HISTORICAL SKETCH OF HOLMES COUNTY, OHIO.

HOLMES County is the territory formerly Wayne County, which was established by proclamation of Gen. St. Clair Aug. 15th, 1796, and was the third county formed in the N. W. Territory. Its original limits were very extensive, and were thus defined in the act creating it: Beginning at the mouth of the Cuyahoga River, upon Lake Erie, and with the said river to the Portage between it and the Tuscarawas branch of the Muskingum; thence down the said branch to the forks at the carrying place above Fort Laurens; thence by a west line to the east boundary of Hamilton County (which is a due north line from the lower Shawnee town upon the Scioto River); thence by a line west-northerly to the south part of Portage, between the Miamis of the Ohio and the St. Mary's River; thence by a line also west-northerly to the southwestern part of the Portage, between the Wabash and the Miamis of Lake Erie, where Fort Wayne now stands; thence by a line west-northerly to the south part of Lake Michigan; thence along the western shores of the same to the northwest part thereof, including lands upon the stream emptying into the said lake; thence by a due north line to the territorial boundary in Lake Superior, and with the said boundary through Lakes Huron, St. Clair, and Erie to the mouth of Cuyahoga River, the place of beginning.

These limits embrace what are now parts of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, and all of Michigan, and the towns of Ohio City, Chicago, St. Mary's, Mackinaw, &c. Since then States and counties have been organized out of this territory, and the accompanying map shows the dimensions of Holmes County in 1874.

The surface of the county is mostly rolling, but interspersed with numerous glades of level land; the prevailing soil is a deep clay loam, capable of the highest fertility. Coal of an excellent quality abounds in all parts of the county, and excellent quarries of limestone are found. It is a good county for wheat. The principal productions are wheat, oats, corn, grass, and potatoes. Sheep and swine are extensively raised.

Population of Holmes County in 1820, 5107; in 1830, 9135; 1840, 18,088; 1850, 20,452; 1860, 20,589; in 1870, 18,177. In the northern tier of townships of this county a two mile strip, was taken from Wayne County and added to Holmes County, being added to the following townships: Washington, Ripley, Prairie, Salt Creek, and Paint. This was done in the spring of 1825, at the time of the organization of the county.

THE SETTLEMENT OF NORTHERN OHIO BY INDIANS.

It is often asked whether the Wyandots were the earliest inhabitants of Ohio. And who were they, and where did they come from? I quote from the very best authority that can be obtained. They came immediately from their homes about Detroit. They were formerly a powerful tribe, called Hurons by the French, and lived in the country between Lake Huron and Lake Ontario until about the year 1650, when they were routed by the Five Nations of New York (afterward Six Nations), and then driven to the shores of Lake Superior.

About the year 1655 the Five Nations annihilated the Eries, called by the French the Cat Nation, who inhabited the southern shore of Lake Erie. For many years Ohio was uninhabited, and visited only by the hunting parties of the Five Nations, and their war parties passing to the West to attack the Miamis and Illinois. This tribe once roamed over grand prairies that are now cultivated fields of the great State of Illinois. But the Wyandots, or Hurons, having settled meanwhile about Detroit, made a treaty with the Five Nations in 1694, and gradually extended into northern Ohio; afterward the Delawares moved, in from the East, the Miamis from the West, and the Shawnees from the South. The Mingoes of Ohio were a fragment of the Six Nations. It is said that they were called Mengive by the Delaware, and Mingo was habitually applied only to the colony that lived in Ohio at that time.

HOLMES COUNTY PREVIOUS TO ITS SETTLEMENT BY WHITE INHABITANTS.

With regard to the period that preceded the settlement by white people of Holmes County, very little of course is known. The space indicated comprehends an indefinite rule of darkness and barbarism, and the investigation of its traditions and imperfect annals and their embodiment into historical form are not consistent with this work. Many of the acres that are now embraced within the limits of Holmes County have been, no doubt, the theatre of events that would render them classic grounds; but the history of those are buried in oblivion and not attainable. We find by the early history of Ohio in reference to the Indian trail leading from Fort Duquesne by the way of Sandusky to Detroit, one of these trails passes through the northern part of this county.

Col. Crawford with his army of 1783 passed through the northern part of Holmes County, about two and a half miles north of Millersburg. Then they marched up the Killbuck. At not a great distance the army reached a large spring, known at the present time as Butler's or Jones' Spring, near the line of Wayne County, it being about twelve miles from Wooster, where, on the evening of Tuesday, May 8th, the volunteers encamped.

At this spring one of the men died and was buried. His name was cut in the bark of a tree close by his grave.

From this point the army moved westward, numbering 480 men at this time and place. Thence the army moved on westward along the north side of what is known as Odell's lake, passing between two small lakes; thence passed near the spot where was afterward the Indian village of Greentown, in what is now Ashland County.

From this point they struck across to the Rocky Fork of Mohican, up which stream they travelled until a spring was reached near where the city of Mansfield now stands, in Richland County.

This route was supposed to have been opened soon after the erection of the fort at Pittsburgh in 1754. We also find that Hutchinson's History of Boquet's Expedition in 1764 gives five different routes through the Ohio wilderness. Second route on page 163.

Referring to Pownall's Map, published 1776, which located various Indian tribes then in Ohio, Mr. Taylor infers that the west branch of the Muskingum, known on our map as the White Woman or Mohican, was assigned to the remnants of the old Connecticut tribe.

REFUSED LANDS, CONDITION OF EARLY AGRICULTURE, THE OPENING OF MARKETS, &c.

It is a fact, probably not known, but yet one well authenticated, that the lands which now produce most abundantly of the great cereal staple of Holmes County, were regarded by the early settlers as utterly valueless for purposes of cultivation. The bottom, or valley lands, were the first and only sought by the pioneers. The monarch oak and luxuriant herbage which adorned the sides and summits of the lofty hills, at length suggested to those who had a better knowledge of agriculture as a science, that such production could not spring from a soil naturally sterile. This idea of the barrenness of the upland soil is supposed to have had its origin from the fact that the substance of its surface had been, for a considerable period, annually exhausted by fire. These fires, for obvious reasons, rarely swept over the lower plains, and hence their fertility continued unimpaired. The practice of devastating by fire the upland forests, and thus defeating the operation of nature, doubtless had its origin with white hunters from the transmontane regions, who had introduced this with other more flagrant vices of civilization among the aborigines, after the latter became instructed in the use of firearms and the practice of the white hunters. The effect of the fires was to change the natural qualities of the soil—to incrust the surface of the earth with a material similar to a vast sheet of brick, and where anything like pulverized earth made its appearance, it bore the semblance of brickdust. Notwithstanding this periodical exhaustion, the natural vigor of the soil during each spring following the autumnal burning would become so far recuperated as to produce a very rank growth of vegetation, known as sedge grass, pen vine, &c. This vegetation afforded excellent pasture from early spring until about August. The sedge grass, when cut in July or earlier, afforded very nutritious and palatable food for domestic stock during the winter months. In the lapse of time it became a matter of necessity with the cultivators of the soil upon the bottom and valley lands to fight and subdue these autumnal fires, for the protection of their own fences, cabins, and granaries. When protected from the exhausting process, the uplands very soon resumed their natural fertility; a radical chemical change became apparent all over the surface of the soil, and efforts at cultivation demonstrated the fact that those rejected acres are now among the most fertile of any in Ohio for the production of the staple which is the chief source of our agricultural wealth.

