.. PREFACE ..

In presenting this Atlas to the public we do so in the knowledge that no time nor pains have been spared to make it as complete and interesting as possible.
Conscious that no doubt defects and errors may be discovered in the Biographical department, which has been added as an interesting and historical feature, yet we believe the intelligent reader will appreciate the difficulties encountered in preparing such a work, where absolute perfection is almost impossible. It has been our aim to make the Atlas educational, historical, and entertaining, and with that end in view the material has been carefully collected, compiled and presented in as attractive a form as "the art preservative" can make it.

VIEW OF MERCER COUNTY COURT HOUSE, CELINA, OHIO.

VIEW OF MERCER COUNTY INFIRMARY.

VIEW OF PUBLIC SCHOOL, CELINA, OHIO.
Celina.

Celina, the county seat of Mercer county, is a thriving city of 3,500 inhabitants, centrally located on the northwest corner of Lake Mercer, the largest artificially made body of water in the world. Enjoying the best railroad facilities, the inhabitants progressive and sociable, it is a most desirable little city in which to reside. Celina was founded by James W. Riley, in 1854. In August of that year Mr. Riley, together with Peter Aschenbaugh, R. W. Stevens, and Robert Linnse, entered into articles of agreement in which each paid in one hundred dollars for the purpose of purchasing land in the center of Mercer county to lay out a town to be called Celina. The name of Celina was originated by Mr. Riley during a journey to New York, to have a map of the town lithographed. While on this trip he stopped at Celina, Onondaga county, New York, and, impressed by the similarity of the locations of the two towns, the one at the head of a natural lake and the other at the head of an artificial lake, so by changing the orthography confusion of post offices was avoided. The industries of Celina at that time was limited to but one saw mill, which had been erected near the reservoir for the purpose of sawing out lumber to build the enlargement and the erection of a court house by the town proprietors. There was only one store in town, that owned by Mr. Riley, in which the clerk's office; this building was located just south of the public square. The inhabitants of Celina at that time were scarcely fifteen families. There were two hotels in the town, one, a frame, kept by Franklin Linnse, on the corner of Main and Warren streets, and a two-story log house kept by Mr. Simms, on the corner of Sugar and Warren streets. The town stood in all their native grandeur and mud and water was everywhere. A novel method was resorted to clear the town of its trees. A chopping bee was inaugurated at which over seventy expert woodsmen were in attendance, and in squads of fifteen they felled the giants of the forest with wonderful rapidity. The men began chopping on the corner of Buckingham and Market streets, and filled all the timber south of Market street to the west line of the town plat.

The settlement then began to take on the aspect of the town. The soil dried up the mud and water and the grass came shooting up. The public square, containing five acres, heavily timbered, was next cleared away and the erection of a court house followed, in 1854, on the northeast corner of Main and Livingston streets, which was finished in time for the spring term, at which Judge Holt presided. By this time the little village had begun to improve. Two brick buildings had been erected by Mr. Beach and Benjamin Linnse. The town had grown to such proportions that in 1851 another court house was built, two stories in height, the court room being in the second floor and the lower floor occupied by the officers. In September, 1855, the commissioners built an office of brick for the treasurer. In 1867 the present court house was built. The county offices at that time were: Commissioners, A. Baker, G. Meyers and William Clay; auditor, S. S. Snyder; probate judge, R. G. Blake; clerk, J. W. Ford; treasurer, Christopher Schunk; recorder, T. G. Touche, and sheriff, H. L. Johnson. In 1875 the present jail was built. The old court house was used as a city building for sometime and was totally destroyed by fire in 1884. In 1895 the handsome city building was built by Messrs. Krensch & Fanger. The city officials were: Mayor, Joseph H. May; clerk, C. C. Gable; treasurer, H. F. Juneman; council, B. M. Clan-Dining, W. J. Maholman, F. J. H. Landahin, G. W. Winter, D. F. Piper and C. Scholoser. The present Council of Celina is composed of good, sound-minded, fearless, honest and trustworthy men. The Mayor, the Clerk and Treasurer are all elected from an equal sized grid square business men. The people claim the Short Commissioner, Harry E. Niehaus keep clean the streets and crossings, and Marshall Thomas House the sidewalks. Celina can well be proud other public buildings, which are at once the admiration of envy of her sister towns. Her churches are imposing edifices of worship and prayer and her public schools rank as high as any city of its size in the state.

THE INFIRMARY.

Over the hills to the poor house is not a pleasing thought, yet the dread of having to live at the county home is somewhat lessened when it is known that that home is which all the modern improvements for the comfort of men or women are to be found and under the charge of a kind-hearted superintendent. The Mercer county infirmary is just such a home as above alluded to. It is located about two miles west of Celina, on a beautiful spot of ground, presenting a perfect picture, as the buildings raise their stately heads from a knoll, and the green fields and long winding lanes spread out in refreshing grandeur. The first building was erected in 1865, and in 1873 there was added an additional brick structure. In 1893 another brick building, built especially for the male inmates was added. These buildings contain all the modern improvements and are heated with gas. The barns and outbuildings are equally modern in structure. The infirmary farm contains three hundred and twenty acres of as fine land as there is in the county, all but twenty acres being under cultivation. The hogs, cattle and hogs raised are all of fine breed and finely cared for. The farm is almost entirely self-supporting and there is no special levy made, the only support derived from the county is through the Dow tax. There are on an average fifty inmates yearly. That this number should be supported with so little expense to the county reflects the greatest of credit on the directors, who are James F. Timmoons, Ed. Bibble and Herman Ruhman, and Superintendent Mike Reusch. The present superintendent has been identified with the infirmary for a number of years, having commenced work there under Superintendent Schunk in 1884, afterwards with Superintendent Partner until his death, when the directors elected Mr. Reusch superintendent. He has proven an efficient and faithful servant.

CELINA PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

In 1857 a young man looking for a location visited Celina. It was February, the weather cold, roads rough, and after traveling on horseback all day he finally reached the county seat of Mercer county. After partaking of supper at the hotel and while sitting in front of the huge fireplace he interrogated his landlord. Among other questions were the two following: "How many churchers in this place?" "None. One was begun some years ago but nothing has been done at it lately. They talk of finishing it next year." "How many school houses have you?" "None. We had a little brick one but it fell down last year." The young adventurer thought "My me! a county seat without a church or school house." At that time and until the fall of 1859, school was taught in various buildings, chiefly in the old Presbyterian church on east Fayette street. Usually two teachers were employed in the winter season and one in the summer. In 1859 a school house containing four rooms was built and two teachers employed. This house answered the purpose for more than a dozen years. In February, 1874, the board of education resolved to dismiss school early that spring to erect additions to the school houses. The building was that year enlarged to one of twelve rooms and was occupied at the beginning of the next school year. To pay for the building bonds were issued in the sum of twenty-four thousand, eight hundred and ninety-two dollars. Several years after the bonds were refunded and were finally paid off in 1895. In 1877 the board designated the school as follows: Primary, numbers one and two; intermediate, number three; grammar, numbers four and five, and high school, number six. In 1894 another school house was erected in the east side of town, the building having been built and occupied in the west side. This new educational building cost thirteen thousand and thirty-four dollars. The Celina public schools employ sixteen teachers, with P. C. Zemer, as superintendent. The board of education is now composed of: Hon. T. J. Godfrey, president; S. J. Vining, secretary; L. D. Bromm, treasurer; J. F. Timmoons, R. H. Brown and A. W. Fieldsbaugh. During all these years the Celina schools have maintained an onward, steady movement, and now the grades have just doubled themselves as compared with the grade in 1877. They are classed as among the best in the state and a diploma from the high school receives as much recognition from the leading colleges in Ohio as one from the schools in the larger cities. In 1890 a class of twelve graduated and a class of fifteen is expected to graduate in 1900.
IMMACULATE CONCEPTION PAROCHIAL SCHOOL, CELINA, OHIO.

About the year 1876 Rev. Father Theophilus Wittmer built the first parochial school on the corner of Walnut and Wayne streets, of which school he was the principal agitator. He succeeded in erecting a building 36 x 40 feet and two stories high, which building now serves for the parsonage of the Immaculate Conception congregation. Father Wittmer was the first principal and Sister Mary Minster was the first principal, assisted by another sister teacher. The school was prepared under the management of Father Wittmer and the good Sisters that in 1888 Father Andrew Giedl, who had succeeded Fathers Wittmer and Godfrey Schlachter, was compelled to build the present large and capacious building, where two hundred and fifty children now receive their education.

At present the school is under the management of Father George Himelvang, as superintendent, and Sister Mary John as principal. There are five teachers engaged in instruction and each one seems especially endowed for the special grades they teach. It is an excellent force and they do excellent work.

At the Mercer county fair this school applied or entered for six prizes. They received four red cards that is, first, prizes and two second prizes; getting a prize for everything they entered. This is evidence of the good work that is done at the schools of the Immaculate Conception congregation.

Since the establishment of the school the following pastors of the congregation were its superintendents, to wit: Father Wittmer, Rev. Father Godfrey Schlachter, Rev. Father Andrew Giedl, Rev. Father William Huns, Rev. Father Philip Hartman, Rev. Father Dominic Shunk, and the present superintendent, Rev. Father George Himelvang, all fathers of the Society of the Most Precious Blood.

The following sisters of the Most Precious Blood were in actual charge of the schools or rooms as principals, to wit: Sisters Mary Minster, Rosa Nagelstein, Alphonsa Shunk, Frances Vergilist and Sister Mary John who is now in charge. They were all ably assisted by their assistants, and under this systematic management the school is prospering and has grown to be an institution of note in the county and the city of Celina.

CITY WATER WORKS, CELINA.

