five years.

After this, Rev. William Wallace was sent into this region as a missionary, under the direction of the Presbytery of Steubenville, and in the course of time, organized the Presbyterian Church of Nottingham, Nov. 17th, 1821, and continued to labor at this point and at Freeport for eighteen years. This worthy man died in 1841, in the 55th year of his age.

The present pastor (Rev. T. R. Crawford, D.D.) began his ministry in the Presbyterian Church of Nottingham, twenty-eight years last October. He graduated at Franklin College, and after the study of theology, in due time he was licensed to preach the gospel by the Presbytery of Steubenville, in 1846; and since he began his present charge, has preached 3,500 sermons, has made 300 public lectures, has conducted 450 funeral services, has solemnized near 300 marriages, has made 7,459 pastoral visits, and in his charge during his ministry there have been received to the communion of the Church about 1,000 persons.

The following ministers have gone out from the membership of this communion during the last twenty-eight years (with one exception): Rev. Wm. Reed, of Trenton Mission; Rev. H. Reed, of Scipio, Kansas; Rev. Wm. S. Dool, of Millersburgh, Illinois; Mr. D. W. Lyons, of Iowa; Rev. T. G. Scott, of Malden, Illinois; Rev. S. H. Wallace, of Concord, Ohio, and Rev. C. Carrothers, of Yeddo, Japan, as a Foreign Missionary, under the direction of the Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian Church of the United States.

SHORT CREEK TOWNSHIP.

This Township was surveyed by the government, in 1797, and was organized for civil purposes in 1799, it being surveyed in sectional sub-divisions. It is one of the best agricultural townships in the County and is supplied with an abundance of pure spring water.

This Township is located in the south-east part of the County; it has three towns within its present limits, Georgetown, Newtown and Harrisville: the last town is situated in section 11.

Harrisville is a thriving little town, and was laid out January 9th, 1850, by T. Dickerson. This place is surrounded by a fine country. We find very few of the early settlers yet lingering to remind their children and grand-children of the privations and hardships in the days of the early settlers. The first Justice of the Peace, elected in this Township, was Vachel Metcalf, in 1799; at that time located on section 18, close to where New town is now situated. Harrisville is located on the main road which runs from Cadiz to Wheeling. This Township is in range 4, township 8 and 9.

NORTH TOWNSHIP.

This Township was surveyed by the government, in 1801, and was organized as a Township in 1804, in range 6 and township 13. The surface of this township is rolling and very rough in the southern part. The Pan Handle R. R. runs through the northern part. There are two villages, Masterville and Scio, that are located on the railroad. We give the taxes levied in 1813, at the time of the organization of the County. The first collection, by Morris Albaugh, was $16 19, for which the treasurer gave a receipt in full to the collector. It is a fine farming country, and the principle staples raised are corn, oats and wheat, and extensive wool growers throughout its borders.

MASTERSVILLE.

The farm on which John M. Holmes now lives, a part of which is the present site of the town, was entered and a cabin erected on it in 1808, by Rev. C. Gundy, whose daughter, the mother of Daniel Firebaugh, an old resident in that neighborhood, came with him to cook, until he could get a cabin built and a small spot of ground cleared. In 1820, a fulling mill and carding machine was built by Dumming & Masters, and for a number of years the place was knwon as Dumming & Master's Mill.

In 1835, G. W. Holmes built a small house and started a store. In 1846, John M. Holmss went east for goods for the purpose of opening a store. Up to this time there were no thoughts of a town, but while Mr. Holmes was east, buying goods, he was asked in what town he was doing business, and where they should send his goods, and Mr. Holmes replied, Mastersville, Harrison County, Ohio, and when his goods came they were thus marked, which was rather amusing to Mr. Masters, the owner of the carding and fulling mill.

The town was platted and laid out in 1851, still retaining the name of Mastersville, since which time several additions have been made in the way of buildings, but, from some cause, have not attained the business height that should have grown up there, however, it is a pleasant place in which to live, and probably no other town, with the surrounding neighborhood, contains as many warm-hearted, whole-souled people, for the number considered, as does this town and the immediate neighborhood.

MONROE TOWNSHIP.

This Township was surveyed in 1801 and 2, it is in range 7, township 15, U. S. Military Land. This Township is located in the north-west corner of the County. Stone Fork, of Stillwater, runs through the south-west corner. The surface is rolling and somewhat broken; a fine farming section. The principal stock raised is sheep and some hogs; principal grains, corn, oats and wheat. Bowerstown and Philadelphia Crossings are located on the Pan Handle Railway—one of the main thoroughfares of our County. All land close to this road will become very valuable in a few years. Bowerstown was laid out in 1852, by Nathaniel Bower, David Bower and H. Howser, and since that time it has been a great trading point for a number of miles around.

FRANKLIN TOWNSHIP

Was surveyed in 1802, and organized for civil purposes in 1807. This Township is located in range 7, township 13, U. S. Military Land. Its present limits are 25 sections; Deersville is in the south-east corner, on section 25. This Township is very rough and underlaid with coal and iron ore in various places that would pay to work if transportation was close at hand. It is well watered by Stone Fork, of Stillwater, running through the north-east part of the Township, and many fine streams, of various sizes, empty in on both sides. The general stock raised is sheep and a few hogs. Wheat, corn and oats are raised throughout all parts of the Township.