The Indian tribes who inhabited this section were Delawares and Wyandots. Game was plenty for several years after the first settlement. The streams and ponds that are so numerous, had far more water than now. The general health was pretty good, considering that the climate was much damper than at present; the principal diseases were intermittent fevers and rheumatism, ague, and chills. The early labors of the husbandman were not attended with very good success; to account for this, we must consider that the implements of the farm were rude and imperfect—principally the tiller's own handiwork—and that the seeds first planted or sowed, were placed in ground but imperfectly cleared and partially covered with stumps and roots, and shaded by trees of larger growth, that had been decaying, but still retained their leaves. Hence the "soft" corn, water-soaked potatoes, and perhaps the sick and smut-stricken wheat, sources of general complaint among the early cultivators. The absence of foreign demand for produce during the first twenty years, offered no incentive to a production beyond family and neighborhood wants. Aside from the supply of such wants, there was no stimulus to agricultural enterprise. It is related, on good authority, of a merchant in Wooster, who had accumulated in store a considerable quantity of wheat, for which he had paid the farmers, as an especial favor, twenty-five cents per bushel in goods, that finding his grain would not pay cost of transportation to the lake markets, he transferred his wheat from the warehouse to the street, where it was partly devoured and trodden under foot of swine and other animals. Except spasmodic demands, explained among the narratives of the early settlers, the first encouragement the farmer of Holmes County received for growing grain, or domestic animals for market, was after the completion of the New York and Erie Canal, in 1825, and the opening of the Ohio Canal at Massillon, in 1827. Since then railroad facilities have been added.

The Cleveland, Mount Vernon, and Delaware Railroad was completed as far as Millersburg in 1854, and in 1873 was completed to Columbus; it is now called Cleveland, Mount Vernon, and Columbus Railroad. This road runs down the valley of the Killbuck as far as Oxford, and at that point leaves the Killbuck and follows the valley of Black Creek as far as Napoleon, and at this place leaves Black Creek. All along the railroad can be seen extensive hills, valleys, and rocks, which afford some of the finest scenery for the travelling public; and we feel free to say that no other railroad in this State can afford more pleasure and admiration to the travelling public than all along this line. The road also provides the people of this day a choice of markets, some of which give value to certain products of the farmers that in the times of the pioneers were worthless, securing to them remuneration in every department of agricultural enterprise, and consequent increase in the value of real estate far beyond the hopes of the first settlers of the country.

PIONEER LIFE OF THIS COUNTY.

We must confess to a feeling of veneration for the characters of those noble men who penetrated the wilderness and inaugurated civilization and its train of blessings in a region where savages and wild beasts had maintained undisputed empire. The scenes through which they passed are suggestive of rich fields for the genius of the poet and painter; fields that it is hoped may be hereafter occupied: would not the reader furnish a night scene for an artist where our friend, James Liggett, was reposing in his log cabin, his faithful dog, who always stood ready and willing to do his part as a protector, and the fire which always blazed at night a few feet distant from his hammock, his trusty rifle, supported by his left arm, the reptiles coiling upon the ground beneath him, the hordes of ravenous wolves, attracted by the venison, the savor of which during the process of cooking had impregnated the atmosphere around, stimulating their voracious appetites to a point of uncontrollable fury? Would not this and many kindred scenes described in the history of those times, constitute material worthy the genius of the best painter?

There is much embraced in the personal history of the pioneers that might interest the general reader, if space would permit me to give it more fully. All efforts at adornment of these narratives, however, would only impair their value. They are most attractive in the simplest form. No county settled at and prior to the date of the portion which now forms the State of Ohio, ever had but one race of pioneers; men who penetrated the wilderness, endured all the hardships incidental to its subjugation, and transmitted to their successors the comforts and conveniences of a high civilization. When this class of men pass off a given spot, they disappear for all time; the country which was first redeemed by them, will know them or their like no more forever. If the collection of materials for a history of this county had commenced earlier, it might have been made vastly more interesting and instructive, but the grave has closed over most of the men of that generation, and anything like a faithful and correct history of those times cannot now be produced.

The present generation might derive an instructive moral lesson by contrasting the privations and discomforts which beset the first settlers, with the happy circumstances by which they are surrounded; such contrast should inspire the latter with feelings of gratitude for the blessings which they now enjoy, and should stifle the disposition to complain, which has become almost as chronic with us, as it was with the ancient people who were fed with bread from heaven. In the social customs of our day, it may be doubted whether we have made improvement upon those of our ancestors: in days of yore friends and neighbors could meet together to enjoy themselves, and with hearty good-will enter into the spirit of social amusements. The old and young could then spend evening after evening around the fireside with pleasure and profit; there was a geniality of manners and a corresponding depth of soul to which modern society is unaccustomed. Our ancestors did not make a special invitation the only pass to their dwellings, and they entertained those who called upon them with a hospitality that has become almost obsolete. Guests did not assemble then to criticize the decorations, furniture, manners, and surroundings of those by whom they were invited; they were sensible people, and visited each other to enjoy themselves and promote the enjoyment of those around them; they had clear heads and warm hearts; they believed in the earnestness of life, and in the power of human sympathies. We may ignore obligations to the pioneer race, and congratulate ourselves that our lot has been cast in a more advanced era of mental and moral culture; we may pride ourselves upon the developments which have been made in science and art; but when we view our standard of elevation as immeasurably in advance of that of our forefathers, we should stop and consider if in all these assumptions we are not as we are in many other things that belong to our generation, "too fast."

The type of the Christianity of that period will not suffer by a comparison with that of our own day. If the people of the olden times had less for costly apparel and ostentatious display, they had also more for offices of charity and benevolence; if they had not the trappings and splendors of wealth, they had at least no infirmaries, and no paupers—very few lawyers, and very little use for jails. The command to "love thy neighbor as thyself" was then more faithfully observed than now. Has it never occurred to you, reader, that we may be largely indebted to the characteristics of our pioneer fathers for that vigor and valor which have stimulated their descendants to go forth and fight our country's battles? The vain and thoughtless may jeer at their unpretending manners, customs, and costumes; but in all the elements of true manhood and true womanhood, it may be safely averred that they were more than the peers of the generation that now occupy their places. That race has left its impress upon our times in more ways than one. Rude and illiterate, comparatively, they may have been; but they were undoubtedly men of strong minds in strong bodies, made so by their compulsory self-denial, and their privations and toil.

It was the mission of many of them to aid in the formation of our noble commonwealth, and wisely and well was that mission performed. Had their descendants been faithful to their teachings there would have been harmony now, where violence and discord reign throughout our land.

The "pioneer times" have the greenest spot in the memories of those who lived in them—their very privations and sufferings are consecrated things in the memory of the survivors, among whom are Oliver Shrempin, John Shrempin, Killbuck township; Edward Carpenter, Hardy township; James Liggett, Sen., Washington; Thornton Boling, Knox; John Corbus, Millersburg; Dr. E. K. Enos, Millersburg; Calhoun, Millersburg; Linus Chapman, Killbuck; Roswell Chapman, Killbuck; O. K. Chapman, Killbuck; Jacob Miller, German; David Troyer, German, and many others we could mention if space would permit, who have witnessed all the stages of our material development—the gradual redemption of our wilderness condition to our present full estate of national prosperity—and having by years of industry and economy gathered about them all the comforts and luxuries of modern life, are passing serenely the evening of their days in the place that witnessed the active life of their earliest and matured manhood. Their busy memories must often recur to the scenes of bygone days, and to the men of pioneer times.