Celina is up-to-date in public improvements, having a fine system of water works, which were put in in 1895, under the supervision of trustees Messrs. C. D. Heibohler, John Milligan and J. P. LeBlond. The present trustees are Dr. L. D. Bromm, M. J. Hemmert and J. Gerlech, with John Wychoff as clerk and Clement Roden as superintendent. The water works buildings, located in the north part of town, are as fine equipped with the latest improved machinery as any plant in the state. An electric light plant and sewerage system it is thought will be added in the near future. The fire department, with Chief Jacob Weber, at the head, is one of the best that can be found in any city the size of Celina, and it is a source of great pride to the citizens. One of the public institutions that few little cities can boast of is the public library, under the direction of the Shakespeare club. This library contains all the finest works of leading authors, past and present. In the manufacturing fine Celina has rapidly forged to the front within the last year. The three railroads—the Lake Erie & Western, Cincinnati Northern and C. H. & D., afford shipping facilities that are unapproachable and make the city a most desirable location for industries. At present nearly two hundred and fifty men find employment in the various manufacturing plants, which include the canning and packing factory, furniture factory, buggy bow factory, bend mill, hoop factory, and a number of other minor industries. The business men are progressive and abreast with the times in the commercial world. The business houses are all imposing structures that enhance the natural beauty of the town. The present city officials are: Mayor, Joseph Metzner; marshal, Thomas Hooper; clerk, August Behringer; treasurer, Andy Schmitt; counsellors: First ward, Frank V. Short and John Leifeld; second ward, Charles Clark and W. J. Maishmann; third ward, John A. Hoagland and A. W. Corwin; fourth ward, Phillip Beinsdorfer and Joseph Romer.

PETER SCHUNCN.

Peter Schunck was born at Cranberry Prairie, Mercer county, Ohio, October 24, 1858. He is a son of Adam and Anne Schunck ad Flick. At the age of five years he moved to Celina with his parents, and attended school in this city until he arrived at the age of fifteen, when he entered the harness shop of his father. When sixteen years old he assisted John Shepherd in conducting his grocery store, remaining here two years. He then entered the general store of C. D. Heibohler, as salesman. After clerking here four years he formed a partnership with C. D. Heibohler and H. J. Fabbri, the firm name being C. D. Heibohler & Company. This firm conducted a general store and was deservedly successful from the start, acquiring a reputation second to no other mercantile establishment in the county. On January 18, 1883, he was united in marriage to Frances Ungere, who was born September 19, 1860. She is a daughter of William and Elizabeth Ungere ad Betch. The following named children have been born to Peter and Frances Schunck: Lloyd, October 1, 1882, who died at the age of seven years, eight months and three days; Maud, November 7, 1883; and Leo, November 20, 1887. In business Mr. Schunck has, by careful application to business, fared well in the accumulation of this world's goods. He has a palatial residence on West Livingston street, tastefully furnished. On West Lafayette street, opposite his place of business that imposing and beautiful brick structure, the Hotel Ashley, is owned by Mr. Schunck. This hotel is elegantly finished, and the interior presents at once an inviting and cozy appearance. It is one of the best known hotels in this part of Ohio, containing all modern improvements, and is largely patronized by the traveling public.

JOHN BALTZELL.

John Baltzell was born on the 14th day of August, 1839, in Dublin township, Mercer county, Ohio. He received his education in a district school in said township. Since then he has managed family farms, assisted him on the farm until he was thirty-three years old, when he was employed as clerk in a grocery store at Rockford, Ohio. He has served as township clerk of Delaware county, Ohio, and has been postmaster. Politically, John is a staunch Democrat. He is a member of the fraternity of Masons.

FRANCIS C. LEIBLOND.

One of the most widely known and admired residents of the beautiful city of Celina is Hon. Francis C. Leiblond, who has the dual distinction of being the oldest municipality in Mercer county and only representative Mercer county has had in the lower halls of the national congress, being a member from the Fifth district from 1853 to 1855. He was born in Knox county, Ohio, February 22, 1826, and is the son of Henry and Elizabeth Leiblond, who was born in Pennsylvania, January 8, 1808. Francis C. Leiblond was educated and read law at Norwalk, Ohio, being admitted to the bar in the fall of 1843. In December of the same year he located at St. Mary's, Ohio, and moved to Celina in the spring of 1849, where he has ever since resided and practiced and attained a great reputation in the law. In 1843 he was elected prosecuting attorney of Mercer county and re-elected in 1845; in 1851 he was elected to the lower house of the state legislature and re-elected in 1853, being elected speaker of the house. Mr. Leiblond was elected as the Whig candidate from the Fifth district in 1855 and re-elected in 1856. His career in congress was brilliant and he attained such a reputation as a forceful, logical and eloquent orator, that he was recognized as the leader of the Democracy. One of the highest compliments ever paid a public man was that passed by Hon. James G. Blaine, the famed orator, who said, "he is the man most feared in the halls of congress, for his powers of oratory, when a measure was in debate, was the last word for disposal, was Frank Leiblond, of Ohio." Mr. Leiblond came into great prominence during the debates on "Tilden's Stevens" reconstruction measures. His speech against this measure was so powerful that the opposition did not attempt a reply. Mr. Leiblond was united in marriage at St. Mary's, September 6, 1855, to Miss Laura E. McGinley, and the following children have been born: Charles M.; Emma L.; and Frank C.

JOHN HAUBERT.

Jacob Peter and Elizabeth Haubert née Heine, were man and wife and lived on a small farm at Sion, Amt Grundach, Prussia Germany. Here, on the 20th day of April, 1839, a son was born to them, whom they christened John, the subject of this sketch. He attended school until he was thirteen years of age, leaving the school rooms to help his father on the farm. On November 1, 1855, his father moved to this country. It took the total amount of money which they had taken passage forty-two days to make the journey, landing in New York on December 25, 1855. They moved to Fremont, Ohio, and purchased a farm. Here John learned the occupation of the country and in the spring of 1863 he decided to seek his fortune in the west and went to California, but dissatisfied with the prospects returned to Ohio in the fall of the same year, and assisted his father on the farm. Shortly after his return home he was married in marriage to Mary Knecht. Renting a farm of John Nurse, near Fremont, he moved there and took up the life of a farmer.

He remained on this farm for one year. Returning to Fremont he purchased the home farm, on which he resided two years. Selling this land to his brother Jacob he again moved to Fremont where he and his brother Peter purchased a farm near that city. They remained on this farm two years and sold their property for a profit of sixteen hundred dollars besides the profit resulting from the crops raised during their residence. He moved to Mercer county and bought the farm on which he now resides, in Butler township. The buildings on this farm were in a very poor condition, so in 1875 he built a frame barn, in size 48 x 100. In 1866 he erected one of the finest residences in the county.

To the union of John and Mary Haubert there were born the following named children: Peter, September 15, 1867, who died in infancy; Anna S., September 3, 1868, and is now the wife of Henry Kreuch, they reside at Bryan, Ohio, where Mr. Kreuch is engaged in the clothing and merchant tailoring business. Mary was the next child born and died in infancy; Jacob, July 26, 1871; Henny, December 31, 1872; Mary, February 21, 1874; John, January 5, 1879; Peter, April 30, 1881. On the 28th of January, 1882, Mrs. Haubert passed away. On the 26th day of September, 1884, Mr. Haubert married Mary Bucher and this union was blessed with the following children: Joseph, November 23, 1885; Elizabeth, March 29, 1897; Cecelia, November 18, 1888; Lavina, November 11, 1899; Edith, April 5, 1901; Frank, March 4, 1903; Alloys, December 7, 1908, and one daughter in infancy.

Mr. Haubert served as director of the Coldwater special school district for three successive terms. He was also a member of the building committee of the Coldwater Catholic church which stands as a magnificent tribute of the people to their religious belief. For a number of years he served as vice superintendent of the Coldwater public schools. Mr. Haubert is a man of great strength of character, combining a strong sense of honor and integrity in the discharge of any duties. He has won the respect and confidence of all who have had the pleasure of his acquaintance, in Butler township. The buildings on this farm were in a very poor condition, so in 1875 he built a frame barn, in size 48 x 100. In 1866 he erected one of the finest residences in the county.

THOMAS J. GODFREY.

Thomas J. Godfrey was born in Darke county, Ohio, June 6, 1831. He is a son of Elias B. and Sarah (Elliott) Godfrey, natives, respectively, of Ohio and North Carolina. His ancestors were early emigrants to the Northwest, of two sons and five daughters, of whom one son and two daughters are still living.

Mr. Thomas J. Godfrey was educated in the common schools, two seminaries, and at Asbury University, Greensville, Indiana. For several years he taught in the village schools in Darke county, Ohio, and Wayne and Randolph counties, Indiana. He read law in the office of Allen & Meekor, Greensville, Ohio, and after attending the Cincinnati Law College, was, in 1857, admitted to the practice of law by the supreme court of Ohio. A few weeks later he located at Celina and there began the practice of his profession. To the profession of the law he has ever since adhered with loyal attachment. In 1857 he was elected prosecuting attorney of Mercer county and in 1856 was re-elected to the same office; but, passing the election, was nominated to the state senate by the convention representing the district composed of Allen, Auglaize, Defiance, Mercer, Paulding, Van Wert and Williams counties, and he was elected. In 1865 he was re-elected. At the organization of the general assembly in January, 1868, he was elected president of the senate, which office he held during the term of two years. At the close of his senatorial career of four years he received the nomination for lieutenant-governor. He claims that he received votes enough to elect a lieutenant-governor, but that the misfortune to him, his party and the state, was that his competitor received seven thousand more votes than he.

In 1873, Mr. Godfrey was elected a member of the constitutional convention and served in that eminent body during its sessions in 1873 and 1874, as a member of the judiciary committee and committee on rules.

In 1880, Mr. Godfrey was a candidate for presidential elector for the Fifth district as a (Hannock) Democrat, but was defeated with the rest of the ticket, the electors on the (Garfield) Republican ticket carrying the state. In 1881, Mr. Godfrey was again elected to the State senate representing the same district as before, and was re-elected in 1884. During his last term he was chairman of the committee on judiciary and of the committee on universities and colleges.

Since May, 1878, Mr. Godfrey has served as a member of the board of trustees of the Ohio State University, and for seven years was president of this board.

He has always taken a special pride in the Mercer County Teachers' Institute, and has attended every annual session since its organization in 1859. He served several years as county school examiner and is now president of the board of education of Celina.

