Introduction

—AND—

DESCRIPTION OF SYSTEM OF SURVEY.

In this work will be found several new features which will render the Atlas more valuable, in addition to those features which make it more attractive than similar works heretofore published.

An Atlas should indicate clearly and at a glance, the correct location of a piece of land in Quarter Section, Section, Town and Range. In this work each Section is plainly numbered, and its quarter lines shown by dotted lines, and its boundary lines by heavier dotted lines; each Section is also enclosed by heavy color lines. On the margin of the map are given the numbers of the Town and Range.

Where a Civil Township is crossed by a Range or Town line, that line is indicated by a heavier color stripe than Section lines, so that the boundaries of the different Congressional Towns may be apparent at a glance. Several of the Civil Townships of Richland County lie partly in one Town and Range, and partly in another.

Upon the township maps the highways are represented by full black lines which show them as they are, the prominent landmarks. Woodland and hills are represented by conventional shading, giving an idea of lay of the land and character of farms.

In the corporation and village plats the minute figures show dimensions of lots, width of streets, etc. The additions are separately colored, and the name of the dicator given.

The scale of the township maps is 32 chains to the inch, except for the maps of Madison, Sharon, Plymouth, Jackson, Cass, which are given on the scale of 30 chains to the inch.

The U. S. Rectangular Survey.

The lands of Richland County are divided according to the United States Rectangular Survey, first used in the Northwest Territory. This plan, arranged by James Mansfield, surveyor general of the Northwest Territory, and adopted by Congress in 1802, may be briefly described as follows:

First, a north and south line is run through the tract determined upon to be surveyed. This line begins at some prominent or easily distinguished point, and is designated as a "Principal Meridian." Then a line running east and west, at right angles with the first line, is run through the tract, called the "Base Line."

The First Principal Meridian west of Washington is the west boundary of Ohio, which was run north from the mouth of the Great Miami river. It is 80° 51' longitude west from Greenwich.

Lines are run north and south parallel to the Principal Meridian, and six miles apart, which divide the territory into long north and south strips, called Ranges, which are numbered in their order, 1, 2, etc., East of the Meridian, also the same West of it. Across these are run lines six miles apart, parallel to the Base Line, cutting the Territory into long east and west strips called Towns, and these are numbered North and South from the Base Line.

By this "cross lining" the territory is divided into squares, six miles on a side. Each of these squares is a Congressional Town. Such "Towns" sometimes, but often do not, correspond to the Civil Townships, which are known by popular names. The only designation of Congressional Towns is their Range and Town numbers.

The Ranges in Richland County, however, are numbered West from the East boundary line of the State, running from the river to the lake.

In practice, the surveyors did not run the Range and Town lines their whole length continuously. The magnetic needle has a variation from north, which constantly changes. Running a line through primeval forests is beset with difficulties. No measurements of such great length can be made exactly. Hence the surveyors began on the Base Line six miles east of the intersection with the Principal Meridian, ran a Range line six miles north, and then a "random line" west to the Principal Meridian to check their work. Then they ran back to their Range line, marking Section and Quarter Section corners as they went, and so proceeded to lay out the next Town north, etc.

But as they ran north on account of the fact that all lines northward continually approach, every township was slightly narrower at the north than the south side. To prevent this error growing, a fresh start was taken, with distances of full six miles east and west, at certain Town lines, which were then called "correction lines."

After the tract is surveyed into Towns six miles square, the Towns are divided into thirty-six tracts, called "Sections," each containing one square mile, or 640 acres, more or less.

The Sections are run off very much as were the Towns, using each Town's east range line and south town line as bases. Commencing one mile west of the southeast corner of the Town, the surveyor runs north a mile, then east a mile to the east range line, and corrects back to the northwest corner of the section. He sets a quarter post (or half mile post) on the west line of the section, at forty chains north of the starting point, and sets the quarter post on the north line of each section, half way between the northwest and northeast section corners. The surveyor proceeds to run off the remaining sections on the east tier, up to the north line of the Town, placing the last section corner where his north-and-south line intersects that north Town Line, whether this point is east or west of the section corner previously established in the Town survey. The distance between the two corners, if any, is called the "jog," and is recorded.

The government sub-divisions of the section (although they are not actually surveyed by the government surveyor) by which the lands are sold, are "quarter" sections or 160 acres, "half-quarter" sections or 80 acres, and "quarter-quarter" sections or 40 acres. The section is divided into quarters by running a straight line north and south, and one east and west between the quarter posts on the sides of the section. The quarter sections are "halved" by running a straight line north and south or east and west (whichever way it is wished to divide it) from points midway by measurement of opposite sides. The quarter sections are quartered by running lines north and south and east and west between points at the center of each side of the quarter section. Other smaller subdivisions can be made on the same principle.

It will be seen from this that if a section is perfectly square and contains the exact number of acres, that this method would subdivide it into tracts of equal areas but it hardly ever occurs that a section is exactly square or contains the exact number of acres. Consequently it almost always occurs that the sub-divisions will differ more or less in quantity. Yet the government has established this as the only method by which the sub-divisions shall be made, and making the eight corners established on the exterior lines of each section "the corners," however incorrect they may be.

The sub-divisions of the section in the preceding diagram, as it is divided into the "Government descriptions," are each described in brief on the diagram.

On account of the errors which are unavoidable, no township will divide into thirty-six exact sections. The apparent excess or deficiency of land in the township is all run by the surveyor into the extreme north and west tiers of sections, which are called "exterior" or fractional sections. In these tiers of sections the excess or deficiency will be found in the half sections next the town and range lines. The other or interior sections are intended to be full 640 acres, but they generally exceed or fall short of that to some extent. To cover these variations the government sells all its lands on the condition that each one of the section sub-divisions contains so many acres, "be the same more or less." This rule continues, so that a conveyance of the "southeast quarter of section so-and-so, containing 160 acres," covers all the land in that division, even if it should be 170 acres.

Land may be conveyed by metes and bounds, as well as by section sub-divisions, but many errors are made by conveyancers mixing the two methods of description, and assuming that the government sub-divisions measure out exactly.

SQUARE.

272½ Square Feet	1 Square Rod.
160 Square Rods	43,560 Square Feet
640 Acres	1 Square Mile
1 Square Acre is	12,960 Rods Square.

1 Square Acre is 208 Feet, 8½ Inches Square.

1 Square Acre is 208 Feet, 8½ Inches Square.

FARM INDEX.

AN ALPHABETICALLY ARRANGED INDEX OF FARM OWNERS, AS SHOWN BY THE COUNTY RECORDS, INDICATING AT A GLANCE THE NAMES OF FARM OWNERS, WITH THE SECTION AND CIVIL TOWNSHIP IN WHICH THE FARM MAY BE FOUND UPON THE PLATS OF THE ATLAS.

EXPLANATION.—The name of Farm Owner, Section in which farm is found, and Civil Township, are given in succession. Where there are two sections of the same number in a civil township, Town and Range are given.