The last two years have been peculiarly destructive of life among the aged. Twenty or more of the pioneers of our county have within that time been gathered to their fathers; the last will soon disappear from among us. May the present generation, who should be in the enjoyment of the fruits of the valor and toil of their predecessors, ever nourish a grateful sense of their obligations, and never omit opportunity to offer kindly ministrations to those who survive, and smooth their pathway to the tomb. May no neglect furnish occasion for a future poet to write the last of the pioneers in the spirit of Scott.

How much different is it at the present age to settle a new country with the modern improvements—something that the pioneers were deprived of fifty years ago, in the early settlement of this county. At the present rate of improvement we find cities that are built in one year, in the west.

Those who first settled the States and Territories north and west of us, themselves and families, stock of clothing, farming implements, merchandise, and abundant supplies of provisions, embracing even the luxuries of life, have conveyed from their transmontane home to within a stone's throw of their places of destination in the "far west," by means of the modern facilities which steam employs on natural and artificial channels, performing in a single day a distance which, fifty years since, would have occupied nearly or quite a month to accomplish. These transportations, too, were conducted on a scale of cost corresponding in reduced amount with the difference in time employed. Thus comparatively have time, space, and expense been equally annihilated by the magical improvements of the utilitarian era which has had its dawn since the first white settler commenced his improvement of the soil within our limits. Had anything essential to comfort been forgotten by the pioneer family of the country west of us, commerce met them almost at the doorway of their cabin, and supplied the needful commodity. The privations of the pioneer life as it formerly existed the accidental adventurer may have heard of his own experience. Pioneer life in the States and Territories west, as compared with that of Ohio, has been a mere holiday affair.

THE FARMERS OF HOLMES COUNTY

Are undoubtedly far in advance of many counties enjoying facilities superior in almost every regard for the development of those farming properties that attract most largely the public admiration. The industry of the people, the interest they take in all branches of husbandry, without particularizing, and the general interest manifested in matters of this kind, demonstrate quite plainly the front rank the citizens of Holmes County are determined she shall occupy in all that is conducive to the happiness of any people. While we are thus satisfied of her agricultural prosperity, in mineral resources Holmes County is among the first in the State. While her valleys yield bountifully to the labor of the husbandman, her hills are rich in coal, limestone, iron ore, fire-clay, and soapstone—the latter of which is used largely in the manufacture of rubber—also coal, which in itself is a source of boundless wealth, while it affords ample means of enlarging her business interest and giving scope to mechanical enterprise.

Since the completion of the Cleveland, Mt. Vernon, and Columbus Railroad, Millersburg has improved rapidly, and thrift is generally characteristic of every portion of the town. New buildings are springing up, and the click and clatter of machinery makes music that speaks well for the citizens of Millersburg. This town is situated in the midst of coal and iron that is in abundance, and will make a manufacturing town when thoroughly developed.

MECHANIC TOWNSHIP.

Township 8 of Ranges 7 and 6, the centre, is military land, and divided into the second and third quarters; the rest is Congress land. This township is hilly, the soil is fertile, producing good crops of wheat, oats, corn, hay, and potatoes, and fine fruit; coal underlies a great portion of the township; also, limestone, and sandstone for building purposes. It is well watered by numerous streams and springs. The Cleveland, Mount Vernon, and Columbus Railroad passes across the northwest corner.

GERMAN TOWNSHIP.

This is Township 8 of Ranges 5 and 4; 32 full sections and three half sections in this township. Farmerstown, on Section 13, is a small place, but an immense business is done by Mr. Smith in dry goods, groceries, and all kinds of farming implements. The township is in a high state of cultivation, soil fertile, producing good crops of all kinds of grain and fruit. Coal underlies a great portion of the township; also, iron ore of a very good quality.

SETTLEMENT OF GERMAN TOWNSHIP AND OF THE OMISH CHURCH.—Mr. Jacob Miller, in 1814, was among the first of the Omish, and in a few years Mr. David Troyer and others came, when they began to settle quite fast, and by their strict attention to business and honor in their dealings, they have grown in wealth until they own at least one-half of the township.

SALT CREEK TOWNSHIP.

North of the Indian boundary line are Townships 15 and 14 of Range 12; south of the line is Township 10 of Ranges 6 and 5, which is divided into quarter, third, fourth, and third. The township is in a good state of cultivation, improvements good, the surface rolling, the soil fertile, producing good crops of all kinds of grain and fruit. There is abundance of coal and limestone. The Cleveland, Mt. Vernon, and Columbus Railroad passes across the northwest corner. It was settled by Pennsylvanians, Germans, and French. They are a very industrious people. This township is bounded on the west by Prairie; south by Hardy and Berlin; east by Paint; north by Wayne County.

WALNUT CREEK TOWNSHIP.

Township 9 of Ranges 5 and 3, half sections Nos. 1, 2, and 3, are of Township 8 of Range 4. This township was first settled by Pennsylvanians and Germans. The surface of this township is rolling, the soil productive, producing excellent crops of wheat, oats, corn, potatoes, and fine fruit, wheat being the chief production. Coal underlies the most of the township; limestone on most all of the ridges.

HARDY TOWNSHIP.

This is Township 9 of Ranges 7 and 6, and has three quarters, first, second, and third; the balance is Government land. It is a township of very fine land in a high state of cultivation, like the rest of the county, producing all kinds of grain and excellent fruit. The surface is rolling; the coal beds are fine. This township produces annually many tons of coal, which is taken from Mr. Saunders' and Mr. Horri's Banks, $3\frac{1}{2}$ miles southwest of Millersburg, and Mr. Collier's Bank, northeast of Millersburg, the opening of which is on Mr. Wheaton's farm, in Prairie township. Limestone is in abundance, also iron ore and fire-clay. Big Killbuck runs through the centre of the township, the valley of which is mostly very fine rich land. Millersburg, the county seat, is 84 miles northeast of Columbus, on the Cleveland, Mt. Vernon, and Columbus Railroad, and 70 miles south from Cleveland, situated in the centre of the county and township, on the east side of Killbuck, on a fine elevation.

MONROE TOWNSHIP.

North of the Indian line is Township 17 of Range 14; south of the line is Township 9 of Range 8, and divided into quarters, first, second, third, and fourth. This township is west of Hardy, bounded on the south by Killbuck and Richland; on the west by Knox; on the north by Ripley and a portion of Prairie townships. There are no large streams in this, but it is well watered by numerous springs and small streams. The surface of this township is mostly rolling; a large part of it is underlaid with coal, limestone, iron ore, and fire-clay. The soil is productive. Its chief productions are wheat, corn, oats, clover, and timothy. It is also excellent for fruit.

KILLBUCK TOWNSHIP.

This is Township 8 of Ranges 8 and 7, and contains 30 sections. This township is bounded on the north by Hardy and Monroe; east by Mechanic; south by Coshocton County; west by Richland township. It is well watered by Killbuck, Black Creek, Wolf Creek, and Shrimplin's Run. This township is somewhat hilly, except along the streams there is some fine bottom land. The soil is good, producing fine crops of wheat, corn, oats, hay, and excellent fruit. Coal underlies the eastern and northern parts of the township; limestone in abundance on all of the ridges; fire-clay east of Oxford. The Cleveland, Mt. Vernon, and Columbus Railroad passes through this township. The Dresden branch road, now under construction, intersects the main road at the village of Oxford, which affords a good market for the products of the country. The Holmes County Coal Bank is in the east part, on Mr. Shepler's farm; the Hardy Bank is on Mr. Uhl's farm, in the north part of the township. Some of the first settlers of this township were, William, Abraham, and Oliver Shrimplin, who came from the State of Maryland and settled here in 1811; Moses Chapman came from Pike County, Pa., in 1822; John Carpenter in 1823; Andrew Enrick came from Somerset County, Pa., in 1814; Jacob Frey from Westmoreland County, Pa., in 1823. In 1812 the Indians were troublesome to the pioneers, and they all went back to Owl Creek except Abraham Shrimplin, who staid till the scare was over.