In September, 1888, Mr. Godfrey married Miss Loreda Milligan, daughter of Dr. D. Milligan, of Fort Recovery, Ohio. To this marriage one daughter was born, Lucinda, who graduated from Goshen Female College in 1888, and in 1884 married Rev. J. M. Anderson, now pastor of the Olivet Presbyterian church, Columbus, Ohio. Rev. and Mrs. Anderson have two sons, Carl Godfrey and Robert Bruce, aged respectively, fifteen and eleven years. Mrs. Godfrey died September 8, 1858. Mr. Godfrey is a Knight Templar and thirty-second degree Scottish-Rite Mason. For twenty-six years he devoted a portion of his time to banking. From this he retired four years ago, since which time he devotes his time to legal, political, educational, commercial and agricultural lines and pursuits.

PATRICK E. KENNEY.

Patrick E. Kenney was born of Irish parents in Cincinnati, Ohio, December 11, 1854. In 1875 he moved with his parents to Adams county, Indiana, where he lived on a farm until he was twenty-seven years of age. When twenty-seven years of age he was united in marriage to Nora Loughlin, who died in 1888. Of this union three children were born, all of whom are deceased. After leaving the farm he received his education at the Normal University, at State College, Pennsylvania. They have been the parents of two sons and five daughters, of whom one son and two daughters are still living.

Mr. Kenney has been married twice, the first marriage being to Lena Schmidt, of this state, whom he married in 1887. He served as school examiner four years but declined a reappointment. In 1885 he was married to Lena Schmidt. Of this marriage three children were born, all of whom are living. From 1890 to 1897 he practiced law in partnership with R. L. Mattingly. He was elected prosecuting attorney in 1895 and re-elected in 1897. In religion he and his family are Presbyterians. In politics he is a Democrat. Lena Kenney was born at Honesdale, Pennsylvania, February 21, 1854. Her parents, Frederick W. and Margaret Schmidt née Neeman, came to this country from Germany in 1857. They were united in marriage at Honesdale, Pennsylvania, in 1859. There were born to them one son, all of whom, except a daughter, Hannah, are still living. They are Lena, the subject of this sketch; John, a small merchant of Chicago; Rev. John Schmidt, Catholic priest of George and Mary. Frederick W. Schmidt resides at New Washington, Ohio. His wife, Margaret Schmidt, is deceased, having departed this life in November, 1894. Lena Schmidt was married to Patrick E. Kenney December 25, 1885, in her twenty-second year.
FORT RECOVERY.

BATTLE grounds are always objects of unending interest to the great multitudes, bathed as they are in the blood of heroes, whose glorious deeds in the field of battle we are ever ready to praise in song and story. Of them we can apply quite as aptly the saying of the ancient Greek poet that "Heroes are never known to fade from the world."

"So it is, with this deep underlying sentiment of hero worship, so strongly developed in our nature, that Fort Recovery presents itself for all share of our reverence and homage. As one trends the busy thoroughfares of that bustling little city it seems hard to realize that this was the theater of one of the greatest Indian battles in the history of the American nation. The thoughts of the visitor fly back on the wings of history to the Colonial days and once again the dramatic, and, we well might add, the tragic, acts of a man and a general are enacted. In fancy we seem to hear General George Washington, then president, exclaim, as the news of St. Clair’s defeat reached him, “Oh, God! Oh, God! he is worse than a murderer! How can we answer for it to his country?”

General Washington’s impeachment can probably be explained on the grounds that his last instruction to the unfortunate St. Clair were “be wary of a surprise.” Again the curtain rolls back and the hazy, silent figure of a disorganized and brokenhearted general, with head bowed in shame, is seen bearing the contempt and obloquy of the public. Upon this theater the last tragic act in the life of General Arthur St. Clair was enacted and in which the classic fame of a Revolutionary hero and the subsequent misfortune of defeat, hugging upon him continually and disgrace, are so pathetically and strongly blended, and of which in the shortest time afterward died.

Although Time’s relentless hand has long since swept away all vestige of the famous fort, strong bands of handy pioneers, pushed back the prairieland and remodeled the battlefield into an enterprising little city, and the surrounding country into fertile and productive lands, yet the names of the heroes of that disastrous engagement still echo down through the corridors of time and claim their full share of the attention of the public. The echoes of this battle whisper in mourning tones of a defeat so disastrous that it is soon lost all semblance of an engagement and assumed the horrible proportions of a massacre, with all its attendant French executions and atrocities, perpetrated by the Indians of the Northwest territory under the leadership of that noted Miami chief, Little Turtle, upon men, women and children. Concerning the inglorious defeat, history says: "Here on the head waters of the Waubash river, among a number of small creeks, on November 3, 1791, General St. Clair escaped with his remaining troops, numbering about 400 men. The right wing of the army under the command of General Butler lay in front of a creek twelve yards wide and this force formed the first line. The second, ten yards back of the first, was commanded by Lieut.-Colonel William Darke. The militia crossed the creek and advanced about eighty rods in front of the main army. About half an hour after daylight on November 4, 1791, they were attacked by the enemy with the utmost fury. The militia fled in an instant and came running back into the regulars, spreading terror and panic among the Indians, pressed close upon the heels of the flying militia and engaged General Butler’s command with great intrepidity. In fifty minutes of the first attack the whole army was surrounded by the Indians. The artillery was placed in the center of each wing, which the enemy attacked with the greatest violence, mowing down the reticulists in great numbers, firing from cover. At length they boldly marched up to the mouth of the cannon and fought with the darnd courage of men whose trade was war. The enemy were repeatedly charged by Colonel Darke and General Butler, but no general effect was produced. In the first charge General Butler was severely wounded and, although his leg was broken by a ball, he mounted his horse and bravely led his battalion to his last charge. When it became known that General Butler and many of his officers were killed, a panic ensued and a disorderly flight commenced, which continued for four miles. All this time the carnage was dreadful. The fleeing army was pursued by the blood-thirsty Indians, killing and scalping as they ran. Finally the soldiers threw away their arms and fled for their lives. After satisfying their savage vengeance by killing many men in the pursuit and taking as many prisoners as possible, they returned to the battlefield and glutted their vengeance on the living, dying and the dead. Over six hundred of the soldiery were killed, of those escaped, among whom was General St. Clair, made their way to Ft. Jefferson. The Indians did not lose over fifty in all. This victory endangered the entire frontiers and great apprehension was felt throughout the northwest, as it was known that the Indians were preparing for an extended raid, which was checked by General Anthony Wayne, who was appointed in command of the troops in the northwest. Wayne’s trepidation and boldness in the Revolution had gained for him the sobriquet of “Mad Anthony” and his march against the Indians added greatly to his already brilliant reputation as a soldier. He marched into the Indian territory in 1793. He spent the winter in a fort, built near the Wabash, which he named Fort Recovery, from which this little city derived its name. About fifty years ago, when the streets of Fort Recovery were being laid out many bodies of the soldiery were exhumed along the main street, the smooth skulls telling their story with more force than the pen of the historian.

The fort stood at the northwest part of the town where the old grist mill now stands. The historic Wabash slumberingly flows around the city and past the site of the old fort as though it had given up all hopes of washing away the memory of that awful day in 1791. All that now remains to perpetuate the memory of the fort is a portion of the old flag staff, from which old glory floated a hundred years ago, proclaiming to the world that the Indians had abandoned their British allies and signed a treaty of peace, and that westward the star of empire could peacefully take its course. This last conspicuous relic, the flag staff, was removed several years ago to Columbus, where it now reposes in the relic room of the capitol.

When one looks upon this thriving little city of twelve hundred souls as it is by well-stilled farms, it is hard to realize that this was the theatre of such a crushing defeat, in comparison with which the history of Indian warfare affords no parallel, save perhaps that of Braddock. It is more than passing strange that the historical significance this ground has attained through its prominent association with the early history of Indian warfare and the town, W. P. Pauz is a leading business man who gives much of his time to the public welfare; R. M. Morvelius, another prominent man in the business world and also proprietor and manager of the opera house, has been president of the town several times and faithfully; and J. G. Heilby, who, although young in the service, is careful and prudent in the discharge of his official duties.
ADAM SCHNEIDER.

Adam Schneider is one of the most enterprising citizens of Ft. Recovery, and tireless in his efforts to assist in the upbuilding of that little city. He was born April 15, 1858, in Tickenbach, Kreis Meinsheim, Prussia, Germany. His parents were Frederick and Catherine Schneider a/n Feender. He is one of eight children born of this union. Mr. Schneider attended school at Tickenbach, where he gleaned a good German education. During the hours not devoted to study he assisted his father on the farm until he arrived at the age of sixteen, when aspiring to earn his own living and make his way in the world assisted by individual efforts alone, he hired out by the day, week or year, as opportunity for employment presented itself. He toiled diligently and patiently, striving to better his condition, and when twenty-three years of age, receiving encouraging letters from his brothers, who had come to America, he concluded to cast his lot and chance for future success in the adopted country of his brothers. On September 27, he bade farewell to his father, mother and relatives, and set sail for America. After a stormy and perilous ocean voyage he arrived in New York on October 18. He departed immediately from that city for Ft. Recovery, where his brothers were living and here he was warmly welcomed on October 23, by his three brothers, Frederick, Charles and Peter. With indomitable will and steadiness of purpose he set out about to carve out a home. Casting about for something to do he found employment on the work and construction train for three months. He then clerked for his brothers Charles and Peter, in their respective businesses, for a brief period. Moving to Celina in 1883 he found employment as a clerk for several months. On January 1, 1884, he started in business for himself. Honest, careful, upright and accommodating, were the chief characteristics which distinguished him in his first venture, has made him successful financially. On April 15, 1890, he was united in marriage to Christina Heitz, daughter of George and Mary Heitz, née Augenstein, who were among the early pioneers of Ft. Recovery. To this union were born two children, Ida Emma, January 21, 1891, and Herbert Frederick, July 19, 1899. Politically Adam Schneider has always affiliated with the Democratic party. In his religious views he is an active and earnest member of the Lutheran church of Ft. Recovery. That Mr. Schneider has been successful in his life's work can be seen by this reproduction of his magnificent and palatial residence erected at Ft. Recovery.