NOTTINGHAM TOWNSHIP.

This Township was surveyed 1801, and was organized for civil purposes in 1807. After the organization of this Township, it was settled up very rapidly considering the condition of the country at that time. The taxes that were collected in the Township, in 1813, after the organization of the County, was $63 07; this included all the real and personal property at that time.

DEERSFIELD

Was laid out by John Cramblet, November 25, 1815. It is a very pretty little village, and is surrounded by lofty hills. Its population is between three and four hundred, and has for its citizens, a very enterprising, gray-headed, well-to-do set of men. This village is located twelve miles west of Cadiz, in Franklin Township, on the dividing ridge between Stone Fork and Brush Fork, of Stillwater.

WASHINGTON TOWNSHIP

Is located in the western part of the County, in range 7, township 12, U. S. Military Land; and was laid out by the government in 1802, and surveyed by James Cox, being organized as a township in 1806. This Township is very rough and broken; we find some valley land on Big Stillwater, which runs through the center of the Township and flows north; Brush Fork runs through the eastern part and empties into Big Stillwater at Tippecanoe. It is five by six miles and contains thirty sections.

FREEPORT TOWNSHIP

Is located in the south-west corner of the County. Its surface is generally rolling. It was laid out by James Cox, in 1803, and was organizad as a township in 1807. It has two villages, Freeport and Smyrna. It is in range 7, township 11. This Township is well watered, plenty of fine coal is in many parts of the Townsbip. There is a prospect of the Tuscarawas Valley Railway going up the Valley of Big Stillwater, and when completed, it will open a rich field of coal and iron ore of the finest quality. In this Township there are many historical events which I should like to give, but space will not permit.

CADIZ

Was laid out in 1804, nine years before the organization of the County. It is beautifully situated on the hill tops, on the ridge which divides the waters of the Tuscarawas and Ohio rivers. It is about twenty-four miles west of Steubenville, and about the same distance from Wheeling. The Pan Handle Railway, which runs eight miles north, has a branch which terminates at Cadiz, and the business done at Cadiz Station is said to equal any on the road, except that at one or two points.

The coal interests in and about Cadiz are very fine. The mining of Bituminous Coal forms one of the great industries of our nation, although the utilization of mineral coal, for manufacturing purposes in this County, was not discovered until after the first quarter of the present century had nearly expired. The results have assumed such proportions as to rank our land first among the mining and manufacturing nations of the world. The development of the coal fields in eastern and northern Ohio was greatly retarded, in the beginning, for shipping facilities. The building of railroads and canals, however, soon supplied this want. The development of this territory proved it to be one of the richest in the mining region; and during the latter part of the last, and the beginning of the present decade, the traffic in coal has become one of the leading industries of the State. The mining of coal has not been carried on to a very great extent, in Cadiz, owing to the cost of shipping. Coal is found in almost the entire County, which adds greatly to the value of the land that is yet undeveloped, and but few know what a rich treasure they have; and yet the land sells for the same as if no coal was to be had. We have examined several banks, in and about Cadiz, and find veins of coal to be 5½ to 6 feet, of the finest quality.

The location of Cadiz is very healthy. It has never been visited by any of the epidemic diseases which have caused such havoc in other places, never had any cholera, and but two cases of small-pox have been known in the vicinity within the past twenty-five years. It is high, dry, well drained and cleanly. It has an intelligent, thrifty population of about sixteen hundred, and is said to be the wealthiest town of its size in the State. It has a Union School house, costing $25,000, and a school for colored youths, costing $6,000. Its schools are unsurpassed, the finest teachers are procured by the Board, which make them of the first class. There are two Weekly Newspapers published, the Cadiz Sentinel, and Cadiz Republican, which compare favorably with any newspapers in the State. There are five banks, (two National and three private,) which have an average deposit of over $700,000. There are five churches, one which, (the First Presbyterian,) cost $40,000. There is a new M. E. Church, now under construction, and soon to be completed, which will cost $25,000, of which there is an engraving in another part of this book.

The town is compactly built, and is not behind in the march of improvements. This year there are many fine business blocks and private residences, and the completion of a very fine hotel, one as fine as any one could wish, with all the modern improvements; in all, it adds greatly to the appearance of the place; it is located on the corner of Main and Steubenville streets, in the central part of the town. The extent of this building can be seen in an engraving in another part of the work; it is the largest building in the County.

INDEX

J.A. CALDWELL 1875 ATLAS of HARRISON COUNTY

Notes to be studied to understand the makeup of the original Atlas and the indexing.

The original Atlas is printed with lots of blank pages and our printing does not use these blank sheets but have all sheets covered on both sides. Thus the numbers do not always run consecutively but all script and maps are there in the order used in the original Atlas. Thus our reproduction index can be used for the original as well as the reproduction.

Use the author's index at the front of the book to secure your page for the maps and illustrations. Use our index for the script and maps.

CADIZ, GREEN and MOOREFIELD townships are made up of more than one range. Therefore there will be a repeat of section number in these. The researcher must study the duplicate sections.

The following abbreviations were adopted for use; They pertain to the villages. Page (p) and section (s) is sufficient to identify the townships.