PRAIRIE TOWNSHIP.

North of the Indian boundary line are Townships 14 and 13 of Range 13; south of the line is Township 10 of Range 7 and 6; it contains small portions of the third, fourth, and third quarters. This township is well improved and in a high state of cultivation; the surface is undulating, the soil a sandy loam, with some excellent bottom land in the valleys, through which pass Big Killbuck, Salt Creek, and Paint Creek, producing fine crops of wheat, corn, oats, barley, hay, and fruit. Holmesville, the only village in the township, is situated about the centre, on the Cleveland, Mount Vernon, and Columbus Railroad, affording a good market for the produce and stock of the country. Coal abounds in the greater part of the township, and there are some very good banks opened.

PAINT TOWNSHIP.

North of the Indian boundary line are Townships 15 and 14 of Range 11; south of the line is Township 10 of Range 5 and 4, which is divided into the third, fourth, and third quarters. It was settled by Pennsylvanians, Germans, and French; they are a very industrious people; their improvements are good. The surface of the township is rolling, the soil fertile; wheat, oats, corn, and potatoes are raised in abundance, wheat being the chief production. Coal underlies the most of the township. Weinsberg is a very handsome village, and a place of considerable business. It is located near the centre of the township.

WASHINGTON TOWNSHIP.

This is Township 20 and 19 of Range 15. The part 20 formerly belonged to Lake township, Ashland County. The surface of this township is a gravelly loam; the northern part comparatively level; the southern rolling; and it is in a good state of cultivation, producing good crops of wheat, corn, oats, barley, hay, and fruit of all descriptions. The Pittsburg, Fort Wayne, and Chicago Railroad passes through the northern part of the township, affording a good market for the products of the surrounding country. This township has two villages, Nashville, in the southeast corner, and Lakeville, in the northeast, on the railroad at the outlet of Odell's Lake, which is noted for excursion and Sunday-school parties. This township is well watered by Lake Fork Creek, several small lakes, Crab Run, and numerous small streams and springs. Coal abounds in the southeast part. It is also an excellent township for all kinds of fruit. James Liggett, Sen., John Boling, and John Knox, Sen., were among the early settlers of this township. The old residence of T. C. Jeffries Mr. John Boling, the father of Thornton Boling, built in 1824. Jonathan Chapman was usually known as Johnny Appleseed. Many of the old orchards now in the northern part of Holmes County have trees which had their first growth in the forest-environed nurseries which he planted in 1802. He planted various nurseries throughout the western country; one of these orchards can be seen where James Liggett, Jr., resides.

RIPLEY TOWNSHIP.

This is Township 18 and 17 of Range 14; the part 18 formerly belonged to Clinton township, Wayne Co. It is a township of very fine land, in a high state of cultivation, in common with the rest of the townships of the county, and also of Wayne County on the north, producing large crops of wheat, corn, oats, and hay. The village of Big Prairie is in the northwest part of the township, on the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne, and Chicago Railroad; also at the head of Odell's Lake, of which a part is in this township, and the rest in Washington, which affords a good and current market for the produce of the surrounding country. Col. Crawford's Expedition to the Sandusky Plains in 1782 passed along the northern edge of this township by Odell's Lake, and encamped for the night at Butler's Spring, on the north side of Odell's Lake, about half way between Big Prairie and Lakeville stations. The first settlers of this township were mostly Pennsylvanians, with a few from New England. The surface is generally rolling, the soil in some parts clay, the balance a gravelly loam, but generally rich and productive. It is well watered by fine springs in various parts of the township. Coal abounds in the southwest part. This township is excellent for all kinds of fruit.

RICHLAND TOWNSHIP.

This is Township 8 of Range 9 and 8; 25 sections in Range 9; 10 sections in Range 8; 35 sections in all. It is bounded on the north by Monroe and Knox townships; east by Killbuck; south by Coshocton County; west by Knox County. This township, like Knox, is hilly, with some fine table land and some excellent bottom land in the valleys of Wolfe and Black Creeks. The soil is good, producing large crops of wheat, corn, oats, hay, potatoes, and buckwheat; also, very fine fruit. Like Knox, it is well watered by numerous springs and streams. The Cleveland, Mt. Vernon, and Columbus Railroad passes through this township, affording a good market for the products of the country. Napoleon is in the north part, on the railroad. Coal underlies Jones's and Dewitt's ridges. Limestone in abundance on those ridges.

KNOX TOWNSHIP.

This is Township 19 and 17 of Range 15 and 14, north of the Indian boundary line; south of the line is Township 9 of Range 9, and divided into quarters, first, second, and fourth. This township is located in the west part of the county, and bounded on the north by Washington and Ripley townships; east by Monroe; south by Richland; west by Knox and Ashland Counties. Mohican passes through the northwest, and Black Creek in the central portion; the head waters of Paint Creek in the northeast. This township is tolerably hilly, but the soil is productive, producing good crops of wheat, corn, oats, hay, and fruit. The township is well watered by numerous streams and springs. Coal underlies the central and northeast portion. There is some iron ore in this township; limestone in abundance on the ridges.

SOME OF THE PROGENY OF KNOX TOWNSHIP.—Esram Hughes, native of Maryland, settled in Knox township in 1818; he entered the land Mrs. Hughes now lives on: Mr. T. Odell, Mr. John Harris, and a Mr. Parcell.

The old Indian trail, called the Mohican, passed by the junction of Clear Fork and Lake Fork, Mohican; thence up Sigafos Run, and over the summit to Black Creek, and down this creek to Killbuck, and down the Killbuck bottom to Whitewoman, in Coshocton Co. The Indian village was on the farm which was entered by Solomon Sigafos in the fall of 1812, and he moved in the fall of 1813. He came from Bedford County, Pa., and lived to the good old age of 89. He had a family of twelve children: Mary Ann, Eliza, and Margaret were born in Pennsylvania; the rest, James, Sarah, Daniel, Lyda, William, Emily, John Wesley, Russell B., and Martha were born on the old home place, which is now owned by Mr. David Henry, who married the ninth child, Emily. Mr. Henry came from the State of New York in 1836. Mr. Abraham Melott married the third daughter, Margaret. Mrs. Sigafos, in the early days, would go on horseback to Mount Vernon to buy groceries, and make the trip in a day—a distance of fifty miles—and no road but an Indian trail. Mr. Sigafos would go to Zanesville, a distance of sixty-five miles, for salt and shoe-leather, most of the way no road but an Indian trail. The aforesaid Indian village stood just north of where Mr. David Henry's residence now is. There is an ancient mound about sixty rods west of where the old Indian village was. David Henry, Esq., was the first township assessor of Knox township.

FIRST ELECTIONS OF HOLMES CO.

On the 8th of June, 1825, the first election was held, and order was made by the Commissioner that the County Auditor be ordered to cause notice to be given in the following townships for elections to be held in the following townships: in township of Knox on the 10th day of September, 1825, at the house of Benjamin Adkison; in the township of Killbuck at the house of Bartholomew Husted, on the 10th Sept.; in Monroe township on the 10th, at the residence of William Conin. In Paint township the first election was held Sept. 10, 1825, at the residence of Jas. Jarvis: in Berlin township was held at the school-house at Berlin; in Walnut Creek on the 10th, at the residence of Yost Miller.