CHARLES SCHNEIDER.

Charles Schneider, one of Ft. Recovery’s leading business men and proprietor of the well known hostelry, the Wayne Hotel, the management of which he assumed on May 20, 1896, comes from good German ancestry. He was born November 14, 1849, in Reckenbach, Kreis, Meissenheim, Prussia, and is a son of Frederick and Catharine Schneider, née Fender. He received a common school education in his native land and at the termination of his school years learned the trade of a cooper. Under the military laws of Germany, when attaining a certain age the German youths are required to serve a term in the army. Charles conformed to the military laws and served three years, participating in the Franco-Prussian war. After returning from the army he traveled through Germany, working at his trade. When twenty-seven years of age he came to this country, sailing from Amsterdam and arriving in New York January 7, 1877. He located first at Celina, Ohio, but later moved to Ft. Recovery, where his brother Frederick was in business, working for him for fifteen months. Then he engaged in business for himself. In 1890, with his brother Adam, he purchased the Wayne House from John F. McDaniel, and shortly afterwards purchased the interest of his brother Adam. This hotel is a substantial two-story brick building, centrally located and has become recognized as a first-class hotel in every respect. Mr. Schneider was united in marriage on April 11, 1881, at Ft. Recovery, to Miss Louisa F. Koch, who was born at St. Mary’s, Ohio, in 1840, and who is a daughter of William and Doris Koch of Backhouse. Five children have been born to this union: Dora M., June 25, 1882; William F., January 7, 1884; Ferdinand A., September 26, 1884; Eva K., July 28, 1888; and Edward X., June 19, 1898. Mr. Schneider is an active member of the Lutheran church of Ft. Recovery; politically, he is a Democrat, and stands high in the esteem of his fellow townsman.

SEBASTIAN LAUBER.

Sebastian Lauber is a farmer living near Ft. Recovery. The history of his life is a fitting example of what men can accomplish through pluck and perseverance. He is a native of Germany, born at Untergrunbach, Baden, Germany, April 27, 1840. When seven years of age his parents, John and Catherine Lauber née Bunge, emigrated to the United States and settled on a farm in this county, near Cassella. He attended the country school at Cassella and received a good education, working on the farm, assisting his father and brothers, of whom he is the second eldest, until he was thirty years old. At this time he located at Wendelin and in the spring of 1871 opened a store. He had just succeeded in getting himself well established in business when, on the second day of January, a disastrous fire visited him. In a short time the earnings of a number of years were licked up by the flames. The building and entire stock were totally consumed. Nothing daunted, Mr. Lauber started to regain his business and erected a new and finer store room. In 1874 he, together with his brother Valentine, built a saw, planing and shingle mill at Wendelin. In 1876 he sold his interest in this concern and purchased a lot at Ft. Recovery and erected a fine two-story brick building, in which he conducted a bakery and restaurant with flattering success for about seven years, when he disposed of it to Robert Lenartz and purchased the farm on which he now resides. On October 8, 1871, he was united in marriage to Mary Boehmer, daughter of John and Lucile Biber née Keller. Mrs. Lauber was one of the following four children: Karl, who is now a farmer, living on the home farm with Gottlieb, and Benedict, a Catholic priest, now rector at Collegeville, near Remederry, Indiana. To the union of Mr. and Mrs. Sebastian Lauber the following children were born: Catharine M., November 21, 1872, who is now the successful organist in the Catholic church at Wendelin; Peter G., January 31, 1874; August A., March 21, 1876; Frank L., October 4, 1879; Rosa M., May 26, 1882; Magdalene M., March 1, 1884; John J., April 11, 1885; Anna L., August 12, 1886; Joseph S., July 13, 1891; and Veronica A. February 9, 1894. Besides farming Mr. Lauber has been successfully operating in oil, and has done considerable in developing the oil fields in that section of the county.

HENRY F. WILLMAN.

Henry F. Willman is an ex-soldier of the Civil War and one of Recovery-township’s solid substantial farmers. He was born in Hanover, Germany, July 15, 1839. He is a son of Claude H. and Mary Willman née Everts. Henry Willman received a good education in his native land and came to this country in 1850, when about seventeen years old, landing at Baltimore October 2, 1866. He began to learn the cabinet maker’s trade, but finding he did not have funds sufficient to complete his apprenticeship, started on foot six weeks later for Cincinnati. He had proceeded but a short distance when he found work on a farm and later in an iron mill. He returned to Baltimore after a time and found employment in the ship yards, but on August 1, 1867, again started for Cincinnati, which city he reached after a weary journey, and learned the cooper’s trade. While in this city he attempted to enlist in the service of the government and joined the Freedman Body guard for three months and was refused, as the government would not accept three months men. He then moved to Indiana, where he worked on a farm near Evansville, Ohio county, for three months and then enlisted, July 24, 1861, for one year in the Second Indiana Independent Battery. One year men not being wanted, he changed his enlistment to three years. Mr. Willman was with this battery throughout the war and was in many battles, through Arkansas, Kansas, the Indian territory, and Missouri. During his service he marched over 10,500 miles, was sick in the hospital only six weeks, although suffering greatly from the exposure. Mr. Willman was mustered out September 4, 1865, at Fort Smith, Arkansas, and was honorably discharged at Indianapolis, Indiana. After the war he returned to Cincinnati and labored there until 1872, when in this year he engaged in the wholesale lumber business and continued in it for eleven years. Mr. Willman was married December 21, 1865, to Louisa Muthert, who was born in Hanover, Germany, February 2, 1835. The four following children have been born to them: William H., Ella L., Edward H., and Amelia M. In 1878 Mr. Willman moved to his present farm and he now has 454 acres of good farm land well improved. He is an extensive breeder and raiser of Poland China hogs and short horn cattle. Mr. Willman was the pioneer in advocating pigs in this county and vigorously pushed the issue until it has finally terminated in Mercer county having the finest system of graved roads of any county in the state. Mr. and Mrs. Willman are Lutherans in religion. He is a member of the following fraternities: Cincinnati Lodge, No. 335, I. O. O. F., its member of the encampment and the A. P. A. In politics Mr. Willman has always been a Democrat and so has held the responsible office of township trustee for three terms and a like number of terms as member of the school board. Mr. Willman is a member of Harrod McDaniel Post, No. 181, G. A. R. He is essentially a self-made man; everything that he has acquired has been through his own exertions and the results of years of laborious toil.
JOHN SMOYER.

John Smoyer is recognized as one of the most prosperous and scientific farmers in Washington township. He was born in Hamilton, Butler county, Ohio, February 21, 1850. His parents were John W. and Polly Smoyer née Robbenmeyer. When the subject of this sketch was three years old his parents moved on a farm near St. Anthony, Mercer county, Ohio. He received a common school education at this place. When eighteen years of age he decided to battle in the world for himself. Believing the west offered greater opportunities for strong, gifted youths, he went to Muskingum county, Iowa, and there he was a miner at twenty-five dollars per month. After working here three years he returned to Mercer county and found employment with Charles Jones, in the saw mill at Celina. He worked here for two years and then moved to Babia, Mercer county, where, on October 4, 1874, he was married in the holy bonds of matrimony to Sarah Kettring, daughter of Henry and Margaret Kettring née Pennin. A short time after his marriage, Mr. Smoyer rented a farm near Babia, and, practicing economy, was soon able to purchase the farm. A daughter came to grace their home on July 18, 1875. They christened this child Sarah Catherine. On December 27, 1876, Margaret Ella was born. In 1892 Mr. Smoyer was elected township trustee of Washington township. That he is recognized as a capable official is attested by the fact that he has served the people of that township continuously since that date to the present time. He is also a member of the Fair board from that township. He makes a specialty of raising a fine breed of cattle, among which are the Short horn and Polled Angus. The farm on which Mr. Smoyer resides contains one hundred and twenty acres and is a model, with first-class buildings and is considered one of the finest cultivated in the county. The hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Smoyer is unlimited. On April 12, 1898, their daughter, Sarah C., was married to Oran V. Rux- yon, son of Lloyd and Louisa Ruxyon née Loundsbeck. To them was born a daughter named Cleo Luota. Mrs. Smoyer was born in Hamilton county, Ohio, July 9, 1851. When two years of age her parents moved to Mercer county, where her father purchased a farm in Washington township. Besides clearing his farm, he assisted in building the reservoir embankment.

GEORGE AND BARBARA ZENZ.

A couple that have won the friendship and esteem of their neighbors and acquired a goodly store of this world's riches are George and Barbara Zenz, residing at Sharpsburg, Mercer county. Here Mrs. Barbara Zenz, and her son John are the proprietors of one of the largest general stores in the county. Sharpsburg, or violet post office, is a small town five miles southeast of Ft. Recovery, along the old Indian treaty line, running between the townships of Gibson and Recovery and extending through Granville and Marion townships, in Mercer county.

George Zenz was born in Prussia, Germany, on the 15th day of October, 1835. Barbara Zenz is a native of Belin, Germany, and was born May 20, 1839. She is a daughter of George and Margaret Friedson née Weiss. When both children were young their parents moved to this country and settled in Lorain county, Ohio. Here George Zenz and Barbara Friedson were united in marriage October 14, 1854. Three children were born to them: George, August 4, 1852, in Lorain county; Peter, February 5, 1873, and John, October 2, 1876; the latter two were born in Mercer county.

