INTRODUCTION

In 1857 John F. Geil produced the first wall map of Lorain County which showed physical features such as rivers and swamps, township and village boundaries, roads and railroads and most importantly, farm lot boundaries with the acreage and names of farm owners. The borders of the map were embellished with maps of the villages, tables of statistics and distances and a picture of the county's Court House in Elyria.

The townships were printed in varied colors in the manner of old geography books which showed states and countries in different colors. The color on the township borders was deeper, and this proved to be a problem later when it developed that some of these colored borders turned black when photocopied!

Since few of these original 1857 maps can be found, the Lorain County Chapter-OGS embarked upon a project to index all of the names on the map, and then to reproduce it by township in the form of an atlas. As a first step the map held by the Lorain County Historical Society was photographed in sections, but this did not prove to be satisfactory due to the colored borders.

It was discovered that the Lorain County Engineer possessed a copy of the 1857 map that had been cut apart with the townships on separate pages. Unfortunately, over the years new railroads, new subdivisions and other new features had been added to the original in an attempt to keep it "up-to-date". When it was found that the Library of Congress held an 1857 map that had been cut into six sections for photo reproduction, these were purchased.

From all of these sources the Project Chairman, Frank Nesbit, has chosen the map which most clearly represents each township as it existed in 1857. In some cases added features had to be removed, in others the colored borders were replaced. Due to the variety of base maps and problems in copying them the resulting maps do not have a standard scale of distances; some still retain features that were added later; and in some cases there are even variations in owners' names!

Using the County Engineer's book, Jim Rice of Spectrum Printing produced copies of the problem maps on different machines and at several scales. These were invaluable in making the final selection. Every bit of the original map from the title to the added border material was utilized in the present work. DCK