At that time all the new officers that were elected in the above-named townships were to take effect on and after the election, with the exception of the Supervisors, who were to retain their respective offices until a settlement could be made.

All the townships were organized in 1825 for civil purposes at the time of the organization of the county.

A survey of the county was first made in 1805, by Alex. Holmes and Wm. Culbush, A. Merchant, and Wm. Harris. A few school sections were surveyed by A. Merchant in 1831.

BERLIN TOWNSHIP.

This is Township 9 of Range 6 and 5, first, third, and fourth quarters; the balance is Congress land. It is a township of very fine land, in a state of good cultivation. Its surface is rolling and productive, and abundance of all kinds of grain is raised. There is plenty of coal and limestone. The village of Berlin is located on a beautiful site, and about the centre of the township, and is a fine thriving village, with dry-goods stores, groceries, wagon, blacksmith, and harness shops, etc.

OXFORD, KILLBUCK P. O.

Is located a little north of the centre of Killbuck Township, at the junction of the Dresden extension and the Cleveland, Mt. Vernon, and Columbus Railroads, and embraces within the neighborhood the requisite facilities for making it the seat of various manufactures. Minerals and coal are found in abundance. J. C. and Wm. Duncan have laid out two additions to the village, embracing 9 and 30 lots each, and fine lots for building purposes, and B. and J. Carpenter have laid out one addition to the village, also fine building lots. There are three dry-goods stores, one grocery and provision store, three blacksmith shops, one wagon shop, one furniture and hardware store, one undertaker, four physicians, one hotel, one flouring mill, called the Killbuck Mills, one planing mill, one saw mill; the mills belong to J. C. & Wm. Duncan. They are enterprising men; they gave the right of way for those railroads through their land and fifteen hundred dollars, and contracted and graded seven miles on the Cleveland, Mt. Vernon, and Columbus Railroad, and eleven miles of grading on the Dresden extension; also built the fair grounds at Millersburg.

W. J. COURTNEY.

The subject of this brief sketch is a native of Harford County, Md. He was born April 3d, 1821, and was the fifth son of Edward and Casandra Courtney, both natives of Harford County, Md. His grandparents were all natives of England. He emigrated with his parents to Ohio in 1827. They located in Stark County, where all around was one vast wilderness, nine miles south of what is now known as Alliance. He remained with his parents on the farm until the fall of 1841, when he repaired to Millersburg for the purpose of learning a trade. He engaged with J. G. Houk as an apprenticed saddler for two years, continuing for three years after as a journeyman, whereupon he purchased the entire establishment, at which business he continued till 1855, when he began photography, to which he still adheres. He was united in marriage to Miss Hannah M. Shaw, who was born in Millersburg, O., May 3d, 1829, on the 3d day of June, 1847. They have reared a family of nine children, five of whom are still living; two are married and live in Holmes County: Ocella E. to Mr. J. M. Appleton, Howard W. to Maria L. Autheridge; three remain at home. Mr. and Mrs. Courtney are faithful members of the Disciple Church at Millersburg, O. Mr. Courtney has been a strong supporter of the religious and educational interests of his country.

EDWARD SMITH, Esq.

Edward Smith, Esq., was born in Frederick Co., Va., on the 5th day of January, 1819. He moved with his parents to Jeromesville, Ashland County, O., in 1823. From thence moved to Holmes County in 1824, where he now resides. His first union with Miss Loticia Lee was blessed with one son. His second with Miss Martha J. Young with three sons and one daughter. His third with Miss Martha Young with six sons and three daughters. He is the father of fourteen children, ten of whom are still living; four died in infancy and rest in Heaven with their sainted mothers. Mr. Smith lives on lot 19, in Paint Valley, surrounded by his children and grandchildren. He is a faithful member of the Congregational Church, having been a class leader in the M. E. Church for fifteen years.

ROBERT JOHNSTON, Esq.

The subject of this sketch was born in Fayette County, Pa., in 1796. In 1822 he was united in marriage to Miss Mary A. Buchanan, of the same county. They immediately located in Monroe Township, Holmes County, Ohio. Here Mr. Johnston pursued the occupation of cooper and farmer, until he built the Paint Valley sawmill, which still stands on the old site, now owned by Miller & Hoy. God has blessed them with eight children, seven of whom are still living; one in Iowa, and another in Wooster, Wayne County, Ohio. One of whom, James Johnston, the author of this sketch had the pleasure of calling upon, and must say that his hospitality is inimitable. He had the kindness to show us eleven of the most perfectly preserved and interesting Indian relics it ever was our privilege to examine. Consisting of a genuine "pipe of peace," stone ornaments of the most elaborate workmanship, and tomahawks, darts, etc., forming one of the most interesting and valuable cabinets of specimens of workmanship of the red man of the forest. These specimens were gathered by the hand of our kind host during a life of industrious yeomanry. Mr. Andrew Johnston lives upon the old homestead with his aged mother. In this family society has found some of her most useful members, such as surveyors, farmers, machinists, and teachers. Mrs. Mary A. Johnston still lives upon the old homestead, blessing children and grandchildren, having attained to the ripe old age of 74 years. May the memory of this aged couple long be cherished, and may their good example shine as a beacon light to the rising generations.

SAMUEL DAVENPORT.

Samuel Davenport was born in Fayette County, Pa., on March 19th, 1803. He moved to Hamilton County, O., in 1830, from thence he moved to Wayne County in 1833, when 19 years of age. He was married to Rebecca Kimerer, of Va., in 1826. God blessed them with five children, three sons and two daughters; two boys are dead, and are resting in Heaven with their dear mother, who died in March, 1872. There are living Jacob in Indiana, Lovina and Hannah in Holmes County, Ohio, where now resides the subject of this sketch, who has reached the age of 71 years, surrounded by his children and great-grandchildren; still enjoying a remarkable degree of physical strength, suffering, however, from a loss of sight.

CHARLES ALLISON.

Charles Allison was born in Washington County, Pa., on May 29th, 1802. In 1826 he was united in marriage to Miss Jane Crane, of the same county. They moved to Holmes County, O., in 1834, on the quarter now owned by David Allison, three-quarters of a mile northwest of Centerville in Monroe Township. Their union was blessed with seven children, one son and six daughters, two of whom are living, David and Mamie; David on lot 10 in Monroe Township, and Mamie with her aged mother in Centerville, Monroe Township. Charles Allison departed this life in April, 1869, in his 66th year, leaving a widow and six children and a large circle of friends to mourn the loss of a faithful husband, kind father, good neighbor, and devoted Christian.

JOHN MILLER, Esq.

John Miller was born in Beaver County, Pa., in 1802. He moved to Ohio in 1820, and located in Monroe Township, Holmes County, where he remained for eleven years. He was united in the holy bonds of wedlock to Miss Sarah Bell in December. The following spring he located on the farm now occupied by his widow and two of his sons, William and Albert, where he lived the life of an industrious yeoman, until the great I AM called him home to reap the rewards of a faithful husband, kind father, and devoted Christian. Mr. and Mrs. Miller were faithful members of the U. P. Church in Hardy Township for twenty-five years. God blessed his union with the object of his choice with ten children, four of whom are still living; two in Cedar County, Iowa. The other two live on the old homestead with their aged mother; useful members of society, industriously and faithfully pursuing the footsteps of their lamented father.

JOHN L. RIGGS.