George and Barbara Zenz moved from Lorain to Mercer county in 1857 and purchased sixty-three and a half acres of land near Sharpsburg. After farming the land for a year they realized that it was poor soil, so they concluded to embark in some other enterprise. Barbara Zenz decided to start a little country store, but having no ready money with which to launch into business, she borrowed two hundred and seventy-five dollars from her mother. They converted their little log cabin into a store room and with the amount borrowed stocked it with the necessary articles in demand at that time. Barbara Zenz took the management of the store, leaving the farm to be run by her husband. With an energetic spirit she rapidly climbed the ladder of success and in 1879, so large and remunerative a trade had she built up that she was compelled to erect larger and more commodious quarters. Mrs. Zenz, being a shrewd business woman, wisely invested the profits derived from the store in farms and other real estate. So large had their business grown, and property accumulated, that it was deemed advisable to make a division of the property, in order to give their children a good start in life. So in 1893 they divided their property. George, Jr., received a hundred and twenty acres; Peter, one hundred and forty-three acres John, the youngest son, a hundred and thirty acres; George Zenz, Sr., retained seventy acres and an interest in the dwelling. Mrs. Barbara Zenz retaining the store room and stock, twenty acres of land and three dwelling houses, one in Rose Hill and two in Burtonville. On December 1, 1899, Barbara Zenz and her son John formed a partnership in the store. John was especially adapted for a business career. His early experience in this line was running a huckster wagon in the summer time and attending school the winter season until he was fourteen years of age. Then he devoted his time and energy to farming. When nineteen years of age he returned to the store, assisting his mother. In the fall of 1898 John Zenz erected a fine two-story brick building, with all modern improvements. The store is one of the best stocked, not only in quality of goods handled but in variety, that can be found in the county, containing three separate departments, in which the wants of man or woman can be supplied. On the twentieth day of April, 1899, John Zenz was united in marriage to Rosa Brandwein.

JOHN SCHINDLER.

A man who has been identified with the business interests of Ft. Recovery for a number of years and who is looked upon as one of its leading and prominent citizens, is John Schindler, the widely known baggy and wagon manufacturer. He descends from a family of German ancestry, being born in Kissingen, Bavaria, Germany, near the river Rhine, June 23, 1849. His parents were Constantine and Julia Schindler, née Behr. In his home town of Kissingen, situated on the historic old Rhine, Mr. Schindler received his education in the common schools. He attended school until he was sixteen, when he sailed from Bremerhaven for New York. After landing in this country he came directly to Toledo, Ohio, where he learned the blacksmith's trade. Working in this city for three years and at Upper Sandusky one year, he moved to Coldwater, Mercer county, in 1870, where he worked for his brother William, in his blacksmith shop. Here, in April, 1873, he was united in marriage to Miss Mary Rosener, who was born in Mercer county in May, 1852, and is a daughter of Jacob and Mary Rosener née Burkard. After their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Schindler settled in Seneca county, Ohio where they lived one year and then removed to Monterey, where Mr. Schindler launched into business for himself. They resided here until 1877, in which year they removed to Ft. Recovery. By arduous and careful work Mr. Schindler built up a large trade in the blacksmith business and latter began the manufacture of buggies and wagons. It was in this departure that Mr. Schindler gained an enviable reputation for thoroughness and completeness of work. Everything was handmade and under his personal supervision. To-day he is favorably known throughout this and surrounding counties, where his waggons and buggies find a ready sale. The following named children have been born to Mr. and Mrs. Schindler: John, Theresa, Julia, Rosina, Dora, Clara, Fiedlinand, Hugo, Herberlt, Ella and Margaret, all living, and Rudolph, who died in his youth. Mr. Schindler has served on the town council for eight years in succession, was township treasurer for years, and has served a number of years on the board of education. He was appointed postmaster, on October 24, 1894, by President Cleveland, and was a most efficient and accommodating official.

MONTezuma SCHOOLS.

The early educational facilities of the youths of Montezuma were very meager, to say the least. The traditional log school house afforded the first opportunity to take the advantage of the benefit of a first school. The first school was located a half mile south of Montezuma and was an old round log building, known to the inhabitants of that section as "The Wolves' Den." Here the boys and girls of that day obtained the rudiments of an education. The first school building erected in Montezuma was located in the south part of town and was 12 x 14 in size and of frame material. The interior was furnished in the crude manner possible, with slab seats and desks. As the school increased in size new buildings were erected, all of which were one-story frame. After two such buildings had been built and outlived their usefulness, the present school house was erected. It was first composed of two rooms, but in 1895 was remodeled and another story added.

The teachers who have had charge of the school since its beginning are: E. Montgomery, two years; George Bean, one year; Zach Stoner, one year; William Noel, eleven years; W. B. Beacham and Miss Hat- ing White; E. G. Chapman and Charles Younger, E. G. Clark and Miss Short; J. S. George, Bertha Copeland and Alice Newcomb; James Mosey, Kittie Beachamp, Carl Helmstetter; and Prof. W. F. McDaniel, Kittie Beachamp and Miss Anna Helmstetter, the present instructors. The Montezuma special school district was organized in September, 1865, under the direction of Alvin Lacey, president; J. J. Helmstetter, clerk, and James Monroe, treasurer. The present school building is a neat two-story frame building of three rooms with a seat ing capacity of about two hundred. The enumeration of the district is two hundred and ten of school age. There are three departments in which the common branches are taught, also a high school course. The rapid progress in the educational field made by this school speaks in the highest terms for the residents of that little village, and the evolution from the old "Wolves' Den" to the present fine graded school a flattering and far reaching step in the paths of improvement and advancement.

JOSEPH PETRIE

Joseph Petrie was born December 13, 1835, in Celina, Ohio. He is a son of George and Sarah Petrie and Wilkes, who were pioneers of Mercer county. Joe Petrie received his education in the common schools of Celina. When not devoting his time to study he assisted his father on the farm. In 1855 he learned the blacksmith trade under Alexander Wyckoff, for whom he worked for six years. He then went to Indianapolis, Indiana, where he was employed as an apprentice in the firm Petrie, Smith and Company, moving from that city to Lima, Ohio, he found employment in the car shops. From that city Mr. Petrie went to Piqua, Ohio, and worked at his trade for a year and a half, moving from that place to the city of Dayton, Ohio, where he worked three years and a half. After the close of the Civil War he returned to Celina and was employed by William Cross for over a year. On the 15th of March, 1890, he moved to Montezuma and opened a blacksmith and machine shop for himself. Being very successful in his chosen trade, he commenced, in the year 1898, the manufacture of carriage and buggies. So successful was this enterprise that he was soon forced to enlarge his building, and again in 1899 he added to his former buildings another large structure for the convenience of his rapidly growing business. On the 14th of March, 1879, the Baptists of Joseph Petrie and Florence C. Allen, daughter of Zeph and Amilene Shockhart, were married. Two children were born to them, Ada F. and Dee L. The former was born December 24, 1859, and is now the wife of Charles L. Brandon. Dee L. was born January 1, 1884, Charles is in the grocery business at Montezuma, and is an old resident of Fort Donelson, Shiloh and Vicksburg. That Elmore Allen Pettie, wife of Joseph Petrie, was born September 3, 1857, and is one of eight children, born to Mr. and Mrs. Zeph Allen. This family was comprised of five boys and three girls.

THEODORE SCHEID.

Theodore Scheid, one of Mercer county's pioneers and Fort Recovery's staunchest and strongest men, was born in Reutlingen, Wurttemberg, Germany, October 20, 1837. He is the only son of Ludvig B. F. and Wilhelmina Scheid, née Wagner. He entered school at the age of six and applied himself to his studies with painstaking care and diligence, acquiring a fine German education. At the conclusion of his school years he entered the office of the clerk and recorder of his home county as an assistant. When twenty-three years of age, Mr. Scheid came to America and located at Cincinnati. Here he embarked in the grocery business. In the spring of 1857 Mr. Scheid purchased a farm near Shocksburg and moved to the country to take up the occupation of farming. In 1861, when the call for troops was sounded, Mr. Scheid responded and enlisted in the fifty-eighth Ohio. He was with his regiment in the dreadful battles of Shiloh, Vicksburg, and Grand Gulf, Mississippi. During the fighting before Vicksburg Mr. Scheid was wounded and while in the hospital was put in the Veteran Reserve Corps at Camp Morton, Indianapolis. Here his military service ended with an honorable discharge. After serving his country, Mr. Scheid returned to Fort Recovery and, being unable to perform farm work, entered into the store and the business in 1865. During his residence in this city his sterling worth was recognized by the citizens, who elected him mayor of that city and continued him in office for fourteen years. His official life was characterized by the unselfish discharge of his duty, as he interpreted it. In politics, Mr. Scheid affiliated with the Republican party and served as postmaster from August, 1865, until July, 1885, being an official of the government for twenty years, an honor accorded few men. At present he is in his fourth term as justice of the peace.

He was united in marriage to Fredericka Schneiter, of Tiefingen, Wurttemberg, Germany, on the seventh day of December, 1867. From this union three children were born: Charles T.; George W.; and Matilda, who died in infancy. All of them were married in Wellington, Ohio, and died in Chicago at the ages of thirty-eight years, leaving six children; Theodore G., Adolph and Leslie W. Mr. and Mrs. Scheid are still enjoying good health and live in the knowledge that in forty-eight years of married life no cloud has arisen to mar their happiness.

JOHN G. KUHN.

There is scarcely a man, woman or child in Butler township but that knows Mr. John G. Kuhm. He has for years been a justice of the peace for that township, and as such has discharged the duties of that office in a manner reflecting great credit upon himself and his constituents. Like a great many other prominent citizens of this county the subject of this sketch was born in Germany, in Oslenbach, on May 27, 1843. His parents were George J. and Juliana Kuhn née Schneider. While Mr. Kuhm was a young man his parents moved to this country and settled in a farm in Auglaize county, Ohio. It was while living here that Mr. Kuhm entered the army. He enlisted and served in Company K, Fifteenth Regiment, Ohio Volunteer Infantry, from April 25, 1861, to August 27, 1861, under President Lincoln's first call for troops. At the expiration of this service he again enlisted in Company D, One Hundred and sixth Ohio Regiment, and served with his regiment from August 12, 1862, to July 12, 1865. When he received his honorable discharge at the above named date, Mr. Kuhm had risen to the rank of sergeant. He sustained wounds during his service that crippled him for life. Returning from the war he moved to Black Creek township, Mercer county, where he purchased a farm. On February 6, Mr. Kuhm was married to Barbara K. Nuss. To them were born three children, William H., Ed D. and Emma L.

On November 18, 1877, Mr. Kuhm passed away. On November 23, 1877, Mr. Kuhm was united in marriage to Anna Stombaugh. To them were born seven children, namely: Fred A.; Jacob, who died in infancy; Frank T.; Anthony A., Michael T., Julius M. and Maria E.

