Halloween Approaching

Halloween or Hallowe’en (a contraction of “All Hallows’ evening”), also known as Allhalloween, All Hallows’ Eve, or All Saints’ Eve, is a celebration observed in many countries on October 31, the eve of the Western Christian feast of All Hallows’ Day, or All Saints Day. Halloween activities include trick-or-treating, attending Halloween costume parties, carving pumpkins into jack-o-lanterns, lighting bonfires, playing pranks, visiting haunted attractions, or telling scary stories. For many in our village (especially the little goblins) this annual holiday has become one of great anticipation.

A Warning About Bicycles!

A recent article in the New York Times claims that “wheelwomen” will grow tragically, irreversibly masculine, and that, for men and women alike, there is not the slightest doubt that bicycle riding leads to weakness of mind, general lunacy, and homicidal mania.

The Imperialist’s Logic

Mr. Imperialist: “I was totally in favor of the annexation of both Hawaii and the Philippines.”

Mr. Anti-Imperialist: “But sir, what need did we have for the annexation of the Philippines in the distant western Pacific?”

Mr. Imperialist: “We need those islands as a naval and military outpost to guard Hawaii.”

Mr. Anti-Imperialist: “But why did we need Hawaii?”

Mr. Imperialist: “We need Hawaii as a stopping off point and refueling base on our way to the Philippines.”

Parent/Teacher Organization Spreading
Ohio Village Chapter to be Formed

On February, 17, 1897, over 2,000 people—mostly mothers, but also fathers, teachers, laborers and legislators—attended the first convocation of the National Congress of Mothers in Washington, D.C.

Alice McLellan Birney and Phoebe Apperson Hearst founded the organization when women do not have the right to vote and social activism is not popular. However, they believed mothers would support their mission to eliminate threats that endangered children, and in early 1897, they started a nationwide campaign. Numerous new chapters have now been started throughout the nation involving both men and women who are passionate about the education of our young people. There is now a movement here in the Ohio Village to start our own chapter. Anyone interested is encouraged to contact Mrs. Lydia Gray or Mrs. Madeline Laliberte.

St. Johns—The Detroit & Lima Northern Railroad Co. has begun pushing work on its branch from St. John, where the Columbus division connects the Ohio Southern to Wapakoneta, and thence on to St. Mary’s. One hundred teams and 300 men were put to work.

Cincinnati—The old name of a wealthy Iowa lawyer are puzzling the police and detectives of this city. Miss Ethel Johnson, daughter of Ex-County Treasurer Johnson, resides with her mother in a fashionable part of the city. A year ago she went to Iowa, where she met the wealthy lawyer in question. The Iowan proposed marriage, but was rejected. Miss Johnson returned home in due time. Since then she has been subjected to all kinds of petty annoyances. The western lawyer came to Cincinnati, wrote anonymous letters to the lady and disguised as a woman followed her on the street. Friday evening, while Miss Johnson was alone in her house, the lawyer, disguised as a female book agent, attempted to assassinate her. Her screams brought assistance, but the man escaped. The whole city is worked up over the affair. Sunday night the Johnson family offered $500 reward for the man’s capture.

Marion—The breaking into two of a westbound freight trains on the Big Four Road Monday morning caused the blockade of both the Big Four and Erie tracks at the eastern in of the city. Twenty-two cars were badly wrecked and four tramps were buried in the debris. One of them, James Flynn, having recently worked in Columbus, will die.

Crazy Quilting Mania

Thomas W. Keene, the tragedian, recently emerged from the stage entrance of the Opera House in a one-night stand, when he was attacked by four fair young ladies, who took him by surprise. The boldest one of the quartette who was not very bold stopped Mr. Keene with the exclamation, “Oh, excuse me, is this Mr. Keene?” The tragedian turned and smiled gracefully, said in his jovial way, “Yes Miss, this is Mr. Keene.” “Stop, Nellie don’t snicker. Don’t you know how to act like a lady? Will you please give me your necktie for a crazy quilt, as we are collecting all the articles we can from actors for that purpose?” If Mr. Keene had been attacked by foot-pads, who asked him to hold up his hands and surrender his watch, diamonds and money, he would not have been more surprised. He began to feel around his neck. He could not find a necktie there. Somewhat embarrassed, he replied, “I am sorry, miss, but I left my necktie at the hotel. I will send you the best one I have by the first mail.” The spokeswomen and her companions snickered some more, thanked Mr. Keene kindly for his necktie and disappeared, while he entered his carriage and was driven to his hotel. Mr. Keene will appear around the country in his wonderful impersonation of Richard III.