The subject of this sketch was born in Vermont on the 27th of January, 1794. He was united in marriage to Miss Sarah Foster, on the 29th of April, 1818, in Stockholm, N. Y., by Rev. Hiram S. Johnson, of Hopkinton. He is the father of eight children, two of whom are dead; six are still living, one in Iowa, two in Indiana, two in Ohio, and one in Pennsylvania. Mr. Riggs entered a large tract of land situated on Black Creek, in Knox township, upon which he reared his log cabin, amid the wilderness of the western forest. Only one or two human beings lived within miles of this pioneer's cabin. He was a hardworking honest yeoman, working at night to earn the money with which to purchase books. He was a teacher in public schools, and was a ready and able quoter of the Bible, a constant reader of its sacred pages, and drew daily food from it constantly. Before his death he made the following distribution of his vast estate: 73 acres of which he willed to his adopted daughter, Mary Jane; 43 acres to Elizabeth; 66 to Richard M.; to the others he gave large sums of money at different times, thus assisting all his children to make a start in the world, reserving till his death the old homestead, consisting of 163 acres, which he willed to his grandchild, Enoch M. P. Riggs, whom he raised from infancy, who took care of him until death released him of all pain. John L. Riggs departed this life in the 76th year of his age, on the 5th day of January, 1871.

JOHN VANCE.

The subject of this sketch was a native of the State of Pennsylvania. He was born in Fayette County in 1820, on New Year's Day. From thence he moved to Ohio with his parents in 1825, who settled on the farm in Knox Township, familiarly known now as the old Vance place. He was united in the holy bonds of wedlock on the 27th of September, 1845, to Miss Mary Hughes, of Knox Township, Holmes County, Ohio, who was born on the 18th day of March, 1827. His union with the object of his choice was blessed with six children, five daughters and one son; all of whom are still living; Sophronia A. and Lydia R. being married, and are honored and useful members of society. Emma M., Millie J., Ida V., and Joseph all remain with their mother, who lives upon lot 3 in Knox Township.

Mr. Vance departed this life on the 30th day of October, 1870, in his 48th year, leaving a widow, six children, and a large circle of friends to mourn the loss of a faithful husband, kind father, good neighbor, and devoted Christian. Mr. and Mrs. Vance were faithful members of the M. E. Church in Knox Township for about twenty-five years.

NOAH COX.

The subject of this sketch was a native of Coshocton County, Ohio; born in 1812. In September, 1846, he was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to the object of his choice, Miss Susan Lepley, of Knox County, who was born in 1823. This pioneer couple settled upon the farm now known as the old Bird farm in Monroe Township, lot 1, S. E. corner of section 3, upon which stands one of the oldest residences in Monroe Township. Here, in this old picturesque stone castle, have gathered the aged, the young, and the gay, where joy, happiness, and peace have abounded for nearly half a century.

In this ancient and picturesque structure, which presents to the eye of the weary traveller an appearance at once interesting and inviting, the author of this sketch found not only rest and refreshment, but congenial and interesting companionship. Late at night we bade our host and his excellent family good night and sought a night of quiet repose, which none but a weary civil engineer knows how to appreciate. We found the hospitality of this exemplary family irresistible.

The union of Mr. Cox with the object of his choice was blessed with eight children, seven of whom are still living, and useful members of society. The other one awaits the gathering of the family in that home where separation will be known no more. Mr. and Mrs. Cox, with some older members of the family, adhere to the Protestant Methodist Church. God has blessed them abundantly in wealth, health, and peace.

EDWARD BEALL.

Mr. Edward Beall was born October, 1816, in Wayne County, Ohio. He settled in Holmes County in Monroe Township in 1843. He was united to his present wife, Mrs. Catharine Kanaval, who was born in 1831, in Lebanon County, Pa., in September, 1872. He is the father of nine children, six of whom are living; three are sleeping the sleep that knows no waking. Mr. and Mrs. Beall live upon the old place familiarly known as the Barton place, situated three-quarters of a mile east of Centerville in Monroe Township.

WILLIAM MURRY, Esq.

William Murry was born in Alleghany County, Pa., in 1828; moved to Ohio in 1833. He was married to Miss M. J. Moreland, of Va., in 1856. God has blessed them with six children, five of whom are living. They are both members of the Presbyterian Church. May they ever be prosperous, and may their children grow up useful members of society.

JOHN PHILLIPS.

Mr. John Phillips was born April 6th, 1806, in Washington County, Pa. He was united in marriage to Miss Hester Crane, in 1828, who was born July 20th, 1811. They moved to Ohio in 1835, on lot 19, near Centerville, Monroe Township, when all around was one vast wilderness. God has blessed them with nine children, four boys and five girls. Two boys are living in Iowa, and two are dead. Four girls are living in Holmes County, O.; the other one is resting with her brothers in the quiet churchyard. Mr. and Mrs. Phillips are faithful members of the Disciple Church. About twenty grandchildren surround them, honoring them only as those are honored who win our respect and love by a consistent Christian life.

GEOLOGICAL DESCRIPTION OF HOLMES COUNTY, OHIO.

A minute and accurate description of the topography of Holmes County would require much more time and labor than can be given to the examination of this work. An irregular succession of high hills and deep ravines occupy the surface, and that can be reduced to a system only in the most general way. The valley of the Killbuck divides the county into two nearly equal portions, on each side of which the hills gradually rise to the altitude of from four to five hundred feet, and then as gradually descend, on the east toward the valley of the Tuscarawas, and on the west toward that of the Mohican. Innumerable creeks and rivulets emptying into these streams, interlocking in the most irregular manner, cover the face of the country. These water-courses flow through narrow alluvial valleys or deep gorges, which separate the high hills that compose the greater part of the surface. This succession of hills and ravines exhibits continuous exposure of all the rocks of the lower coal measures, and in no part of the State can their character and relations be more satisfactorily studied. The soil is generally a light, pliable, calcareous loam, in the valleys rich in vegetable matter, and everywhere well adapted to the growth of wheat. On the hills, in some places, the surface is covered with rocks, the debris of the coal sandstones, so as to be entirely unfitted for cultivation. But a dense forest covers these rocky slopes, and the soil was originally everywhere rich. Continuous cultivation has had its usual result in a largely diminished productiveness; but the means of restoring the fertility of the soil are easily obtained in the limestones, which crop out in every township, and by a proper use of them and of clover for soiling, the land can readily be made to equal or exceed its original productiveness in the great staple of the county.

The drift in the central and western parts of the county, evidence of drift action, is marked and abundant. Granite boulders are scattered over the surface, and along the valley of the Killbuck are heavy deposits of coarse gravel, which, in places, are being cemented into a hard conglomerate through the action of lime-water constantly percolating through them. The natural valley in which the Cleveland, Mt. Vernon, and Columbus Railroad is located from Akron, Summit County, to Millersburg, and of which the Killbuck forms a part, is distinguished from the country on each side of it by the abundance and coarseness of the drift material which it contains. One cannot easily resist the conclusion that this, near the close of the drift period, was one of the channels by which the waters of the lake basin found their way into the valley of the Ohio. A high divide, running irregularly from Berlin through Weinsburg to Dundee, appears to mark the limit of the drift action in the eastern part of the county. On the north, and to near the top of this ridge, on its northern slope, scattered granite boulders are to be seen; but we have yet found none upon its summit, nor to the northeast of it, within the limits of the county. Outside of the valley of the Killbuck the drift deposits are everywhere shallow, and the soil is composed almost entirely of the debris of the local rocks.