Dr. C. F. Bolman.

One of the leading manufacturing concerns in Coldwater is the Mattress factory, owned and operated by Dr. C. F. Bolman, who is also a prominent physician. He was born in Fort Wayne, Indiana, October 26, 1847, and is the son of Christopher and Charlotte Bolman née Bloom. Dr. Bolman received his early education in this city. Leaving school at the age of sixteen years he was apprenticed to the trade of a machinist, which trade he successfully learned and worked at for years. He then entered the office of W. H. Mayers, M. D., at Fort Wayne and began the study of medicine, entering the Fort Wayne Medical College at the completion of his reading, and from which college he graduated in 1880. He located at Coldwater, March 7, 1881, and has engaged in the practice of medicine with great success ever since. In politics Dr. Bolman has always been a strong Democrat, standing high in the councils of his party. He is especially favored on the stump and gained an enviable reputation as a logical and eloquent speaker, in the campaign of 1896. He has been appointed postmaster at Coldwater, has been for a number of years on the executive committee and served as deputy state supervisor of elections one term. Dr. Bolman was united in marriage to Susana E. Louis, of Blissfield, Indiana, August 22, 1872. She is a daughter of Washington Louis née Milia. To them there have been born the following children: Ella, July 5, 1874; Lydia December 30, 1876; Ralph, July 24, 1879, and Susan, July 2, 1883. In 1890 Dr. Bolman took charge of the Mattress works of this city and has successfully conducted it to a position of prominence in manufacturing circles. Both Dr. and Mrs. Bolman are recognized as leaders in the social world and have a legion of friends in this and surrounding counties.
I. S. DIBBLE.

The subject of this sketch is the youngest son of E. A. and Mary Dibble. He was born in Center township, Mercer county, Ohio, August 11, 1871. On July 26, 1875, while his father and older brothers were putting together a new mower, he unfortunately got his finger between the gears while his brother was running the sickle. Instantly the end of the fore-finger on his left hand was cut off. All efforts to replace it proved a failure.

At the age of sixteen years he began to go to school with his older brothers and sisters. He attended every term of school (winter and summer) until he was about twelve years old. Then he was needed at home in the summer to help with the work on the farm. He received an education in the common school, and began teaching in the fall of 1891, at the Center school in Franklin township, being the fall and winter terms. The next two winters he was engaged in teaching. During the fall and winter of 1892-93 he attended the Ohio Normal University at Ada, Ohio. In the winter of 1893-94 he taught school again. The next winter he attended the Ohio Normal University at Ada. In the fall of 1895 he began teaching in Blackcreek township, Mercer county, Ohio, and taught there two years. He is now (December 1, 1899) engaged in teaching at Prospect, being district number one in Washington township.

Mr. Dibble has a host of friends, also a pleasant disposition and temperate in his habits. He has no use for narcotic beverages of any kind.

The biography of his father's family can be found on another page of this book.

H. H. SCHWIETERMAN.

Few men have retired to private life after a number of years of public service with a better record than the subject of this sketch, who is one of the influential and progressive farmers of this county. He was born in Mercer county, September 14, 1843, and is a son of J. and Mary Schwieterman, who were born in the early part of the last century. Mr. Schwieterman's early days were spent on his father's farm, where he learned the practical lessons of thrift and frugality, which have been instrumental in his success in later years. He attended the public schools and acquired a good education in both German and English. After the death of his father the property was divided among the children, and the farm on which the subject now lives was his portion. This farm, containing one hundred and fifteen acres cleared, is highly cultivated, well tilled and drained, in fact one of the most desirable farm properties in the county. He has erected a fine, substantial two-story brick residence, good barns and out-buildings.

Mr. Schwieterman was married to Miss Annie Burkle, who was born in Mercer county in 1859. Ten children were born to this union, three of which died young. The other seven are: Barney, Xavier, Francisco, Matthias, Rosa, Eleanor, and Mary. Mr. Schwieterman has always been a strong Democrat in politics and has had the honor of filling many responsible positions. In 1891 he was elected county commissioner and re-elected in 1895, serving one term as president of the board. His official acts have been above the faintest suspicion, and were characterized by the honest and earnest discharge of his duty. Mr. Schwieterman and family are Catholics in religion, and are highly respected by the community in which they reside.

JOHN K. FRYER.

The parents of the subject of this sketch were John Q. and Jestina Fryer. John Q. was born in Chester county, Pennsylvania, in 1808, and died in Mercer county in 1877. Jestina Fryer was born in Juniata county, Pennsylvania, in 1816 and is still living. Their son, John R., was born in Wayne county, Ohio, September 21, 1841, and moved to Mercer county with his parents in May, 1842, locating in Union township, one mile north of Mendon. When the Civil war broke out he enlisted in Company H, Forty-sixth Ohio Volunteer Infantry, in October, 1862. In the battle of Pittsburg Landing, on April 6, 1862, he received a gun shot wound in the shoulder and was taken prisoner. In October, 1862, he was paroled and discharged a month later at Washington, D. C. He was married on December 14, 1865, to Hannah E. Griffin, who was born in April, 1841, in Union township. Her parents were Claudius, born November 28, 1813, and Elizabeth Griffis, born January 12, 1821. Both of Mrs. Fryer's parents are still living. Mr. Griffin has voted in Union township for sixty years.

To the union of John and Hannah Fryer three children were born, two of whom are still living, namely: Charles, September 30, 1866; and Frank F., January 6, 1871.

CHARLES F. KRUGER.

One of the successful farmers of Center township is Charles F. Kruger. He was born in Columbus, Ohio, October 4, 1854, and is a son of Carl and Friedericka Kruger, née Miller. Carl and Friedericka Kruger were natives of Germany and came to this country in 1845, moving direct to Columbus, Ohio. The following children were born to them: Frederick, Charles, John, Fredricka and Wilhelmina. In 1868, Mr. Kruger moved to Mercer county, settling on the farm where Charles Kruger now resides, and it was here in 1880 that Carl Kruger passed away. On December 28, 1888, Charles Kruger was united in marriage to Susan Center. To this union the following named children were born: Horace C., June 22, 1892; Anna E., October 8, 1894; Charles F., October 6, 1894; Harry Bryan, January 5, 1897; and William L., February 26, 1899, all of whom are living. Notwithstanding the fact that Mr. Kruger has sustained severe losses through the agencies of cyclone and fire, yet he has with pluck and perseverance built steadily upward until now he has one of the best farms in his home township. In the eighties the cyclone, which swept through this county, leaving in its path desolation and destruction, visited Mr. Kruger and greatly damaged a fine orchard, buildings and fences; again, in 1894, fire totally destroyed his large barn and eight head of cattle, five horses and a number of sheep were killed. He rebuilt the barn and, better than before. Mr. Kruger is a member of the Agricultural Society and was trustee of his township for nine years, also a member of the board of education for a number of years. Whether serving the public or himself, his actions have always been unquestionable and characterized by an unflinching discharge of the duties devolving upon him. Both Mr. and Mrs. Kruger have a host of friends in Center and surrounding townships, who speak in the highest praise of them as desirable and honored citizens, whom it is a pleasure to know.

CHARLES BOLLENBACHER.

It is practically conceded by all men that the most important county office is that of commissioner. In this office, which calls for the exercise of sound business judgment and watchfulness to properly guard the rights of the common people, only men who are recognized as unwerving in their loyalty to their duty have been chosen, and one, who has made a deep impression upon the people of this county for his careful attention to the business is the subject of this sketch, Mr. Charles Bollenbacher, of Liberty township. He is the youngest son of George and Henrietta Bollenbacher a/w Alt, and was born at Reipolz-Reipolz, Germany, October 18, 1845. When Mr. Bollenbacher was six years of age his parents came to America. After a voyage of twenty-six days they landed in New York and immediately moved to the farm in Liberty township, where Mr. Bollenbacher now resides. He attended school in district number four until fifteen years of age, when he took an active part in the farm work. When twenty-one years old he was united in marriage to Catherine E. Baker. This union was blessed by ten children, six of whom are still living: John C., September 12, 1865; Henry G., June 29, 1867; Caroline L., December 18, 1869; Anna H., August 5, 1870; she died September 6, 1872; Mary L., September 18, 1871, died September 14, 1892; Margaretta H., September 18, 1878; Anna M., October 18, 1875, who died January 5, 1881; William F., September 31, 1872, who died October 10, 1882; Maria K., September 5, 1880; and Hulda H., June 6, 1883. The following children of Mr. and Mrs. Bollenbacher are married: John C. Bollenbacher was married to Phoebe Schaad, October 13, 1891. The following named children were born to them: Hugo Charles, August 22, 1892; Theodore Frederick, February 14, 1894; and Amelia Catherine, January 13, 1896. Henry G. Bollenbacher was united in marriage to Sophia Kessler, October 20, 1889. The following children have been born from that union: Ida Henrietta, December 5, 1890, and Edwin William, November 16, 1898. Caroline L. Bollenbacher was married to William Kemler, December 31, 1889. This union has been blessed with the following named children: Laura Ida, October 16, 1892; Charles Christian, September 1, 1892; George Henry, August 28, 1893, died in infancy; Clara Catherine, November 5, 1894; and Freda Phillipina, August 14, 1897. Margaretta H. Bollenbacher was married to Adam A. Schaad, November 29, 1894. Two children have been born to them, namely: Charles F., September 12, 1895, and Lawrence W., January 15, 1899.

As a farmer Mr. Bollenbacher has been very successful. He has lived at his present place of residence ever since his marriage, gradually building it up until now he has one of the finest farms in that township. In 1876 he built a large barn. In 1886 he erected his present magnificent brick dwelling. His extensive farming operations soon required more space and in 1893 he was compelled to build another large barn. He manufactured brick from 1885 until 1893. Mr. Bollenbacher and his family are members of the Evangelical Protestant church. In politics Mr. Bollenbacher is a Democrat and has been honored by the people of the township, to the office of trustee for six successive years, also township treasurer. While serving in this latter official capacity the people of the county recognized his sterling worth and elected him county commissioner in 1895 and re-elected in 1897. Mrs. Charles Bollenbacher was born in Shelby county, Ohio, July 1, 1845. She is a daughter of John and Barbara Baker a/w Wiltner. She attended country school and assisted her parents on the farm until her marriage. Both Mr. and Mrs. Bollenbacher have a host of friends in their home township, where they are looked upon as generous and worthy citizens.

JACOB BOLLENBACHER, Sr.

Jacob Bollenbacher, Sr., was the son of George and Henrietta Bollenbacher a/w Alt. He was born September 23, 1837, at Bedesbrach, Reipolz, Germany. His parents were farmers and realizing that they could give their children but little in the way of lands, were careful that they should receive a good education. On April 1, 1852, they emigrated to this country and purchased land in Liberty township. On October 6, 1853, he was married to Louisa Baker, daughter of John and Barbara Baker. Mr. Bollenbacher had well established himself on a farm, where he had prepared a comfortable home for his bride, who was only permitted to enjoy it for two years, passing away July 30, 1854. He served in the army from September 16, 1864, to June 22, 1865. On the 8th of September, 1866, he was united in marriage to Caroline Schaad, daughter of Adam and Philippina Schaad. This union eight children were born: Catherine, September 13, 1867 (she died September 15, 1879); Philipina, December 18, 1868 (she became the wife of John Gehres, in 1889);Louise M., born March 22, 1870, and in 1890 was married to Frederick Berson; Adolph, December 11, 1871 (he was united in marriage in 1884 to Wilhlima Knight); Frederick, born February 7, 1874; Henrietta B., born April 20, 1876 (she was wedded to Louis Gehres, in 1895); Emma, born April 1, 1878; Peter, born March 5, 1880, and died in the following June. Mrs. Caroline Bollenbacher died March 7, 1880. Mrs. Bollenbacher was again married on September 6, 1881, to Magdelena Distler, daughter of John N. and Maria E. Distler. This union was blessed with the following children: Elisabeth, February 11, 1883; John D. and Willie C., twins, February 6, 1885; David P., June 12, 1887; Jacob D., October 11, 1889; Amalia, March 16, 1892; Emilus M., August 29, 1894; Hulda, March 6, 1898. Mr. Bollenbacher is essentially a self-made man. He has struggled against odds and breasted obstacles with a fearlessness that has accounted in a great measure for his success. Today he owns a fine farm with latest improved machinery and substantial buildings. He enjoys a large circle of friends, who greatly admire him for his sterling qualities.
During the year 1868 a half dozen honest, godfearing families, living in and around Coldwater, met to take advantage of the constitutional right to worship God according to the dictates of their own conscience and to organize Holy Trinity parish was organized and preparations made for the erection of a house of worship. The lot on which the church now stands, was purchased from Tom Havon for one dollar, and the erection of the frame church was begun in May, finished in November and dedicated by the Rev. John Purcell, D.D., Archbishop of Cincinnati. About this time there were ten families in the congregation and it can be truly surmised that they were justly proud of their frame church, which has witnessed its flock grow and expand from ten to one hundred and thirty families. The first baptism in the church was Anna Birkmeyer, on July 1, 1869. The first marriage was solemnized by the Very Rev. Father Henry Dresz, C.P.P.S., on November 21, 1873; the bride and groom were Alphonse Miller and Anna Sonnenbauer. The first death to occur was on September 14, 1869, when Teresa Toba, one year old, passed away. The priests who have been in charge of Holy Trinity parish since its organization are: Very Rev. Henry Dresz, C.P.P.S., from 1868 to November, 1880; Father Theobald Shock, C.P.P.S., from 1880 to 1885; Father Paulinus Trout, C.P.P.S., from 1885 to 1888; Father Alphonse Gruski, C.P.P.S., from 1888 to 1900; Father Phillip Hartman, C.P.P.S., from 1902 to 1905; Father George Hinkelang, C.P.P.S., from 1905 to 1927, and Father Lawrence Shurak, from 1927 to the present date, who personally supervised the erection of the new edifice. As the years went by and in passing showed a yearly increase in the congregation the frame church became too small, and an addition was added on the north and in 1886. The congregation soon realized that the house of prayer and worship had served its purpose well for nearly thirty years and that more commodious quarters would have to be erected. In 1896 extensive preparations were made for building a new church. The following year the foundation was laid and on Sunday, June 5, 1898, the corner stone was laid with impressive ritualistic ceremonies, by Rev. Francis M. Quinlan, of Sidney, Ohio, and during the same year the structure was put under roof. In the year 1899 the edifice was finished and solemnly and impressively dedicated on October 8, 1899, by Rev. Henry Eldred, D.D., Archbishop, of Cincinnati, Ohio. Holy Trinity church is one of the most magnificent houses of worship in the section of the country. Its high and sharply pointed arched and clustered drop columns denote the Gothic style of architecture. It is built of pressed brick, with brown Bedford stone trimmings. The building is fifty-four by one hundred and forty feet; width of transepts sixty-six feet; height of towers: large one, one hundred and forty-five feet; smaller tower, eighty-five feet.

The building is fifty-four by one hundred and forty feet; width of transepts sixty-six feet; height of towers: large one, one hundred and forty-five feet; smaller tower, eighty-five feet.

To heighten the feeling admiration one should enter and view the artistic decorations of the interior and feel that here indeed is the work of an artist. As one passes beneath the three Bedford stone arches, which mark the entrance, and steps in under the choir gallery he steps to drink in the richness and brilliancy of the interior and feel the eyes for a moment on the work of a genius. The side walls are blended into terra cotta. The ornamental, of stucco work on which gold leaf has been profusely used, are strictly in keeping with the twelfth century style of Gothic decoration. The ten symbolic emblems of the church, each and every one delineating their respective form with a vividness and beauty that defies description, are exquisite specimens of workmanship. Diagonal arches are across each window. The grained ceiling, with three nails, one in the center and two on each side, terminating in drop columns, ornamented with gold leaf stucco work, is finished in light buff. The drop columns contribute a richness of effect and finish that is unsurpassable and is one of the finest features in the church. The sanctuary presents a beautiful picture. It is finished in blue and the upper part decorated with stars and appropriate monograms and emblems. That within thirty years from the organization of the parish to the dedication of an ecclesiastical edifice, magnificent in its architecture and an artist's triumph in interior decoration, is a religious triumph and a most fitting tribute of a people to the love and devotion of their religion. The building committee consisted of John Ham- bert, John Hageman, John Birkmeyer, John Stucken- burg, John B. Albers and Hermann Keppelkocher. The present church wardens are Harry Huying, Sr., Theodore Tekamp, Joseph Dach and Clarence Ebbig.

Frank Westerges.

Frank Westerges was born on the 5th day of August, 1866, in St. John, Maria Stein post office, Mercer county. He is the oldest son of Gerhard and Mary Westerges, née Leistenbinder. In his youth he assisted his father on the farm in the summer season, attending school in the winter, thereby gaining the reement of an education that he has taken advantage of in later years, and has materially aided him in establishing the prosperous business in which he is now engaged. At the early age of twenty-two he was accorded an honor he few men have thrust upon them, when the voters of his township elected him justice of the peace. He did not disappoint the confidence placed in his ability and served his constituents faithfully for three years. He was then elected to the office of township clerk, which office he filled for four years; he is also postmaster at Maria Stein, which he holds under a Republican administration, being a Democrat politically. In his religious views he is a member of the Catholic church. He was united in marriage to Rosalia Goecke, a daughter of John and Mary Goecke, née Ashman.

EDWARD A. DIBLE.

Edward A. Dibble, a prominent farmer of Mercer county, Ohio, son of an ex-soldier of the civil war, was born in Essex county, New York, December 1, 1831. He is the eldest son of Lyman and Eliza Jane (Smart) Dibble, the former of whom was born in the state of New York March 2, 1804.

Eliza Jane Smart, mother of the subject, was born in Vermont February 7, 1813, and was married to Lyman Dibble February 17, 1831, and to this marriage there were born four children as follows: Edward A., Charles F., Fred. L. and Eliza J., deceased. Lyman Dibble died in December 18, 1860, at Tuscawaras county, Ohio, at the age of sixty-five years. Upon this farm his widow resided until her death which occurred August 6, 1896, aged eighty-five years.

Edward A. Dibble was a zealous member of the Methodist Episcopal church, and was a leader in the church work of the Tuscawaras county. To him it was a golden rule that he should be active in the work of the church. He had a rich manor and interests and was active in the county affairs.

Edward A. Dibble grew to manhood on his father's farm, a part of which is now occupied by his son. He was educated in the county schools of the neighborhood in which he lived, and November 10, 1854, married Miss Mary Rump, eldest daughter of George J. and Catherine Kemp, his native of Germany and of France. To this marriage he has been born ten children, as follows: Alton, Annie M., Susan Jane (deceased), Levi (deceased), George Stephen, Ida Bell, William Henry, an infant that died unnamed, Le Roy S. and Catherine (deceased).

With his family he removed to Champaign county, Ohio, about 1837, and there resided about seven years. While living in that county he purchased eighty acres of land in Center township, Mercer county, of his brother Luman, this purchase being part of the tract originally entered by the old family.

To this new farm he removed in 1844, and subsequently purchased forty acres adjoining the same upon which he resided until his death, which occurred November 10, 1854, aged sixty-five years. Upon this farm his widow resided until her death which occurred August 6, 1896, aged eighty-five years.

On the farm he lived in the center of the school district, and he was always a leader in the school work of the district.

When the American civil war broke out he enlisted in the service of his country in Company F, Fifty-sixth Ohio Volunteer Infantry, October 8, 1862. While serving in that capacity he participated in the following battles: Port Gibson, Champion Hill and siege of Vicksburg, passing through the siege of Corinth, Mississippi and Vicksburg, Mississippi. As a consequence of his sufferings he is a pensioner on the bounty of the government to the amount of eight dollars per month. Mr. Dibble is a member of the Metho-

CHARLES W. HALPHILL.