GEOLOGICAL STRUCTURE.—The lowest rocks observed in the county belong to the Waverly Group, the ravines in places cutting down fully two hundred feet into this formation. It covers the greater part of Washington township, and on Lot 8 the Lozier quarries furnish heavy stone of very fair quality, which is shipped for bridge building and other purposes, to the adjoining counties. From twelve to fifteen feet of this quarry is composed of hard, fine stone, in layers varying from two to four feet in thickness, with from six to twelve inches of siliceous iron ore at the bottom. The quarry is, by barometrical measurement, one hundred and seventy feet below the base of the thin deposit of conglomerate which caps the hills in this part of the township. The Waverly forms the base of all the hills in Knox and Richland townships, is exposed through the whole length of the valley of Black Creek, in Shrimplin's Run, from near the coal, in Monroe township, to its mouth, in the valley of Paint Creek, in Monroe and Prairie townships, in the bluffs forming both banks of the Killbuck, and on all the larger streams emptying into the Killbuck on both sides of it.

The abundance of building stone covering the surface derived from the coal measure sandstones has prevented any special attention being given to the Waverly. Good stone can probably be obtained from it should the demand hereafter warrant special exploration. Near the bottom of a long ravine on Thomas Owen's land, in Knox township, a layer of the Waverly is exposed, which is apparently true Berea grit, and which might be explored with the probability of disclosing material for valuable grindstones. South of Taylor's coal bank, in Knox township, in the Waverly, about ten feet below the base of the coal measures, is a deposit, two or three feet thick, of yellow hydrated oxide of iron, which, by burning, assumes all shades from yellow to a deep dark red, and which will evidently make a good mineral paint. It is exposed by stripping, but an opening into the hill would probably give a good roof; so that if, on trial, it proves as valuable as its external appearance indicates, it could be taken out with facility and in large quantities. It deserves to be carefully and thoroughly tested. A thin band in the Waverly on Paint Creek, in Prairie township, is filled with water-worn quartz pebbles similar to those of the conglomerate, and in other places patches and bands of pebbly Waverly may be seen. The sandstones of the coal measures in this part of the State also frequently contain similar pebbles, although of smaller size, and in more moderate quantities; so that care is required to avoid mistaking the true horizon of the pebbly sandstones.

The conglomerate appears above the Waverly in Prairie township, on both sides of the Killbuck, on the banks of Paint Creek, reaching a maximum thickness of eighteen feet. It caps the hills above Lozier's quarry, in Washington township, but is here so broken up and covered that its thickness cannot be accurately determined. The lithological characters of this deposit are here quite peculiar. It contains large quantities of broken, angular fragments of white and yellow chert, with a profusion of fossils, which, we understand, Mr. Meek decides to belong to the carboniferous formation. If so, they point to the deposition of a subcarboniferous limestone, which has been cut out and removed by the agencies which brought in and deposited the materials of the conglomerate. Small fragments of precisely similar cherty material we have found at the base of the conglomerate at Nelson ledges, in Portage County. In the larger part of the county the conglomerate is entirely wanting, being represented in places by a thin layer of coarse sandstone without pebbles; sometimes by hard, compact, white siliceous rock, a few inches in thickness, and filled with stigmaria; while at other places the coal measures are seen resting directly on the Waverly.

About a mile and a half south of the conglomerate above Lozier's quarry, in Washington township, the coal measures are at least one hundred feet below the level of this conglomerate, while no corresponding dip of the strata in that direction is observed. It would seem, therefore, that the conglomerate, and a large part of the upper portion of the Waverly, was here cut out and removed before the deposit of the coal measures.

COAL No. 1.—Above the Waverly, or the conglomerate where the latter is found, appears coal seam No.

1, or the block coal, ordinarily resting upon a bed of fire-clay, and sometimes separated from the sandstones below by a few feet of shale. It may be seen in many places west of the Killbuck, in the territory south of Paint Creek, and north of Black Creek, the most productive coal region of the county. On the east of the Killbuck it has been mined on Mr. Cameron's land, in the south part of Prairie township; also on Mr. Wheaton's; and the shale which accompanies it may be identified in the ravine north of the Shepler or Holmes County Co. bank. At Smith's bank, in the northern part of Monroe township, it reaches a thickness of four feet, is a true block coal of fair quality, and reasonably free from sulphur. It inclines to break up in small pieces, is quite rusty, and of rather uninviting appearance. The blacksmiths do not like it, as they prefer a softer and more melting coal. As their opinion, where little coal is mined, is potent in determining the reputation of different coals, that from this opening has not had the valuation it deserves.

At Motz's bank, in the northwest part of Monroe township, Coal No. 1 is three feet thick, hard, bright, and of good quality. It rests upon a compact fire-clay, said to be nine feet. Between the coal and the overlying sandstone are only two to four inches of highly carbonaceous shale. The sandstone is strong, unbroken, and would readily admit of working chambers eighteen to twenty-five feet square.

On Stephen R. and Washington Williams's land, near the centre of Monroe township, this coal is a little over three feet thick, resting on the fire-clay and capped with dark, bituminous shale. It is a block coal of fair quality, but has not been sufficiently opened to determine accurately its character. The best exposure is so nearly on the level of an adjacent stream that the water would be troublesome unless a lower opening can be found. At James Martin's bank, north, and in the same township, it is two feet thick, hard, bright, compact, a semi-block coal, but containing much sulphur. Above it are ten feet of hard, dark, sandy shale. On John and Charles Steele's land, north of Judge Ammer's, in Hardy township, it is two feet three inches thick, in three benches, roof of massive bituminous black shale. Coal semi-bituminous and with much sulphur. It has been opened only to a distance of a few feet, and the seam is said to be increasing in thickness and improving in quality. At John Cary's, west of the Killbuck and near Millersburg, it is also two feet three inches thick, in three benches separated by sulphur seams, and of no value. The sand rock rests directly upon the coal. The outcrop of this seam can be seen in the ravine on B. Carpenter's land, near the east line of Monroe township, and in various other places. Over more than half the county the deep ravines are below its horizon, and it will doubtless be found in many other places.

The shales above this coal vary from a few inches to fifteen feet in thickness, and in places are entirely wanting, the sandstone resting directly on the coal. It is probable that they were originally deposited of a nearly uniform thickness, and that the agencies which brought in the coarse material of the sandstone have cut down and removed the shale, doubtless carrying away also, in places, the entire coal seam.

From ten to thirty feet above Coal No. 1 is a local deposit of coal and iron ore, which we have been able to trace over a large part of the county west of the Killbuck. The best exposures of it are on Loonst Lick Run, on Mr. Allison's land, in the west part of Monroe township. The Hardy and Mr. Saunders's banks, and on Shaffer's land west of Nashville, it consists of ten to twelve inches of cannel coal, and a bituminous coal below it, with a band of hard, massive iron ore between the benches of coal. The iron ore is, in some places, highly bituminous, resembling a compact black band; in other places it is calcareous or aluminous. It is reported in some localities as four feet thick. In some places one or both benches of coal disappear, and are represented by layers of carbonaceous shale. It will ultimately become an important element in this very rich mineral region.

COAL No. 2.—Shales, ordinarily varying from fifteen to thirty feet in thickness, separate the above from Coal No. 3, the iron-ore coal, from its local character, not being numbered. In the south part of Knox township these shales are nearly one hundred feet in thickness, exceeding, largely, their usual development. This seam rests upon six to ten feet of white fire-clay, apparently quite pure and of excellent quality. It is capped with sandy shale, in places passing into a shaly sandstone, which at too frequently becomes massive and contains nodules of siliceous iron ore. In the northern part of Killbuck township this seam is seven feet thick, a hard, compact, semi-cannel coal, reasonably free from sulphur. It is a fair domestic fuel, and an excellent locomotive coal. The outcrop of this seam may be seen in the ravines near Mr. Glasgow's, in Knox township; on Steele's and Judge Ammer's, in Hardy township; also, in Killbuck township; below Mast's bank, in Prairie township; and, we think, in most all of the townships of the county. Near New Carlisle its outcrop is in the bed of Walnut Creek, and throughout the eastern part of the county it is exposed only in the deepest ravines.

COAL No. 3.—The sandy shales and sandstones lie between this seam and Coal No. 5. The blue limestone seams are ordinarily from forty to fifty feet thick, but, in places, reach a thickness of from eighty to ninety feet. This coal seam attains a workable thickness over a larger part of the county than any other, and, in places, affords coal of an excellent quality. It is very liable to be split up into separate seams by clay and shale partings, which detract much from its value and render many openings quite worthless. The blue limestone above it is so persistent as to contribute one of the best landmarks in studying the geology of the county, but it is sometimes wanting, a highly calcareous shale containing the characteristic fossils of the limestone taking its place; and sometimes it is separated from the coal by several feet of shale. It is generally cherty, and in some places assumes the character of a burr stone. It is often found in large conical blocks, and sometimes with mud seams filling the joints. When this is the case, and it rests directly upon the coal, it makes a troublesome roof, and sometimes one that is quite unmanageable.

Ellis Mast's mine, in Hardy township, and Joseph Collier's, in Prairie township, have a firm limestone roof, admitting of chambers fifty to eighty feet wide, timbered only along the railway. Coal hard, bright, and of good quality. The following is a section of the coal stratum: limestone, 4 feet; coal, 20 inches; fire-clay, 8 inches; coal, 2 feet to 2 feet 10 inches; black shale, 20 inches; cannel coal, 1 foot. An opening on Leonard Matthews's land shows: limestone, 3 feet; coal, 4 feet—upper half, cannel; lower, semi-cannel; fire-clay, 8 to 10 inches; compact drab calcareous shale, with the shells of blue limestone, 1 foot. At Henry Harger's sawmill, in Paint township, the outcrop shows four to five feet of coal—upper part bituminous, lower cannel. In Mechanic township this coal is from seven to eight feet thick, a true cannel coal; has been exposed by boring and drifting, but is not worked.

The outcrops of Coal No. 8 are found in every township, and upon the slopes of almost every hill; but only a very small fraction of them having been sufficiently explored to determine their character and value.

IRON ORE.—Just above this horizon are deposits of COAL No. 6.—At an average of forty-five feet above the gray limestone is found the Saunders's, Horn's, and Shepler's banks, which occur in all the higher hills of the county. It is from this seam that the coals of the county are most widely known, and from which a large part of the coal mined in the county will, probably, be taken for many years to come.

On the Killbuck Coal and Mining Company's pro-

COAL No. 7.—The sandstone above the Saunders coal is generally massive, reaches a thickness varying from thirty to ninety feet, and forms one of the most prominent features of the geology of the county. In places it is shown in bold, abrupt cliffs, and in others its debris, in large masses, so covers the slopes of the hills as to entirely unfit them for cultivation. It marks accurately the horizon of Coal No. 6 below it, and of No. 7, the Taylor seam, above it. The latter is an excellent block coal, containing a small percentage of ash, and but little sulphur. At Taylor's bank, in Knox township, it is from four to six feet thick, with a shale roof, and fire-clay beneath. Its outcrop may be traced in the hills in the neighborhood of the Taylor mine, in the hills east and northeast of the Holmes County Company's entry, and in the hills northwest of Salfilio. Under Berlin village it is shown to be three feet thick, of good quality, and so far from the surface as to warrant the expectation that it may be mined with profit. The sandstone overlying the shale

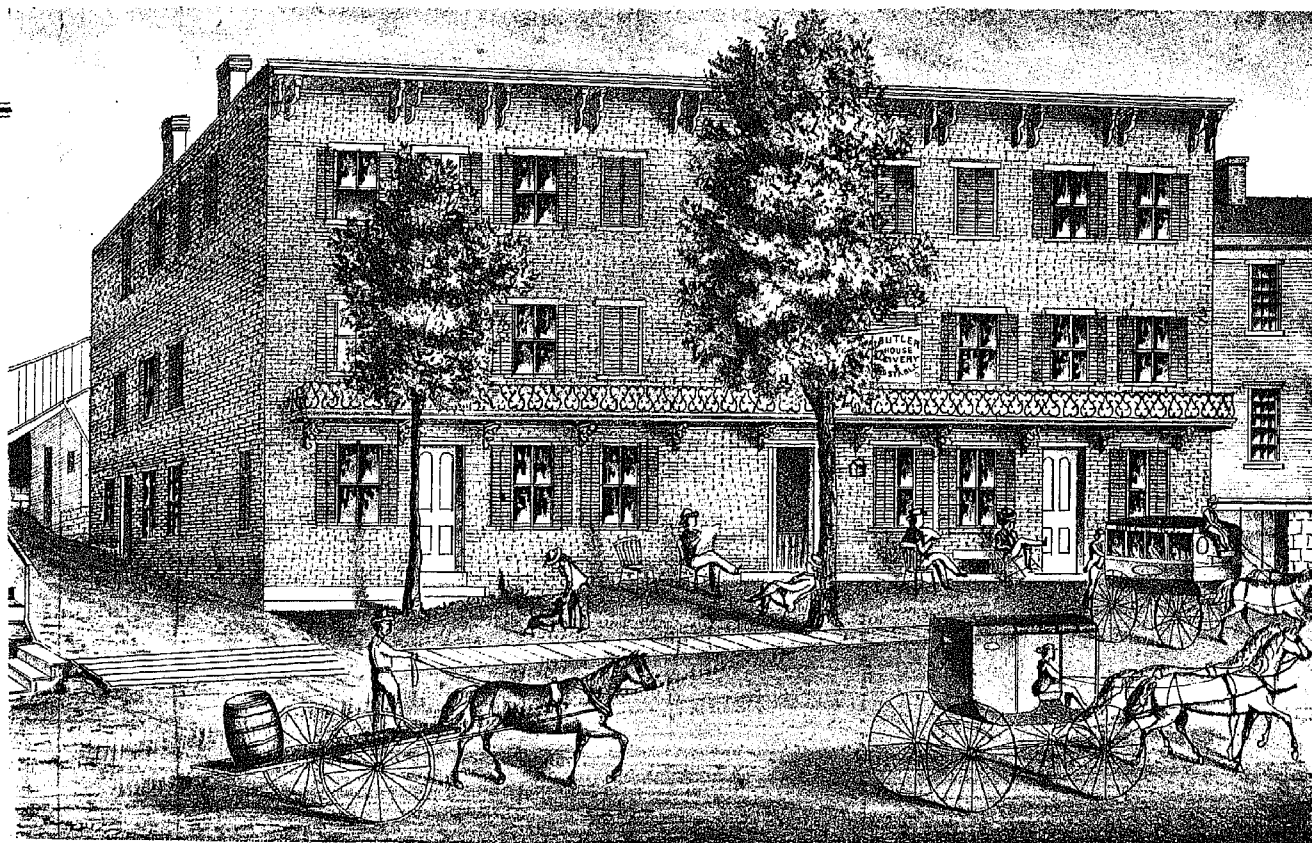

Holmes County will afford many places where the fire-clay and the fuel can be taken out together in quantities practically inexhaustible, and in close proximity to railroads either built or projected. Such facilities for the manufacture of pottery and fire-brick cannot long be overlooked.