Thorough the persistent and tireless efforts of Charles W. Halphill, the Mercer County Agricultural Society has attained a sound footing financially and the annual Mercer County fair has reached that pinnacle of success, when it is looked upon and known as the "fairer fair of Ohio." Suffice it to say that since Mr. Halphill has had charge of the fair, as secretary, this growth has been rapid and even surpassed the expectations of the most sanguine. The highest compliment that can be paid Mr. Halphill has introduced many special features which were in part copied by the entire Northwest Ohio Fair Circuit, which he was one of the principal organizers.

Charles W. Halphill was born on the old Halphill homestead of the town of Washington, Mercer county, Ohio, December 12, 1853. He is a son of Moses and Maria Halphill, who were among the early residents of this county. Educated in the public schools Mr. Halphill was called upon at the early age of twelve years to the management of the farm. It was the desire of his father that his son should succeed in business, but his success is attested by the fact that the Halphill farm is looked upon as a model. In 1874 he began teaching and for one following winters was equally successful in the educational fields as in farming. In 1891 he became identified with the Agricultural society and has served it ever since in the capacity of secretary; he has been re-elected every year since 1891. In February, 1893, he was one of the principal organizers of the Northwestern Ohio Fair Circuit, and has been its secretary and treasurer ever since the organization.

He is a Republic in politics and has occupied a high place in the council of the party. Mr. Halphill is a member of Shanes Lodge, No. 293, Knights of Pythias, and has held a number of responsible positions in this organization. He is at present engaged in the grain business at Mercer and has been deservedly successful.

G. J. C. WINTERMUTE.

G. J. C. Wintermute, the subject of this sketch, is one of the leading physicians of Celina and senior member of the firm of Wintermute & Hattery. He was born in Licking county, Ohio, April 22, 1841; and is a son of Arson and Virinda Wintermute a/o Wayn. He spent his early days on his father's farm, attending school as opportunity and spare time would permit until 1860, when he entered Ohio Wesleyan University, remaining two years. During his attendance here he taught school three terms and thereby earned the money to defray his expenses. It was while at this college that the Doctor together with a number of companions enlisted in the army, on May 25, 1862, joining Company C, Eighty-sixth Ohio Volunteer Infantry. He was mustered in at Camp Chase on June 3, and served until honorably discharged September 28, 1865. During the winter of 1862 he taught school. In April of 1863 he was appointed to a position in the commissary department, being commissary of the railroads with headquarters at Nashville, until October, 1865. He spent the winter of 1865-66 at his home in Ohio in the following spring moved to Howard county, Missouri, where he purchased a farm and took up the occupation of farming, which he successfully carried on until the fall 1868, when he purchased a mercantile business in a mining town near his farm, in partnership with a capitalist and physician. Dr. Wintermute took charge of the business as manager and for two years successfully conducted it. During the spare time in the store the Doctor became interested in the study of medicine, reading his partner's books to profitably put in the time. He then became deeply interested in the subject and determined to prepare himself for the medical profession, studying with his partner for three years. He took his first course of lectures in the winter of 1871 at the Missouri Medical College at St. Louis and in 1873 attended the Cincinnati college of medicine and Surgery, from which he graduated at the same year. He then returned to Howard county to dispose of his business interest and after remaining there a year, practicing as opportunity afforded, sold his farm and business and returned to Ohio. He located at Lewis Center, Delaware county, in the fall of 1876 and practiced there until 1880. He moved to London, Madison county, Ohio, but remained there but a short time, locating at Celina, November 10, 1880. Here he soon became recognized for his social and professional qualities and now enjoys a large and lucrative practice.

Dr. Wintermute attended the Post Graduate school and hospital at New York in 1892. He belongs to the following fraternal organizations: Masonic, and is a Knight Templar, being a member of the Mount Vernon Commandery, No. 1; also 32nd Scottish Rite of Columbus, Ohio; and Knights of Pythias. JOHN POWELL.

John Powell, owner of the Wabash Valley Stock Farm. A man to whom can be attributed in a great measure the success and prominence attained by the Wabash Valley Stock Farm, is John Powell, owner of the Wabash Valley Stock Farm. He was born January 24, 1836, in Butler county, Ohio. Until sixteen years of age he attended the common schools of that county. When at the age of nineteen he moved to a farm in Washington township, Mercer county, which is now, in part, the property of his son, John A. Powell. In early 1861, he went to Shelby county, Illinois, where he remained for seven years, working as a farm hand. He then came back to Mercer county and located on the homestead. On January 9, 1868, he was united in marriage to Fannie Jenkings. On March 29, 1870, a daughter was born, whom they named Eliza. Her death followed within the month.

Scarcely had the bearded husband recovered from the shock of his daughter's death than a deeper and sadder bereavement befell him in the death of his faithful wife, who passed away April 14, 1871. On September 20, 1872, he was married to Maggie Wilke. To them a daughter, Barbara, was born September 15, 1873. On October 3, 1873, Mrs. Powell died. Before the month had passed infant Barbara followed her mother to her last resting place, passing away on October 20. Mr. Powell was again united in marriage on the 8th day of August, 1873, to Amelia Kutsch. The following children were born of this union: Catherine, June 11, 1876; Maggie E., November 29, 1877, she died in infancy; Pearl M., June 19, 1880; Benjamin F., January 11, 1883; Steven G. C., August 27, 1883; Alma Lona V., May 27, 1889. November the 36 witnessed the nuptials of Catherin, the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Powell, to John L. Moschelker. During these years Mr. Powell devoted his time to farming, being very successful. He is at present the owner of a hundred and ninety-one acres, in Washington and Liberty townships, and which is nearly all rich bottom land, especially adapted to the raising of all kinds of grain, fruit and stock. All the roads leading to this farm are well improved pikes. During Mr. Powell's pioneer days the people of this vicinity depended largely on venison for their meat supply. On many occasions Mr. Powell returned from his hunting expeditions with one deer across the horse's back and another attached to the horse's tail, the horse apparently as proud as his owner of their success. Mr. Powell has become famous for his fine breeding of horses, having the English sires. Among his cattle can be found thoroughbred Poli Durham, and short hores. Of sheep thoroughbred Shropshire and Auster Down are prize winners, exhibited with much success by Mr. Powell. His stock farm is one of the most complete in the county, as nothing but the finest breeds are kept, and he takes a paragonable pride in showing the visitor his fine stock. Mr. Powell has always affiliated with the Democratic party.

JOSEPH NUDING, FAMILY AND RESIDENCE, HOPEWELL TOWNSHIP.
PERRY KNOX.

Washington township can boast of a number of strong and well-to-do citizens who have lived well in the contest for this world's goods. One of its leaders and foremost residents is Perry C. Knox. He was born on a farm, near Wabash, Washington township, Mercer county, January 19, 1831. He attended school at district number two in his home township in the summer time, and helped his father and brothers on the farm in the winter season. When seventeen years of age, he launched out for himself. He bought and cut timber for the Standard Oil Company and other large concerns until February 16, 1882, which date was the occasion of his marriage to Miss Plebe Cordelia Runyon, daughter of Rev. J. B. and Tothibia Catherine Runyon v/c Anderson. On the eleventh of November, 1882, their hearts were saddened by the appearance of a baby boy, whom they named Dallas Lucero. In 1887 the dread disease of measles swept over that portion of the county and visited the Knox household. Their only son fell a victim to the terrible disease, dying at the age of five years, three months and nineteen days. Mr. Knox was elected to the office of constable, discharging the duties of that office in an acceptable and praiseworthy manner for five years. He was also chosen director of the Mercer County Agricultural Society, filling this position of trust and honor with credit, not only to himself but to his township which he represents. He is now serving as justice of the peace, to which office he was elected in 1896. He has filled this official position in an acceptable manner, discharging the duties and meeting out justice with a strong and unflinched hand. In the summer season he follows farming and butchering.

Mrs. Perry Knox is one of Washington townships noblest women. Bright, vivacious, combining all the many grace and charm of manner, she has won for herself an enviable position in the social circles in which she moves. When not devoted to the discharge of her household duties, she, together with Miss Maggie Smoyer, the youngest daughter of John Smoyer, live at the home of Mrs. Knox a dressmaking establishment, where the ladies of Wabash and vicinity are elegantly gowned, in the latest and most stylish creations of the prevailing fashions.

His parents were John G. and Rosa Summers v/c Lohbushner. Mr. Summers received a good German education. When sixteen years of age he came to America and immediately after his arrival here learned the tailor trade at Wauseon, Fulton county, Ohio. So proficient had he become in his trade that his employer would not hear of his leaving and he remained with the one man for seven years. Mr. Summers finally moved to Delphos, Ohio, where he worked for Joseph Joertingbalt for four years. On the 14th day of February, 1894, he moved to Ft. Recovery and embarked in business for himself. On February 1, 1895, he was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Miss Harrietta Anna Mowbray, whose parents were Joseph F. and Lucy Mowbray v/c Roller. HERMAN HARTER.

There lives at Cassella an aged man who has had a wonderful experience in his seventy-five years of life. To-day he is known to every man, woman and child in that section of the county and his little home presents the scene of an aged toiler eking out a living making baskets, at which he has become very proficient. Whenever sickness visits his neighbors, Mr. Harter can be found at the bedside, in a patient and vigilant name. He was born February 25, 1825, at Allenbach, Baden, Germany. He attended the schools in his native country, receiving a fair education, until he was fourteen years of age, when he served as an apprentice in a rope factory. At the end of three years' service he was given charge of the hemp roll. This machine revolved over the bed of hemp to make it finer, and was constructed of a large stone, weighing nearly two thousand pounds, attached to a large shaft. While turning the hemp Mr. Harter's clothes were caught by the shaft and he was thrown under the roll, which passed over him three times. The last time he was pressed against the border of the bed which stopped the machinery, driven by a forty-horse power water wheel. When Mr. Harter was rescued from his perilous position and medical aid summoned he was found to be literally crushed into a pulp. Miserable as it may seem he recovered from his injuries, which were broken limbs, arm and rib. He returned to the factory and finished his apprenticeship. In 1844 he came to America and located at Cassella, where he now resides. He assisted in farming and learned to make baskets, which trade he now successfully follows.
